73,000 Reported For 5 Days

Annual County Fair Ends With Record Attendance

LISBON — Columbiana County's 122nd annual fair ended Sunday night with an attendance record of 73,000 for the five days, directors said this morning.

They said crowds held up well despite rain Saturday and Sunday. Their estimates were 18,000 Saturday, when Tex Ritter and his band played to a full grandstand, and 10,000 Sunday for the band concert and horse show. Wednesday there were 18 000, Thursday 12,000 and Friday 15,000.

The experimental "Fair Special" Friday and Saturday from the East Liverpool bus terminal proved a disappointment. Only five rode the chartered coach Friday and seven Saturday. Directors paid $6 per hour for the service.

Beaver Local, Columbiana and West Branch High School bands played during the concert Sunday afternoon. Leetonia and Southern Local canceled because of the weather.

Center Township trustees scraped mud off the track in front of the grandstand and hauled in sawdust to give dry footing to the two twirling units —the Di-Cadettes of Lisbon and the Lisbon Volunteer Fire Department Twirlettes.

Miss Polly Lease of Salem, Miss Columbiana County of 1967, was a feature of the afternoon program. Lisbon Humorettes presented a variety show.

Directors said there was a large crowd for the horse show last night. Results follow by classes:

Ladies Western — Nancy Allison, Alliance RD; Anita Wuthrick, Alliance RD; Laurie McGill, Columbiana.

Nazi Yells 'You Filthy Assassin'

Brief Confusion Marks Rockwell Killer's Hearing

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) — Screaming "you filthy assassin", an American Nazi party member today caused brief pandemonium at the opening of a hearing for the alleged slayer of Party Commander George Lincoln Rockwell.

A trim, blond crew-cut youth leaped from a bench in the crowded courtroom as officers were escorting John C. Patler to the front of the room for his preliminary hearing.

No sooner had he shouted "Patler, you filthy swine!" than a half- dozen policemen swarmed over him, handcuffed him and carried him by the hands and feet from the courtroom.

Patler was hurried back to the lockup behind the courtroom in Arlington County Courthouse as the man was hauled away.

As police carried the demonstrator out, he shouted "Long live the American Nazi party Long live Mat Koehl!" Koehl is Rockwell's apparent successor as head of the small but vocal party headquartered in this Washington suburb.

Arlington County Judge L. Jackson Embrey ordered the courtroom cleared of all except official personnel and newsmen after the outburst. Six party members, wearing swastika lapel buttons as their only identification, had sat quietly throughout the interruption, but they were not permitted to return to the proceedings.

The demonstrator never got to Patler, as three reporters sat between him and the aisle where Patler, dressed in a dark suit and a black necktie, was being escorted to the bar.

Earlier, a veterans' group protested against plans of the American Nazi party to bury Rockwell in a national cemetery with full military honors.

Party members were awaiting a Defense Department decision on whether Rockwell, leader of the anti-Negro and anti-Jewish stormtrooper organization, can be buried Tuesday at the Culpepper, Va., National Cemetery, 65 miles southwest of Washington.

U.N. Action On Viet War Being Eyed

Step Appears To Be Gaining LBJ's Tacit Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new effort by some senators to bring the United Nations into action on the Vietnam war appears to be generating with President Johnson's tacit approval.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield's statement that the administration is interested in seeing U.N. action on a long-dormant U.S. resolution for reconvening of the Geneva conference sparked new inspection of this possible avenue toward peace negotiations.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., a senior GOP member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in an interview urged Johnson to ask the U.N. Security Council to try to get the South Vietnamese government to open negotiations after its election Sept. 3.

William P. Bundy, undersecretary of state for East Asian and Pacific affairs said Sunday, however, the United States probably would stay entirely out of peace talks if the new Saigon government found a way to negotiate with the Viet Cong and requested U.S. absence.

Bundy also said the United States would "take very seriously" any request by an elected South Vietnamese government that bombing policy be altered.

A House subcommittee sharply criticizing U.S. aid programs in South Vietnam said Sunday night that failure to make substantial reforms "could lead to a reassessment of the U.S. position."

The report from the Foreign Operations and Government Information subcommittee said U.S. officials "are as much at fault" as the South Vietnamese government, but declared that unless the South Vietnamese take action "the prospects of success are minimal, and the advisability of U.S. involvement is questionable."

Mansfield said in an interview Saturday he believes Johnson will act to put the issue before the Security Council. He had met with Johnson earlier last week.

Ohio Traffic Fatal To 29 Over Weekend

By The Associated Press

It was a grim weekend on Ohio highways and streets as 29 persons were killed in traffic accidents for one of the year's highest tolls for a nonholiday period.

Highway safety officials hoped it was not a preview of what might happen this coming weekend, the four-day Labor Day holiday.

The safety experts, however, have predicted that 44 persons will die in traffic accidents in Ohio over Labor Day.

This past weekend included five double fatality crashes, two of them in the Dayton area.

Lake Erie Hunt Pushed For 14 Ohio Sky Divers

2 Jumpers' Bodies Are Recovered

Chances Seen Slim For Missing Divers In Off-Target Leap

HURON, Ohio (AP) — Searchers worked through rain, blustery winds and choppy waters today in an intensified hunt for 14 sky divers missing in Lake Erie.

Of the 18 veteran sky divers who made Sunday's ill-fated jump from a converted World War II bomber, only two were known to have survived.

Two bodies recovered within half an hour of the off-target jump were being kept in a temporary morgue across the street from city hall. Officials, meanwhile, tried to identify the owners of seven gloves, three chutes and four reserve chutes, the only items recovered from the lake.

Two other sky divers missed the jump by staying on the plane for a second pass at higher altitude.

Helicopters, planes and an armada of Coast Guard and military and private boats that included the 110-foot ocean-going tug Kaw combed a 100-square mile area of the lake today.

County Parachutist Had Planned To Jump

Sunday's rainy weather canceled plans by a Lisbon area resident and several fellow members from the Alliance Sky Diving Club to take part in Sunday's ill - fated parachute jump in the Lake Erie area.

Vic Mattevi of Lisbon RD 4 called off the trip because of yesterday's cloudy skies and rain.

SKY DIVERS, the only two known survivors of Sunday's ill-fated jump into Lake Erie, Bernard Johnson, 30, of West Richfield, O., and Bob Coy (right), 29, of Springfield, are shown talking with newsmen about the jump. Eighteen sky divers leaped from an aircraft when a brisk wind carried them out over Lake Erie. Fourteen are missing. Two did not make the jump. (UPI Telephoto)

Plane Ditches In Atlantic; All 14 Safe

SCITUATE, Mass. (AP) — Some swam, others clung to the wing until boats arrived, but within minutes all 14 persons aboard a commercial airliner which ditched Sunday night in the Atlantic stood wet but safe on shore.

The two-engine Lockheed Electra owned by Provincetown-Boston Airlines Enc., was en route from Provincetown, at the tip of Cape Cod, to Boston, 40 miles away, when trouble developed in the right engine.

Pilot Elwood Hallowell, 39, of Naples, Fla., said he ditched the plane after repeated attempts to prevent it from losing altitude. It came down in about 20 feet of calm water 200 yards off a beach 20 miles south of Boston.

"The pilot really did a hell of a job," said eyewitness Curtis Schermerhorn, 46, a summer resident of Humarock Beach and police chief in Port Dickinson, N.Y.

The plane stayed afloat for eight minutes, giving summer residents with small boats enough time to pluck five nonswimming passengers from the left wing before it sank.

Five others were picked up in the water as they swam toward shore and four others got to the beach without help.

Ohio Taxes Boosted For First Time In 8 Years

Assembly OKs Tax-Education Bill And Then Closes Shop Till Jan. 15

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The 107th Ohio General Assembly, which ground to a halt early Sunday after an exhaustive week of 80 hours or more, tackled space age problems and made historic new approaches to education, highway safety, crime, and other matters.

But it won't be cheap.

The lawmakers raised taxes for the first time in eight years and made it possible for counties—and in some cases cities—to levy others so that the bill for the many and varied programs will go where it always does—to the taxpayer.

Some increases—including the jump from 3 per cent to 4 per cent in the state sales tax—will go into effect Friday.

Weary legislators headed home shortly after daybreak Sunday after a grueling finishing session of almost 24 hours. They called it quits until next Jan. 15 when they will return for a cleanup session expected to last about two weeks.

Leaders set skeleton sessions for this Thursday and Sept. 8 for the signing of bills and other business that doesn't require the full membership to be present.

GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes hailed the Republican - dominated legislature Sunday and particularly the leadership for a last-minute maneuver that thwarted a Democratic attempt to gain concessions for their support of the administration's tax hike-education bill.

Democrats refused to support the emergency clause on the million school financing measure and it appeared teacher pay increases averaging about $800 a year and new and expanded school programs would have to wait until December. Non-emergency legislation takes effect after 90 days.

But after hasty conferences with State Finance Director Richard Krabach and other officials, a second conference committee on the bill came up with an answer.

Under their plan, school districts which go ahead and start programs provided for in the school foundation revision and meet new state salary schedules will be reimbursed their additional expenditures in lump sums the first of December.

House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess R-4 Wood said districts unable to bear the extra financial burden could borrow funds in anticipation of the December reimbursement.

"This is our only alternative and they will have to pay interest, but in view of the refusal of the House to support the emergency clause it is the best we can do."

The big tax-school bill—carrying additional appropriations of $226 million for secondary and elementary schools and $74.9 million for higher education—was among a series of major programs hammered out by conference committees in the early morning hours.

Other conferees came up with bills to increase workmen's compensation payments by about 14.7 per cent, unemployment compensation about 10 per cent, permit counties to levy permissive taxes to solve more problems at the local level, a November ballot proposal to redistrict the legislature, and to let the state use bank and other financial institution deposits unclaimed after 10 years as seed money for industrial development. Another tax bill passed at the last minute gives a tax break to farmers and merchants.

But it was the big tax bill

12 Helicopters Destroyed Or Damaged

Reds Kill 10 Marines, Wound 106

SAIGON (AP) — The Communists kept up their intensified mortar and rocket attacks for the second day today, killing 10 U.S. Marines, wounding 106 and destroying or damaging 12 helicopters.

The barrages against two Leatherneck bases in the northern part of South Vietnam followed a series of 12 mortar shellings up and down the country Sunday which killed or wounded more than 300 persons, most of them civilians.

U.S. officials considered the attacks another Communist effort to scare the South Vietnamese from voting in the presidential election next Sunday. It had been months since the Communists made a cordinated effort like they did Sunday.

In the air war against North Vietnam, the U.S. Command announced that last week matched the worst previous week for warplane losses, with 15 down over the North. Two planes—an Air Force F4 Phantom and an F100 Supersabre—went down Saturday and only one of the four crewmen aboard was rescued. A total of 22 fliers was reported missing during the week.

A delayed report from the command said U.S. B52 bombers killed 11 South Vietnamese policemen last Monday in the southern half of the demilitarized zone (DMZ) between North and South Vietnam. The command said the target area had been approved in advance by the South Vietnamese province chief and that all bombs hit in the approved area.

Communist gunners struck today at a Marine helicopter airstrip near Da Nang and at the Leatherneck base at Dong Ha, seven miles south of the DMZ. Four Marines were killed, 80 were wounded, three helicopters were destroyed and nine were damaged at the airstrip, military spokesmen said. The attack at Dong Ha killed six Marines and wounded 26, AP Correspondent Robert D. Ohman reported from Da Nang. He said 110,000 gallons of fuel were destroyed.

Two Marine jet pilots later reported they destroyed seven of the 12 Communist firing positions around Dong Ha.

The most severe of Sunday's bombardments was at Can Tho, the biggest city south of Saigon. Officials said mortar shells killed 37 Vietnamese and wounded 203, and 51 of the casualties resulted from shells hitting a big hospital close to the U.S. military advisory compound. Four Americans were wounded.

Attacks on seven Vietnamese and American positions near Hoi An, 15 miles south of Da Nang, killed 15 civilians and wounded 34, a government spokesman said. He said 39 civilians were kidnaped.

The spokesman said 21 guerrillas were killed and five suspects detained.

One American in the medical advisory team at Hoi An was killed and four wounded. Seven American military advisors were wounded and Vietnamese troops suffered light casualties, the spokesman said.

Other shellings in the central highlands killed 14 civilians and damaged a number of helicopters on an airfield at Ban Me Thuot and caused "moderate casualties" at a South Vietnamese militia post near Pleiku.

Viet Cong terrorists overran three militia outposts and an in-

GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes hailed the Republican - dominated legislature Sunday and particularly the leadership for a last-minute maneuver that thwarted a Democratic attempt to gain concessions for their support of the administration's tax hike-education bill.

Democrats refused to support an emergency clause on the $ million school financing measure and it appeared teacher pay increases averaging about $800 a year and new and expanded school programs would have to wait until December. Non-emergency legislation takes effect after 90 days.

But after hasty conferences with State Finance Director Richard Krabach and other officials, a second conference committee on the bill came up with an answer.

Under their plan, school districts which go ahead and start programs provided for in the school foundation revision and meet new state salary schedules will be reimbursed their additional expenditures in lump sums the first of December.

House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess R-4 Wood said districts unable to bear the extra financial burden could borrow funds in anticipation of the December reimbursement.

"This is our only alternative and they will have to pay interest, but in view of the refusal of the House to support the emergency clause it is the best we can do."

The big tax-school bill—carrying additional appropriations of $226 million for secondary and elementary schools and $74.9 million for higher education—was among a series of major programs hammered out by conference committees in the early morning hours.

Other conferees came up with bills to increase workmen's compensation payments by about 14.7 per cent, unemployment compensation about 10 per cent, permit counties to levy permissive taxes to solve more problems at the local level, a November ballot proposal to redistrict the legislature, and to let the state use bank and other financial institution deposits unclaimed after 10 years as seed money for industrial development. Another tax bill passed at the last minute gives a tax break to farmers and merchants.

But it was the big tax bill

Plane Ditches In Atlantic; All 14 Safe

SCITUATE, Mass. (AP) — Some swam, others clung to the wing until boats arrived, but within minutes all 14 persons aboard a commercial airliner which ditched Sunday night in the Atlantic stood wet but safe on shore.

The two-engine Lockheed Electra owned by Provincetown-Boston Airlines Enc., was en route from Provincetown, at the tip of Cape Cod, to Boston, 40 miles away, when trouble developed in the right engine.

Pilot Elwood Hallowell, 39, of Naples, Fla., said he ditched the plane after repeated attempts to prevent it from losing altitude. It came down in about 20 feet of calm water 200 yards off a beach 20 miles south of Boston.

"The pilot really did a hell of a job," said eyewitness Curtis Schermerhorn, 46, a summer resident of Humarock Beach and police chief in Port Dickinson, N.Y.

The plane stayed afloat for eight minutes, giving summer residents with small boats enough time to pluck five nonswimming passengers from the left wing before it sank.

Five others were picked up in the water as they swam toward shore and four others got to the beach without help.

Reds Kill 10 Marines, Wound 106

SAIGON (AP) — The Communists kept up their intensified mortar and rocket attacks for the second day today, killing 10 U.S. Marines, wounding 106 and destroying or damaging 12 helicopters.

The barrages against two Leatherneck bases in the northern part of South Vietnam followed a series of 12 mortar shellings up and down the country Sunday which killed or wounded more than 300 persons, most of them civilians.

U.S. officials considered the attacks another Communist effort to scare the South Vietnamese from voting in the presidential election next Sunday. It had been months since the Communists made a cordinated effort like they did Sunday.

In the air war against North Vietnam, the U.S. Command announced that last week matched the worst previous week for warplane losses, with 15 down over the North. Two planes—an Air Force F4 Phantom and an F100 Supersabre—went down Saturday and only one of the four crewmen aboard was rescued. A total of 22 fliers was reported missing during the week.

A delayed report from the command said U.S. B52 bombers killed 11 South Vietnamese policemen last Monday in the southern half of the demilitarized zone (DMZ) between North and South Vietnam. The command said the target area had been approved in advance by the South Vietnamese province chief and that all bombs hit in the approved area.

Communist gunners struck today at a Marine helicopter airstrip near Da Nang and at the Leatherneck base at Dong Ha, seven miles south of the DMZ. Four Marines were killed, 80 were wounded, three helicopters were destroyed and nine were damaged at the airstrip, military spokesmen said. The attack at Dong Ha killed six Marines and wounded 26, AP Correspondent Robert D. Ohman reported from Da Nang. He said 110,000 gallons of fuel were destroyed.

Two Marine jet pilots later reported they destroyed seven of the 12 Communist firing positions around Dong Ha.

The most severe of Sunday's bombardments was at Can Tho, the biggest city south of Saigon. Officials said mortar shells killed 37 Vietnamese and wounded 203, and 51 of the casualties resulted from shells hitting a big hospital close to the U.S. military advisory compound. Four Americans were wounded.

Attacks on seven Vietnamese and American positions near Hoi An, 15 miles south of Da Nang, killed 15 civilians and wounded 34, a government spokesman said. He said 39 civilians were kidnaped.

The spokesman said 21 guerrillas were killed and five suspects detained.

One American in the medical advisory team at Hoi An was killed and four wounded. Seven American military advisors were wounded and Vietnamese troops suffered light casualties, the spokesman said.

Other shellings in the central highlands killed 14 civilians and damaged a number of helicopters on an airfield at Ban Me Thuot and caused "moderate casualties" at a South Vietnamese militia post near Pleiku.

Viet Cong terrorists overran three militia outposts and an in-that held up adjournment of the session which began Jan. 2. Democrats defended their position in opposing the measure repeatedly and objected in particular to what they called "a clever scheme to put the school program in the same package with a tax increase."

Minority Leader Frank R. Pokorny D-37 Cleveland criticized the move and objected also to refusal by Republicans "even to listen" to Democratic amendments he said "would have improved the bill."

Pokorny claimed the tax increase will yield about $450 million instead of the $300 million estimated by Republicans.

The permissive taxes bill also came under Democratic fire but Republicans insisted it will strengthen local governments and help them meet increasing demands for welfare, highways, and other programs.

Under the measure, counties could levy a $5 auto tag fee on top of the $10 state fee. If counties, by a vote of commissioners after two public hearings, fail to levy the tax by June 1968 then cities would be allowed to collect it.

The bill also permits counties to levy a one-half of 1 per cent sales tax on top of the new state sales tax which went from 3 to 4 per cent under the statewide tax increase.

Counties also could levy a 3 per cent tax on commercial and industrial utility bills with some exemptions and a 2 per cent tax on consumers' utility bills with the first $5 exempt. Water and sewer service bills are exempt.

Another provision of the bill requires counties to impose a one mill tax on real estate transfers to replace a similar 1.1 mill federal tax which goes out of existence at the end of this year. The new county tax would be based on sale price of the property.

If they choose, counties can add up to three more mills on the same tax. Conference committee amendments reduced the optional millage from four to three and provided that if the property is mortaged, the levy would be equity held by the seller instead of gross value.

Democrats went along generally with a bill designed to ease the property tax on farmers and retail merchants. It will phase farmers out of the tax except for certain equipment over a period of several years. The assessment rate for retailers inventories will be cut from 70 to 50 per cent to conform with that used for industrial and manufacturers.

Members from both parties supported the plan in the House and Senate but Senate Minority Leader Frank W. King D-11 Toledo spoke against it and asserted it still gives the party in power a chance to gerrymander districts to its own advantage.

Under the plan, the present 33-member Senate and 99-member House would be retained until after the 1970 federal census when a new State Apportionment Board—revised to assure minority party representation—would shape new districts retaining the 33 and 99 figures.

The Republican sponsor, Sen. Stanley J. Aronoff R-8 Cincinnati, insisted the resolution contains adequate guidelines to prevent gerrymandering and called the plan "one under which both parties could be assured the job will be done fairly."

The lawmakers utilized a two-year study to devise one of the most comprehensive highway safety programs in the nation. It provides for driver training as a prerequisite to obtain a license, bans use of radar warnings signs, and requires persons obtaining licenses to "imply" their consent for blood alcohol tests when suspected of drunk driving. Increased penalties for various traffic infringements are included under various other provisions.

Other major acts beefed up Ohio's program to clean up its rivers and streams and for the first time established a program to control the equally perplexing program of dirty air. Quality standards and programs to accomplish them are provided in both programs geared to deal firmly but reasonably with industry and other principal polluters.

Firefighters Get Weather Break

By The Associated Press

Firefighters in the Pacific Northwest got a break from the weather in the battle with forest fires that have plagued the region for more than two weeks.

But at least eight of the 10 largest fires continued to burn uncontrolled today. Cooler temperatures and favorable weather Sunday helped to keep some of them in check.

Widely-scattered rain, some cloudy cover and cooler temperatures Sunday helped the more than 9,000 men on the firelines in Idaho, Montana, British Columbia, Washington and Oregon.

Forest officials said the "Break in the weather" slowed the progress of the flames, giving crews a chance to strengthen fire lines.

Federal and state officials estimated the rash of fires—kindled in tinder dry, practically rainless forests in the last two weeks—had blackened nearly 120,000 acres of valuable timber, brush and rangeland.

fantry position on the main roads connecting Saigon and the delta city of My Tho, which produces large amounts of food. South Vietnamese losses were reported as 11 dead, 30 wounded and 30 weapons lost.

American air raiders stayed south of Hanoi Sunday because of poor weather farther north. Navy fliers attacked the Chau Cau army barracks 34 miles south of the Red capital and the Nam Dinh railroad yard 45 miles southwest of Haiphong.

Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs struck at a radar site near Dong Hoi and Air Force Phantom pilots reported destroying 11 military buildings and sinking two cargo barges at a coastal shipping point 12 miles northwest of Dong Hoi.

The U.S. Command made no mention of any plane losses Sunday. North Vietnam claimed two American planes were shot down.

Bad weather also curtailed Saturday's air raids, with only 97 missions flown — the first day in almost a month with fewer than 100 missions.

In South Vietnam's election campaign, Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu, the military candidate for president, said Sunday he is willing to talk peace "any place, any time" with the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front. Up to now, he has said he would talk with the Communists only as individuals and not as members of the NLF, the Viet Cong political organization.

Field Narrowed To 5 For Superintendent

The field of candidates for the position of Hancock County school superintendent has been narrowed to five after a meeting of the school board Friday night.

John Paul Jones, president, said 50 applied. The present superintendent, Robert Hall, will retire at the end of the 1967-68 term.

One of the five will be hired to work with Hall during the term and assume the duties at the close of the year.

Jones said the five will be interviewed by the board in the near future.

Youths Break Glass, Loot Jewelry Display

Wellsville police are searching for two youths who hurled a soft drink bottle through a plate glass window early today at Shingler's Jewelry Store, 433 Main St. and removed several items. Most of the loot later was recovered in an alley.

Chief John Hephner said a call was received about 5:30 a. m. reporting two boys were seen smashing the large display window.

Police found a small quantity of watches and identification bracelets missing, but later located a portion of the goods in an alley adjoining the shop. Others who found parts of the loot have been returning them to the firm, Hephner said.

Delicious sandwich spread: cheddar cheese (very soft or finely grated) mixed with mayonnaise, chopped pimiento-stuffed green olives and walnuts. If you are making a large quantity of this spread, and are using a cheddar cheese that isn't the very soft variety, you can put the cheese, olives and walnuts through the food chopper and then mix in the mayonnaise.

Science Shrinks Painful Hemorrhoids Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

Finds Way That Both Relieves Pain and Shrinks Piles In Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases—to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching and relieve pain.

In case after case doctors proved, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. The secret is Preparation H®. There is no other formula for hemorrhoids like it. Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

10 Motorists Pay Penalties In City Court

Ten motorists cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol and local police paid $185 in fines, costs and forfeits today in Municipal Court.

Four were penalized on speeding charges. Robert W. Haddox, 24, of 805 Broadway, Wellsville, paid $15 and costs after pleading guilty to a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was cited on Route 7 Thursday at 11:26 p.m. by the patrol. Raymond E. Musser, 42, of East Palestine, charged with speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone Wednesday at 9:55 p.m. on Route 7, also was fined $15 and costs.

Raymond Crubaugh of Oakwood Ave. was fined $15 and costs on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7. He was cited Sunday at 10:20 p.m. Claude L. Hunt Jr. of Youngstown forfeited a $22.50 bond on a charge of driving 60 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was cited Friday at 9:05 p.m. on Route 7.

Clifford L. Grabill of Grabill, Ind., forfeited $17.50 on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way when making a left turn. He was cited on Route 7 Sunday at 2:15 p.m. by the patrol. George Hubbard, 23, of 808 Washington Ave., Wellsville, paid the costs on a charge of driving an auto with an expired 10-day registration tag. He was cited Wednesday at 8:25 p.m. on Walnut St.

Mark M. Wolfe of 100 W. Main St., Salineville, forfeited $17.50 on a charge of crashing a stop sign at W. 7th and Jefferson Sts. He was cited Friday at 4 p. m. by Patrolmen James Woods and Orin Smith. John Morrell of 131½ W. 6th St. was fined $10 and costs on a charge of driving an auto with a defective muffler. He was cited Saturday at 7:40 p.m. on the Diamond.

Two men charged with driving the wrong way Saturday in a one-way section of Persimmon Alley each forfeited $17.50 appearance bonds. They were listed as Andrew Lamb of Struthers and Fred M. Ullman of 118 W. 2nd St.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff granted a continuance until Wednesday at 9 a. m. in a hearing for William K. Lafferty, 53, of Charles Town, W. Va., who was cited Friday at 3:04 a. m. on W. 6th St. by Patrolman Leonard Richard on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Lafferty originally was due for a hearing today. At arraignment, he asked a continuance to obtain counsel. He is free on a $500 bond.

Area Resident Wounded In Leg By Mystery Shot

A Franklin Township resident escaped serious injury Saturday afternoon when wounded by a mysterious shotgun blast.

Duane Simpson, 20, of Salineville RD 2 had three pellets graze him and two enter his right thigh Saturday at 5 p.m. as he stepped from his auto outside his home.

Constable Forrest Young drove Simpson to a nearby physician for treatment. Simpson told investigators he had reached back into his car for a package of cigarettes when he felt "heat" on his leg. He didn't realize he had been shot until he saw blood, he said.

Young theorized that the shots came from a distance because of the limited impact the pellets made on Simpson's leg. An investigation is continuing.

Senate Role On Foreign Policy Seen Degenerating

WASHINGTON (AP) — "The President wishes to tread on the necks of the Senate," an angry senator wrote during a dispute with the administration over foreign policy.

The President was George Washington, the senator was William Maclay of Pennsylvania. But the dispute over respective powers of the executive branch and Congress in foreign affairs continues to now.

The Senate currently is being asked to declare that it, or the full Congress, should have a voice in determining whether the United States should pledge itself to defend another given country.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, sponsoring a resolution to that effect, said there had been a "gradual erosion of the role of the Congress, and particularly of the Senate, in the determination of national security policy."

Fulbright and others list escalation of the Vietnam war, the sending of U.S. forces to the Dominican Republic and dispatch of three planes with troops to the Congo as among recent actions they say should not have been taken without prior approval of Congress.

Fulbright contends there are signs in Congress of "growing uneasiness over the extent of executive power" and a growing willingness to challenge the administration.

A similar viewpoint was reported Sunday by the National Committee for an Effective Congress, which said in a report: "Not since the Wilson administration has any president been so rebuffed in foreign affairs as has Lyndon Johnson."

The Senate, the committee said, "is moving to retrieve those blank checks in foreign policy which were issued in a period of presidential trust and confidence."

It cited the Fulbright resolution on U.S. commitments, sharp cuts in the administration foreign aid bill, refusal to give the President advance authority for the Latin American summit meeting in Uruguay, pending resolutions calling for cutbacks in U.S. forces in Europe and Senate criticism of administration action in the Congo.

The report continued: "What is developing is a clash between a rising Senate and the personality of Lyndon Johnson. And when a man collides with an institution, it is not often the institution which buckles."

The committee says Senate reaction will come not through a debate over Vietnam but through "machinery, customs and mystique of their own Byzantine institution."

The eight-month survey by the private, bipartisan group says reasons for emergence of the Senate attitude include:

—"Fear that the administration is fatally over-committing America in Asia, risking war with Red China and losing flexibility and perspective as to the rest of the world."

"Loss of confidence in administration military-political experts."

—"A 'confluence of competence has developed in the Senate in foreign affairs, resulting from broad professional and personal experience of many members since World War II."

—"A political vacuum develops as the President is weakened by failures in Vietnam, in the cities, and now in Congress."

British Chief Shaking Up His Ministers

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson today hustled through a major shakeup of his ministers in a bid to beat mounting political and economic challenges facing his Labor government.

Wilson arranged to announce up to about two dozen hirings, firings and promotions tonight in the most extensive reorganization of the nation's leadership since Labor won power in October 1964.

It seemed probable, however, that Foreign Secretary George Brown and Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan will keep their jobs, at least for the time being.

The clear purpose of this will be to demonstrate that no drastic changes are contemplated in Britain's foreign policy and that no devaluation is intended.

The departure of either man at this time could, according to political authorities here, be misconstrued abroad.

The Wilson government currently has several king-size problems before it, the most important being the nation's economic and fiscal difficulties, reflected in an unemployment total of nearly 600,000, the highest is 17 years.

In addition, Wilson has been trying behind the scenes to settle the festering dispute over the future of Rhodesia, where a white minority government nearly two years ago seized power in defiance of London's authority.

At least three are expected to leave their Cabinet posts.

They are Michael Stewart, minister for economic affairs and rated No. 3 in the hierarchy; Douglas Jay, president of the Board of Trade, who has been lukewarm towards Britain's projected entry into the European Common Market, and Commonwealth Secretary Herbert Bowden.

Police Probe Wounding Of City Youth, 18

Chief A. J. Radeschi said today an investigation is continuing into an incident Sunday at 1:50 a. m. in which an 18-year-old youth was wounded in the left forearm by a .22-caliber rifle bullet fired by a Thompson Pl. man, 85.

James Douglas of Apartment 3-B in Thompson Pl. was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital. Police identified the gun - wielder as Harry Bazluk, owner of the property in which Douglas resides. No charges have been filed pending the outcome of the investigation, the chief said.

Lt. Paul A. Burson Jr. and Patrolmen David Huffman and Leonard Richard were summoned to the apartment building near E. 3rd St. on a report of a shooting. They found Douglas with Ralph Icenhower, 40, also of No. 3 Thompson Pl. Douglas, a native of Canada and a former employe of Waterford Park Race Track, has been residing with Icenhower, officers said.

Douglas told police he and Icenhower were standing near a corner of the building talking with some young friends. He said he and Icenhower then walked away to head upstairs. As he passed a window of Bazluk's apartment he heard a shot and felt something strike his forearm, he said. Icehower continued upstairs and telephoned police.

Bazluk told police he was alarmed by a disturbance outside his home and though someone was trying to break in.

Robert Bennett, who resides in the same building, arrived home a short time after the shooting. He took Douglas to the hospital. Police said the .22-caliber long rifle bullet was fired from a single - shot gun.

10 Motorists Pay Penalties In City Court

Ten motorists cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol and local police paid $185 in fines, costs and forfeits today in Municipal Court.

Four were penalized on speeding charges. Robert W. Haddox, 24, of 805 Broadway, Wellsville, paid $15 and costs after pleading guilty to a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was cited on Route 7 Thursday at 11:26 p.m. by the patrol. Raymond E. Musser, 42, of East Palestine, charged with speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone Wednesday at 9:55 p.m. on Route 7, also was fined $15 and costs.

Raymond Crubaugh of Oakwood Ave. was fined $15 and costs on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7. He was cited Sunday at 10:20 p.m. Claude L. Hunt Jr. of Youngstown forfeited a $22.50 bond on a charge of driving 60 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was cited Friday at 9:05 p.m. on Route 7.

Clifford L. Grabill of Grabill, Ind., forfeited $17.50 on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way when making a left turn. He was cited on Route 7 Sunday at 2:15 p.m. by the patrol. George Hubbard, 23, of 808 Washington Ave., Wellsville, paid the costs on a charge of driving an auto with an expired 10-day registration tag. He was cited Wednesday at 8:25 p.m. on Walnut St.

Mark M. Wolfe of 100 W. Main St., Salineville, forfeited $17.50 on a charge of crashing a stop sign at W. 7th and Jefferson Sts. He was cited Friday at 4 p. m. by Patrolmen James Woods and Orin Smith. John Morrell of 131½ W. 6th St. was fined $10 and costs on a charge of driving an auto with a defective muffler. He was cited Saturday at 7:40 p.m. on the Diamond.

Two men charged with driving the wrong way Saturday in a one-way section of Persimmon Alley each forfeited $17.50 appearance bonds. They were listed as Andrew Lamb of Struthers and Fred M. Ullman of 118 W. 2nd St.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff granted a continuance until Wednesday at 9 a. m. in a hearing for William K. Lafferty, 53, of Charles Town, W. Va., who was cited Friday at 3:04 a. m. on W. 6th St. by Patrolman Leonard Richard on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Lafferty originally was due for a hearing today. At arraignment, he asked a continuance to obtain counsel. He is free on a $500 bond.

Area Resident Wounded In Leg By Mystery Shot

A Franklin Township resident escaped serious injury Saturday afternoon when wounded by a mysterious shotgun blast.

Duane Simpson, 20, of Salineville RD 2 had three pellets graze him and two enter his right thigh Saturday at 5 p.m. as he stepped from his auto outside his home.

Constable Forrest Young drove Simpson to a nearby physician for treatment. Simpson told investigators he had reached back into his car for a package of cigarettes when he felt "heat" on his leg. He didn't realize he had been shot until he saw blood, he said.

Young theorized that the shots came from a distance because of the limited impact the pellets made on Simpson's leg. An investigation is continuing.

Senate Role On Foreign Policy Seen Degenerating

WASHINGTON (AP) — "The President wishes to tread on the necks of the Senate," an angry senator wrote during a dispute with the administration over foreign policy.

The President was George Washington, the senator was William Maclay of Pennsylvania. But the dispute over respective powers of the executive branch and Congress in foreign affairs continues to now.

The Senate currently is being asked to declare that it, or the full Congress, should have a voice in determining whether the United States should pledge itself to defend another given country.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, sponsoring a resolution to that effect, said there had been a "gradual erosion of the role of the Congress, and particularly of the Senate, in the determination of national security policy."

Fulbright and others list escalation of the Vietnam war, the sending of U.S. forces to the Dominican Republic and dispatch of three planes with troops to the Congo as among recent actions they say should not have been taken without prior approval of Congress.

Fulbright contends there are signs in Congress of "growing uneasiness over the extent of executive power" and a growing willingness to challenge the administration.

A similar viewpoint was reported Sunday by the National Committee for an Effective Congress, which said in a report: "Not since the Wilson administration has any president been so rebuffed in foreign affairs as has Lyndon Johnson."

The Senate, the committee said, "is moving to retrieve those blank checks in foreign policy which were issued in a period of presidential trust and confidence."

It cited the Fulbright resolution on U.S. commitments, sharp cuts in the administration foreign aid bill, refusal to give the President advance authority for the Latin American summit meeting in Uruguay, pending resolutions calling for cutbacks in U.S. forces in Europe and Senate criticism of administration action in the Congo.

The report continued: "What is developing is a clash between a rising Senate and the personality of Lyndon Johnson. And when a man collides with an institution, it is not often the institution which buckles."

The committee says Senate reaction will come not through a debate over Vietnam but through "machinery, customs and mystique of their own Byzantine institution."

The eight-month survey by the private, bipartisan group says reasons for emergence of the Senate attitude include:

—"Fear that the administration is fatally over-committing America in Asia, risking war with Red China and losing flexibility and perspective as to the rest of the world."

"Loss of confidence in administration military-political experts."

—"A 'confluence of competence has developed in the Senate in foreign affairs, resulting from broad professional and personal experience of many members since World War II."

—"A political vacuum develops as the President is weakened by failures in Vietnam, in the cities, and now in Congress."

The Strength That Is America

All those Americans who wanted instant retaliation against Rap Brown's badmouthing of the United States feel the wheels of justice turn agonizingly slow--if at all.

Brown has been heading from trouble over since he took over from Stokely Carmichael as head of the Student Nonviolent (and isn't that a misnomer) Co-ordinating Committee a few months ago.

Right now Brown is in trouble in three states. And each case is on solid legal ground. There are no trumped up charges or tissue-thin legal technicalities being used to get Brown out of circulation.

Brown pulled the stupid stunt of carrying a carbine while aboard an airliner and was slapped with a charge of carrying a weapon cross state lines by Louisiana officials.

He also faces charges of instigating a riot in Maryland and an extradition hearing in Virginia on a charge of unlawful flight to void prosecution in Maryland.

There was some question of the high bond placed against Brown but that was reduced in New York hearing and he is free again.

It is galling to patriotic Americans to have someone berate their country and predict its downfall while enjoying the privilege of free travel, freedom of speech and its legal protection.

But the greatest testimony being given in behalf of the United States and what it stands for today is the handling of Rap Brown.

Here is a man wildly shouting for the downfall of a system that permits him to practice his trade of hate until he steps over established legal limits; and even then, he is allowed the same individual rights as all others who come into conflict with a democracy's laws.

No one is bending the law to get at Rap Brown and that is why every American can take additional pride in the process of democracy.

The law is the strength of a nation and can determine its success or failure.

Law can be a frustratingly slow process but it has never appeared more formidable than when it can be assailed by the likes of Rap Brown and still move inevitably forward giving new strength and vitality to that young nation — the United States of America.

Rationing Foreign Aid Money

The dark mood of some congressmen is evident in the slim margin of victory in House approval of the battered foreign aid bill. It gained a 202 to 194 victory after a tiring 15-hour debate that saw $653 million chopped off President Johnson's foreign aid program.

House slashing reduced the bill to $2.8 billion — still about $200 million higher than the Senate approved bill.

The final total will be worked out in a committee meeting with both the House and Senate represented.

With more taxes dead ahead for American taxpayers, the knife-wielding antics of disgruntled congressmen is heartening.

Even the most belligerent opponent of foreign aid realizes that some funds must be earmarked for other nations to protect American interests elsewhere. It is just a plain fact in the international game.

But that doesn't mean that Congress should rubber stamp all foreign aid bills.

Token cuts have been made in past years but rarely did they go deep enough to be significant.

First, all unnecessary spending that can be removed from governmental operation will be just that much of a break for the American taxpayer.

But equally important is the care that will go into spending the pared funds.

If a man finds himself in the middle of a desert with only half a canteen of water, he carefully rations his supply until he gets to the next well.

So it is with the foreign aid bill. If there is a limited amount available it will be used more wisely than if spenders were assured of an unending supply.

More Of Same

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

What's the answer?

The Johnson administration seems to think it has the answer: More of the same. But the results so far haven't proved it's the right one. The war in Vietnam appears to be stalemated.

This is the administration answer, given through Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara: North Vietnam eventually can be convinced its attempt to grab South Vietnam is hopeless if this country continues fighting the war the way it has been doing.

But the way it has been going, costing lives and doing some damage to the North with U.S. bombing, apparently hasn't put a dent in the determination of the North Vietnamese to keep on fighting.

Earlier this month Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, leader of the House Republicans, raised objections to sending another 45,000 American troops to Vietnam unless the administration is willing to do far more, and far tougher, bombing of the North.

"MUST WE," he asked, "accept as inevitable that the only way to fight this war is within the territory of South Vietnam, matching the enemy body for body, bayonet for bayonet, grenade for grenade?"

Immediately McNamara said Ford "completely ignores the basic objective of the air campaign against North Vietnam."

He said the objective is not to invade or destroy North Vietnam — invasion might bring Red China into the war and so might all-out bombing — or to precipitate a bigger war but to curb the flow of men and supplies from North Vietnam into South Vietnam.

"This requires that the air attacks be directed primarily against the military lines of communication. They are.

"It is true that there are restraints on the bombing, but they are restraints assigned to save American lives, to avoid unnecessary devastation and civilian casualties in North Vietnam and to avoid action which carries with it the high risk of widening the war with all that implies."

But shortly after Ford spoke his piece, and as if in answer to his demands, President Johnson ordered the bombing stepped up. But when some bombs were dropped within 10 miles of Red China's frontier, this caused more protests.

Then Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, U. S. commander in the Pacific, had a few words to say: That many important and worthwhile targets with military significance have not yet been struck.

Then McNamara, with a lengthy and highly detailed explanation, went before a congressional committee to state the administration's case.

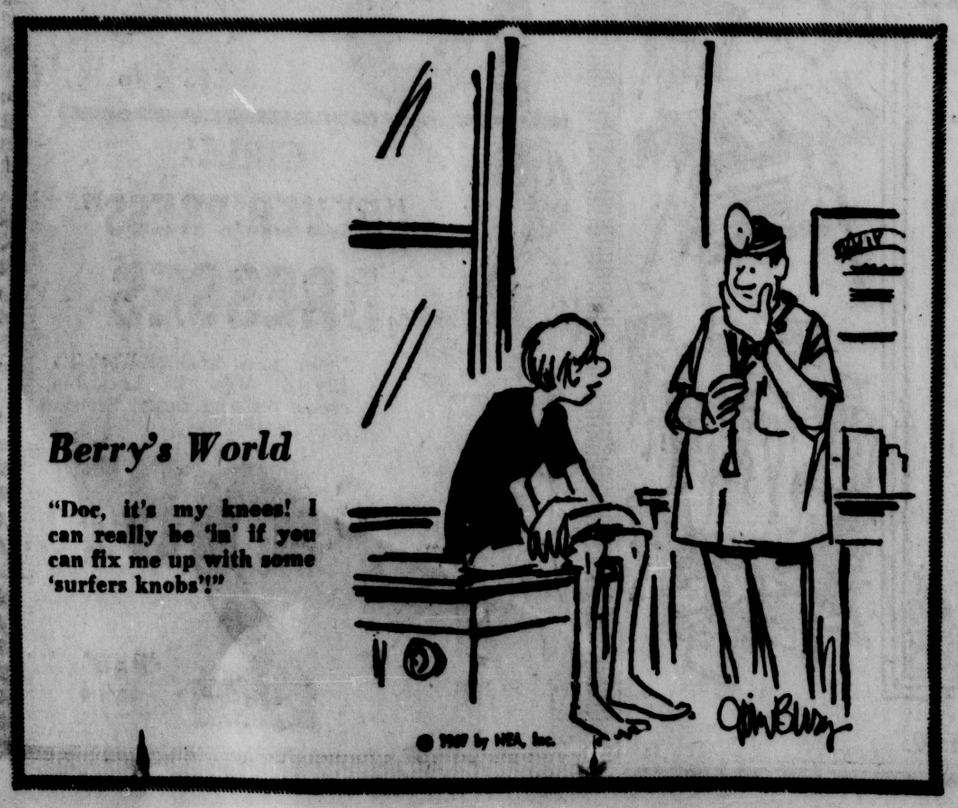
HE SAID the purpose of the air campaign was to reduce — or increase the cost of—the continuing flow of men and supplies from North to South, boost South Vietnam's morale and let the North know there was a price tag on its continued aggression.

But, he said, it never has been considered possible to shut off supplies from the North completely. The reason: The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops in South Vietnam, aside from food, need no more than about 100 tons of supplies a day, and only a few trucks are needed to transport that much.

McNamara, answering complaints like Ford's that the bombing is too limited, said about 85 per cent of all the targets in the North recommended by the Joint Chiefs of Staff have been hit.

He added: "Enemy operations in the South cannot, on the basis of any reports I have seen, be stopped by air bombardment" unless North Vietnam and its people are annihilated. And he said no one has proposed that kind of indiscriminate bombing. Sunday Ford said he didn't, either.

All of which means the war—since the U.S. forces in the South seem to be just holding their own and not crushing the enemy — isn't any closer to being won than it was in the beginning and may go on indefinitely.



'Caesar I've Been Thinking Over What The Other Guys Are Saying . . .'

Real Mao Please Stand!

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

One of the most perplexing things about the situation in Communist China is that Liu Shoa-chi is still walking around free in Peking. For those who haven't kept up with the events of the past year, Liu Shoa-chi, as chairman of the People's Republic, is China's chief of state. But ever since the cultural revolution began, he is the most reviled man in the government.

Art Buchwald

A day doesn't go by when he isn't attacked in the press or on wall posters or by the Red Guards. He has been accused by the Maoists of taking the capitalist road, of being a lackey of the Soviet Union and of being in cahoots with Chiang Kai-shek. This is not to mention his other unspeakable crimes, such as revisionism, imperialism and bad breath.

Yet Liu is still for all intents and purposes the head of the Chinese government. How does he get away with it?

The only thing one can surmise is that Liu has something on Mao, and if he ever blows the whistle Moa is going to wind up in birdsnest soup.

China-watchers have been speculating as to what it could possibly be, and here are some of the theories they have come up with.

MAO OWNS THE only television station in Canton. If he makes any attempt to kick out Liu Shao-chi, who controls the Chinese equivalent of the FCC, Liu will issue another license so there will be two TV stations in Canton. Mao's station could never stand the competition. And his TV interests, which are now in trust, would lose a fortune.

Another theory is that in order to launch his cultural revolution Mao accepted money from the CIA. Liu found out about this when he discovered that the Hate America Every Day Foundation was really a conduit for CIA funds. Liu has warned Mao that if he makes any move against him, he will give the story to Ram Pahs magazine, and every student in China will turn against him.

Still another theory as to why Liu has managed to survive is that he has proof that the "Thoughts of Mao" was ghost-written by a professor at Shanghai University and that Mao hasn't had an original thought since he became head of the Communist Party in China.

There are some China experts who believe that if you look behind the scenes you'll find a woman. They say Mao has been having an affair with a Red Guard sorority mother and Liu knows about it. Since the present Mrs. Mao is said to be an insanely jealous woman, Mao's life wouldn't be worth two chopsticks if she ever found out about it.

ANOTHER THEORY is that Mao is a compulsive gambler and has lost over 2 billion fens to Liu at Fan-Tan. The only way Mao could ever hope to get even is by keeping Liu alive and play him double or nothing.

But the most interesting idea that has been put forth so far is that Mao and Liu are the same person. One night he sneaks out and puts up a poster against Liu and the next night he sneaks out and puts a poster up attacking Mao.

In that way no matter who wins the cultural revolution Mao or Liu will still be on top.

This final theory makes the most sense, though there are still some questions that have to be answered. If Mao is Liu and Liu is Mao, can Chou be far behind?

VICTOR RIESEL

Retirees Find Their Niche

Not long ago in Africa I encountered a new corps of men. Their business was peace. But they were not the youngsters of the Peace Corps. They were mature industrialists. They had reached retirement age. But they had just begun to work — not for a dollar a year, but for nothing — in a business-to-business venture and adventure.

Victor Riesel

They were part of the "new" International Executive Service Corps directed by Frank Pace, formerly Secretary of the Army and ex-chairman and president of the General Dynamics Corp.

I urged Mr. Pace to explain this new phenomenon. Why were men in their sixties and seventies going out to hardship posts as volunteers? Here is his story:

NEW YORK: — Recently I have been talking in my office here with a number of men just back from temporary duty overseas.

One of them said: "This country has been pretty good to me. I'm glad I've been able to pay something back."

Another said: "I found, on my assignment, that America and its policies are not always popular. But as an individual, I never had any trouble. They seemed to appreciate my being there."

And a third: "I have never worked so hard, nor gotten so much satisfaction out of it. This was the greatest experience of my life."

Young men back from Vietnam, perhaps — or from the Peace Corps, or a student exchange, or from an overseas branch of an American firm? No; not young men at all.

These men were all in their sixties, they were all retired from highly successful U.S. business careers, and they were all the eminently "practical" types who, it is commonly supposed, can't tell an ideal from a dollar. Yet they had volunteered to go abroad, with their wives, and without pay, to help businessmen in the developing countries who needed their expert aid and counsel.

ONE OF THE HAPPIEST discoveries I have made in the nearly three years I have headed the International Executive Service Corps is that idealism, enthusiasm, dedication, adjustability — and the capacity for sheer hard work — are not the provinces of youth alone.

In IESC we tap these qualities in men who are often thought of — and have sometimes thought of themselves — as "has-beens" with nothing more to do but to putter. We have so far sent more than 200 of them abroad to share their lifetime's business experience with counterparts in more than 30 countries from Chile to Iran to Korea. And we have more than 3,000 others signed up and ready to go when they're needed.

The idea behind IESC is fundamentally simple: that if the free world is to remain free, it must also be economically sound. To achieve a measure of prosperity and higher living standards,the emerging nations need not only money but managerial talent, and who can better help them to develop this than that enormously talented manager, the American businessman? So we call upon him personally to serve in a business-to-business program.

Our costs are borne partly by the U.S. government, partly by 100 or more U.S. corporations who participate, and partly by the foreign client firms who request our help and pay a reasonable charge for it. But no sum we could raise could pay the true value of the services of the businessmen-volunteers who go out for three or four months at a time, for expenses only, to serve their country by serving its friends.

There was, for instance, the recently retired vice president of one of Wall Street's most important firms who went to Taiwan to help the Nationalist Chinese establish an effective securities market — a matter of extreme importance to a country that, no longer receiving U.S. foreign aid, must develop its own sources of investment capital.

There was the prominent Ohio banker who went to Bangkok to introduce modern practices to one of the leading banks of Thailand, and another Ohioan who helped chart a course toward economic freedom for Ghana after that young African nation became disillusioned with Nkrumah's collectivism.

I THINK OF THE Illinois glassmaking expert who saved a Philippine glass and bottle factory from probable failure and thereby helped assure the Filipino family a supply of healthfully packed foods and beverages.

There was the St. Louis men's wear executive who "trouble-shot" for a large clothing firm in Brazil, and the three veterans of the U.S. telephone system who helped untangle the internal communications of that same vast country.

There was the head of a New Jersey pharmaceutical firm who showed a company in Honduras how to increase its output of life-saving antibiotics, and the food-processing expert from California who prepared plans for a whole series of better food products for Iran.

A shipyard manager from Connecticut went to Peru to smooth out operations for a builder of fishing trawlers. And a store manager from Pittsburgh went to Panama to demonstrate modern merchandising methods.

I could go on far beyond the confines of this space, but these brief examples show what we are trying to do — to extend the know-how acquired by the American free enterprise system by the shortest possible route, a straight line from the American business community to businesses overseas.

DAVID LAWRENCE

A Declaration

Much confusion has arisen lately in the discussions in Congress as to the power of the President of the United States to engage in military operations in foreign countries without what is known as a "Declaration of War." The Constitutional provision has been repeatedly interpreted to mean that Congress alone can "Declare War," but nothing in the Constitution prevents a president from carrying on a war before Congress takes any action equivalent to a formal declaration. As a matter of fact, the Constitution gives the President this specific duty:

"The United States shall guarantee to every state in this Union a Republican form of Government, and shall protect each of them against invasion."

The use of the words "United States" in a legal sense refers always to the executive branch of the Government, and the Constitution itself says that "the President shall be Commander in Chief" of the Armed Forces of the United States.

NO PRESIDENT could continue to protect the states of the union against invasion unless he had the right instantaneously to respond to an attack by a foreign power. If, for example, some country possessing nuclear weapons should suddenly explode a number of bombs over American territory, there would not be time for Congress to be assembled and a formal declaration of war to be issued. It is the duty, therefore, of the President, as Commander in Chief, to order immediate retaliation for such an attack.

The authority of a President of the United States to deal at once with an attack against American interests has been repeatedly invoked. President Wilson in April 1914, for instance, ordered American Naval Forces to seize Vera Cruz and to intercept a German vessel laden with arms headed for that port. Its cargo was for the use of a regime in Mexico at odds with the United States, with the ultimate purpose of provoking a conflict with this country. Mr. Wilson didn't wait for a resolution by Congress before acting.

President Truman never requested from Congress a declaration of a state of war even after he sent American troops from Japan to South Korea to help repel an invasion of that country by Communist forces. The assumption at the time was that the United States was bound by treaty to send its armed forces to carry out those decisions of the U.N. Security Council which were designed to maintain "international peace and security." No declaration of war was made when in recent years American military forces, acting under the auspices of the U.N., went to the assistance of governments in the Congo.

The existing agreement, moreover, known as the North Atlantic Treaty pledges the United States to go to war instantly when any country which is a member of the treaty organization is attacked. The treaty contains no reservation requiring an Act of Congress as a prerequisite to military operations.

THERE ARE advantages in having Congress declare war in some cases or in refraining from doing so in other instances when outbreaks occur, as in the Dominican Republic in 1965 when United States Troops were landed to protect American interests. A Declaration of War is omitted when the conflict appears likely to last only a short time. For there is a hesitancy to put the country on a wartime basis and thus cause certain laws to come into force, as happens when there is a formal Declaration of War.

The use, however, of a Declaration of War or of a state of war has not been abandoned. In such a proclamation so that, under international law, vessels transporting goods or supplies to belligerent countries may legally be searched and seized. But, in a sense, what Under-Secretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach said recently to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee about a Declaration of War being "outmoded" is true.

In a nuclear age, no country that is attacked is going to wait for its own legislative body to assemble and debate the question of war or peace. The obligation to protect instantly one's own territory against invasion and to repel attack is obvious. To delay military action would only be in the interest of the enemy.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Miss Clara Martin of New Cumberland enrolled in nurses' training school at East Liverpool City Hospital.

More than 100 former teachers and pupils of the discontinued Madison School District attended the third annual reunion at West Point Grange, with Fred George, former county treasurer, presiding.

June McDevitt and Carolyn Smith of the Golden Girls 4-H Club were elected delegates to the 4-H convention in Ashtabula.

TEN YEARS AGO — About 2,000 enrolled in the Beaver Local School district, the third-largest enrollment in Columbiana County.

Wellsville Knights of Columbus initiated six candidates — Jerome Sorge, William Briggs, John McCarron, Nicholas Grande, Joseph Commorata and John Trainer.

The Strength That Is America

All those Americans who wanted instant retaliation against Rap Brown's badmouthing of the United States feel the wheels of justice turn agonizingly slow--if at all.

Brown has been heading from trouble over since he took over from Stokely Carmichael as head of the Student Nonviolent (and isn't that a misnomer) Co-ordinating Committee a few months ago.

Right now Brown is in trouble in three states. And each case is on solid legal ground. There are no trumped up charges or tissue-thin legal technicalities being used to get Brown out of circulation.

Brown pulled the stupid stunt of carrying a carbine while aboard an airliner and was slapped with a charge of carrying a weapon cross state lines by Louisiana officials.

He also faces charges of instigating a riot in Maryland and an extradition hearing in Virginia on a charge of unlawful flight to void prosecution in Maryland.

There was some question of the high bond placed against Brown but that was reduced in New York hearing and he is free again.

It is galling to patriotic Americans to have someone berate their country and predict its downfall while enjoying the privilege of free travel, freedom of speech and its legal protection.

Some are chomping at the bit in eagerness to shut Brown up.

But the greatest testimony being given in behalf of the United States and what it stands for today is the handling of Rap Brown.

Here is a man wildly shouting for the downfall of a system that permits him to practice his trade of hate until he steps over established legal limits; and even then, he is allowed the same individual rights as all others who come into conflict with a democracy's laws.

No one is bending the law to get at Rap Brown and that is why every American can take additional pride in the process of democracy.

The law is the strength of a nation and can determine its success or failure.

Law can be a frustratingly slow process but it has never appeared more formidable than when it can be assailed by the likes of Rap Brown and still move inevitably forward giving new strength and vitality to that young nation — the United States of America.

Rationing Foreign Aid Money

The dark mood of some congressmen is evident in the slim margin of victory in House approval of the battered foreign aid bill. It gained a 202 to 194 victory after a tiring 15-hour debate that saw $653 million chopped off President Johnson's foreign aid program.

House slashing reduced the bill to $2.8 billion — still about $200 million higher than the Senate approved bill.

The final total will be worked out in a committee meeting with both the House and Senate represented.

With more taxes dead ahead for American taxpayers, the knife-wielding antics of disgruntled congressmen is heartening.

Even the most belligerent opponent of foreign aid realizes that some funds must be earmarked for other nations to protect American interests elsewhere. It is just a plain fact in the international game.

But that doesn't mean that Congress should rubber stamp all foreign aid bills.

Token cuts have been made in past years but rarely did they go deep enough to be significant.

First, all unnecessary spending that can be removed from governmental operation will be just that much of a break for the American taxpayer.

But equally important is the care that will go into spending the pared funds.

If a man finds himself in the middle of a desert with only half a canteen of water, he carefully rations his supply until he gets to the next well.

So it is with the foreign aid bill. If there is a limited amount available it will be used more wisely than if spenders were assured of an unending supply.

More Of Same

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

What's the answer?

The Johnson administration seems to think it has the answer: More of the same. But the results so far haven't proved it's the right one. The war in Vietnam appears to be stalemated.

This is the administration answer, given through Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara: North Vietnam eventually can be convinced its attempt to grab South Vietnam is hopeless if this country continues fighting the war the way it has been doing.

But the way it has been going, costing lives and doing some damage to the North with U.S. bombing, apparently hasn't put a dent in the determination of the North Vietnamese to keep on fighting.

Earlier this month Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, leader of the House Republicans, raised objections to sending another 15,000 American troops to Vietnam unless the administration is willing to do far more, and far tougher, bombing of the North.

"MUST WE," he asked, "accept as inevitable that the only way to fight this war is within the territory of South Vietnam, matching the enemy body for body, bayonet for bayonet, grenade for grenade?"

Immediately McNamara said Ford "completely ignores the basic objective of the air campaign against North Vietnam."

He said the objective is not to invade or destroy North Vietnam — invasion might bring Red China into the war and so might all-out bombing — or to precipitate a bigger war but to curb the flow of men and supplies from North Vietnam into South Vietnam.

"This requires that the air attacks be directed primarily against the military lines of communication. They are.

"It is true that there are restraints on the bombing, but they are restraints assigned to save American lives, to avoid unnecessary devastation and civilian casualties in North Vietnam and to avoid action which carries with it the high risk of widening the war with all that implies."

But shortly after Ford spoke his piece, and as if in answer to his demands, President Johnson ordered the bombing stepped up. But when some bombs were dropped within 10 miles of Red China's frontier, this caused more protests.

Then Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, U. S. commander in the Pacific, had a few words to say: That many important and worthwhile targets with military significance have not yet been struck.

Then McNamara, with a lengthy and highly detailed explanation, went before a congressional committee to state the administration's case.

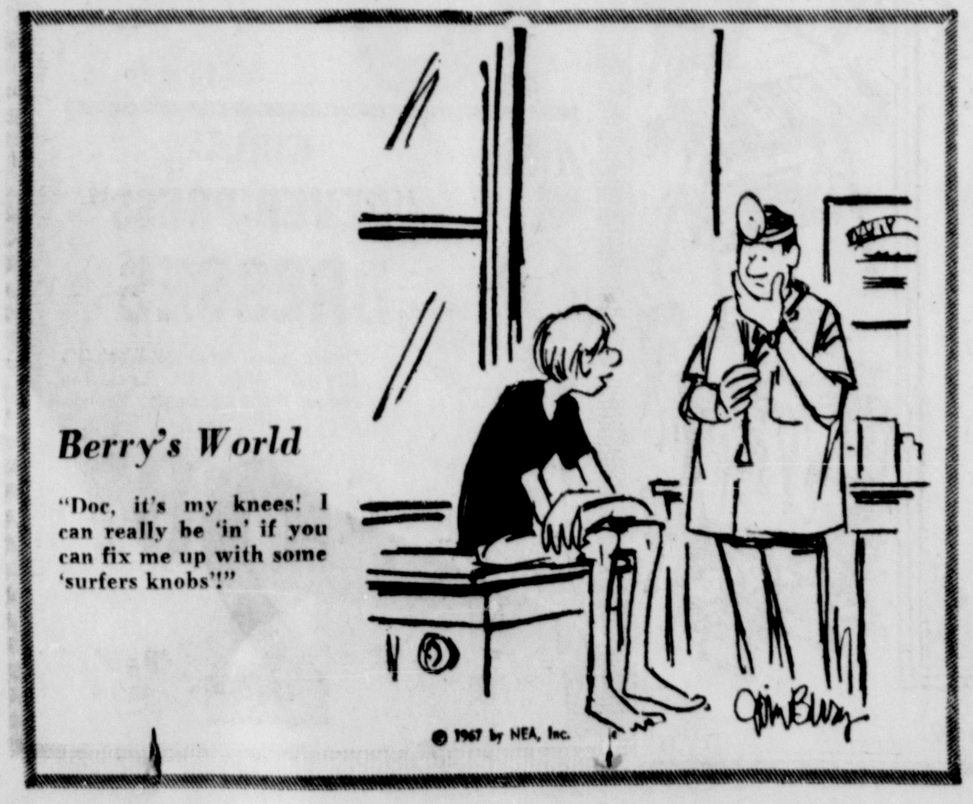
HE SAID the purpose of the air campaign was to reduce — or increase the cost of—the continuing flow of men and supplies from North to South, boost South Vietnam's morale and let the North know there was a price tag on its continued aggression.

But, he said, it never has been considered possible to shut off supplies from the North completely. The reason: The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops in South Vietnam, aside from food, need no more than about 100 tons of supplies a day, and only a few trucks are needed to transport that much.

McNamara, answering complaints like Ford's that the bombing is too limited, said about 85 per cent of all the targets in the North recommended by the Joint Chiefs of Staff have been hit.

He added: "Enemy operations in the South cannot, on the basis of any reports I have seen, be stopped by air bombardment" unless North Vietnam and its people are annihilated. And he said no one has proposed that kind of indiscriminate bombing. Sunday Ford said he didn't, either.

All of which means the war—since the U.S. forces in the South seem to be just holding their own and not crushing the enemy — isn't any closer to being won than it was in the beginning and may go on indefinitely.



'Caesar I've Been Thinking Over What The Other Guys Are Saying . . .'

Real Mao Please Stand!

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

One of the most perplexing things about the situation in Communist China is that Liu Shoa-chi is still walking around free in Peking. For those who haven't kept up with the events of the past year, Liu Shoa-chi, as chairman of the People's Republic, is China's chief of state. But ever since the cultural revolution began, he is the most reviled man in the government.

Art Buchwald

A day doesn't go by when he isn't attacked in the press or on wall posters or by the Red Guards. He has been accused by the Maoists of taking the capitalist road, of being a lackey of the Soviet Union and of being in cahoots with Chiang Kai-shek. This is not to mention his other unspeakable crimes, such as revisionism, imperialism and bad breath.

Yet Liu is still for all intents and purposes the head of the Chinese government. How does he get away with it?

The only thing one can surmise is that Liu has something on Mao, and if he ever blows the whistle Moa is going to wind up in birdsnest soup.

China-watchers have been speculating as to what it could possibly be, and here are some of the theories they have come up with.

MAO OWNS THE only television station in Canton. If he makes any attempt to kick out Liu Shao-chi, who controls the Chinese equivalent of the FCC, Liu will issue another license so there will be two TV stations in Canton. Mao's station could never stand the competition. And his TV interests, which are now in trust, would lose a fortune.

Another theory is that in order to launch his cultural revolution Mao accepted money from the CIA. Liu found out about this when he discovered that the Hate America Every Day Foundation was really a conduit for CIA funds. Liu has warned Mao that if he makes any move against him, he will give the story to Ram Pahs magazine, and every student in China will turn against him.

Still another theory as to why Liu has managed to survive is that he has proof that the "Thoughts of Mao" was ghost-written by a professor at Shanghai University and that Mao hasn't had an original thought since he became head of the Communist Party in China.

There are some China experts who believe that if you look behind the scenes you'll find a woman. They say Mao has been having an affair with a Red Guard sorority mother and Liu knows about it. Since the present Mrs. Mao is said to be an insanely jealous woman, Mao's life wouldn't be worth two chopsticks if she ever found out about it.

ANOTHER THEORY is that Mao is a compulsive gambler and has lost over 2 billion fens to Liu at Fan-Tan. The only way Mao could ever hope to get even is by keeping Liu alive and play him double or nothing.

But the most interesting idea that has been put forth so far is that Mao and Liu are the same person. One night he sneaks out and puts up a poster against Liu and the next night he sneaks out and puts up a poster up attacking Mao.

In that way no matter who wins the cultural revolution Mao or Liu will still be on top.

This final theory makes the most sense, though there are still some questions that have to be answered. If Mao is Liu and Liu is Mao, can Chou be far behind?

VICTOR RIESEL

Retirees Find Their Niche

Not long ago in Africa I encountered a new corps of men. Their business was peace. But they were not the youngsters of the Peace Corps. They were mature industrialists. They had reached retirement age. But they had just begun to work — not for a dollar a year, but for nothing — in a business-to-business ventur and adventure.

Victor Riesel

They were part of the "new" International Executive Service Corps directed by Frank Pace, formerly Secretary of the Army and ex-chairman and president of the General Dynamics Corp.

I urged Mr. Pace to explain this new phenomenon. Why were men in their sixties and seventies going out to hardship posts as volunteers? Here is his story:

One of them said: "This country has been pretty good to me. I'm glad I've been able to pay something back."

Another said: "I found, on my assignment, that America and its policies are not always popular. But as an individual, I never had any trouble. They seemed to appreciate my being there."

And a third: "I have never worked so hard, nor gotten so much satisfaction out of it. This was the greatest experience of my life."

Young men back from Vietnam, perhaps — or from the Peace Corps, or a student exchange, or from an overseas branch of an American firm? No; not young men at all.

These men were all in their sixties, they were all retired from highly successful U.S. business careers, and they were all the eminently "practical" types who, it is commonly supposed, can't tell an ideal from a dollar. Yet they had volunteered to go abroad, with their wives, and without pay, to help businessmen in the developing countries who needed their expert aid and counsel.

ONE OF THE HAPPIEST discoveries I have made in the nearly three years I have headed the International Executive Service Corps is that idealism, enthusiasm, dedication, adjustability — and the capacity for sheer hard work — are not the provinces of youth alone.

In IESC we tap these qualities in men who are often thought of — and have sometimes thought of themselves — as "has-beens" with nothing more to do but to putter. We have so far sent more than 200 of them abroad to share their lifetime's business experience with counterparts in more than 30 countries from Chile to Iran to Korea. And we have more than 3,000 others signed up and ready to go when they're needed.

The idea behind IESC is fundamentally simple: that if the free world is to remain free, it must also be economically sound. To achieve a measure of prosperity and higher living standards the emerging nations need not only money but managerial talent, and who can better help them to develop this than that enormously talented manager, the American businessman? So we call upon him personally to serve in a business-to-business program.

Our costs are borne partly by the U.S. government, partly by 100 or more U.S. corporations who participate, and partly by the foreign client firms who request our help and pay a reasonable charge for it. But no sum we could raise could pay the true value of the services of the businessmen-volunteers who go out for three or four months at a time, for expenses only, to serve their country by serving its friends.

There was, for instance, the recently retired vice president of one of Wall Street's most important firms who went to Taiwan to help the Nationalist Chinese establish an effective securities market — a matter of extreme importance to a country that, no longer receiving U.S. foreign aid, must develop its own sources of investment capital.

There was the prominent Ohio banker who went to Bangkok to introduce modern practices to one of the leading banks of Thailand, and another Ohioan who helped chart a course toward economic freedom for Ghana after that young African nation became disillusioned with Nkrumah's collectivism.

I THINK OF THE Illinois glassmaking expert who saved a Philippine glass and bottle factory from probable failure and thereby helped assure the Filipino family a supply of healthfully packed foods and beverages.

There was the St. Louis men's wear executive who "trouble-shot" for a large clothing firm in Brazil, and the three veterans of the U.S. telephone system who helped untangle the internal communications of that same vast country.

There was the head of a New Jersey pharmaceutical firm who showed a company in Honduras how to increase its output of life-saving antibiotics, and the food-processing expert from California who prepared plans for a whole series of better food products for Iran.

A shipyard manager from Connecticut went to Peru to smooth out operations for a builder of fishing trawlers. And a store manager from Pittsburgh went to Panama to demonstrate modern merchandising methods.

I could go on far beyond the confines of this space, but these brief examples show what we are trying to do — to extend the know-how acquired by the American free enterprise system by the shortest possible route, a straight line from the American business community to businesses overseas.

A Declaration

Much confusion has arisen lately in the discussions in Congress as to the power of the President of the United States to engage in military operations in foreign countries without what is known as a "Declaration of War." The Constitutional provision has been repeatedly interpreted to mean that Congress alone can "Declare War," but nothing in the Constitution prevents a president from carrying on a war before Congress takes any action equivalent to a formal declaration. As a matter of fact, the Constitution gives the President this specific duty:

It is the duty, therefore, of the President, as Commander in Chief, to order immediate retaliation for such an attack.

The authority of a President of the United States to deal at once with an attack against American interests has been repeatedly invoked. President Wilson in April 1914, for instance, ordered American Naval Forces to seize Vera Cruz and to intercept a German vessel laden with arms headed for that port. Its cargo was for the use of a regime in Mexico at odds with the United States, with the ultimate purpose of provoking a conflict with this country. But, in a sense, what Under-Secretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach said recently to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee about a Declaration of War being "outmoded" is true.

In a nuclear age, no country that is attacked is going to wait for its own legislative body to assemble and debate the question of war or peace. The obligation to protect instantly one's own territory against invasion and to repel attack is obvious. To delay military action would only be in the interest of the enemy.

Deaths and Funerals

Oliver Kirkham

Services will be held Wednesday for Oliver W. Kirkham, 60, of 304 Maplewood Ave., who died Sunday midnight at City Hospital following a two-month illness.

Mr. Kirkham was born here April 21, 1907, a son of the late Robert J. Kirkham and Lilly Mensforth Kirkham. He was a member of the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church.

Rochester Woman 'Fair' In Fire That Claims Son

A Rochester (Pa.) woman is in "fair" condition at Rochester General Hospital with second degree burns suffered in a fire which toow the life of her 8-year-old son early Saturday morning.

Dead is Stephen Ronald Buchan, son of Mrs. Violet McSherry and Stephen Buchan of Toledo. He resided at 327 Virginia Ave., Rochester.

According to Rochester Fire Chief Ken Haney, the boy died of asphyzia after his mother at tempted to save him but could not reach an upstairs window leading to a front porch roof in time.

The fire started in the kitchen at approximately 5:25 a.m. due to faulty wiring. The family was awakened by a dog tied in the kitchen. Lester McSherry, the boy's stepfather, ran down stairs when the heat hit him and he apparently fell part way down the steps.

He called to his wife to waken the youngster and take him out to a front porch roof. She woke the boy, but apparently started to the back porch roof then ended up back in the boy's bedroom, where he collapsed.

Chief Haney said the mother climbed out to a front porch roof and summoned for help and neighbors took her off the roof by using ladders.

Firemen confined the fire to the kitchen and back roof with damage estimated at $7,000.

The boys stepfather escaped uninjured but Mrs. McSherry suffered second degree burns from the waist up.

The boy's body was taken to Toledo, where services and burial will be held.

could be interpreted in the Senate as an attempt to offset growing opposition to the course he is following in Vietnam.

War policy hawks got little encouragement from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's statement to the Senate preparedness subcommittee Friday that he does not believe bombing will bring North Vietnam to the conference table. War escalation foes like Mansfield and Aiken called the statement a case against the bombing. Neither side indicated it liked McNamara's forecast of a "tragic and long-drawn out conflict."

Mansfield said he favors inviting Communist China, North Vietnam, the Viet Cong National Federation of Liberation and the new Saigon government to participate in the Security Council's discussions.

New Bids Sought On Span Project

The Ohio Highway Department at Columbus today issued a call for new bids on an auto-pedestrian ramp to span the Freeway at W. 9th St. after rejecting two offers which were filed Aug. 8.

The department said the new bids will be opened at 10 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 10, at Columbus.

The apparent low offer was filed Aug. 8 by the A. P. O'Horo Co. of Youngstown. The Youngstown firm bid $261,165, more than $30,000 over the state's estimate of $230,000. The only other bidder was the Poland Contracting Corp. of Poland, which filed a $301,459 offer.

The highway department and the Federal Bureau of Public Roads will join in sharing the cost of the span, which will tie together the two sections of W. 9th St. that were left as dead-ends when the first stage of the Freeway was constructed.

liminary hearing in Arlington County Court.

Attorneys for Patler, an expelled American Nazi official, said he would plead innocent to a charge of murder. He is held in $50,000 bail.

Police charge Patler shot Rockwell Friday as the 49-year-old "fuehrer" sat in his car at a shopping center across a busy street from the run-down 23-acre estate that is party headquarters.

Patler was arrested shortly afterward a few blocks away. Police recovered Saturday what they identify as the murder weapon—a 7.62 mm semi-automatic Mauser pistol. It was found in a stream three blocks from the shooting scene. Its ownership has not been determined, police said.

Rockwell was shot once through the chest, authorities reported. Two shots were fired through the windshield of his car and it was initially believed the other bullet struck him in the head.

Objecting to the party's plan to bury the 49-year-old Rockwell at Culpepper, Robert Miller, chief of staff for the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Virginia, said: "It is wrong for a man living against the ideals we have fought for should be laid to rest beside comrades who have given their lives for the country's freedom."

Rockwell's family wanted to bury him at Boothbay Harbor, Maine, near the home of his father, retired vaudeville and radio comedian George "Doc" Rockwell.

However, the slain man's brother, Robert K. Rockwell of Barrington, R.I., said Sunday "the family no longer wishes to contest the claim" of the Nazis to make the funeral arrangements.

Robert Rockwell said he was "quite sure" no members of the family would attend the services.

Missing Children Turn Up Safely

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)—Four children missing overnight from then Ross County home turned up safely Monday morning after authorities had launched an all-night search, sheriff's deputies said.

Deputies said it was not immediately known where the children spent the night, but there were reports thay had stayed at a house.

The missing children were those of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cramer, who live on a farm about three miles outside Chillicothe. They were Debbie, 13, Christine, 10, Paul, 6, and Vina, 2.

The children were wearing summer clothes, and the youngest child only a diaper, when they were last seen, heading toward a nearby 300-acre fruit farm, deputies reported.

Temperatures went into the 40s overnight.

Mrs. Cramer, who reported the children missing, said she had checked with several neighbors before calling the sheriff's office. No one could give any hints as to the youngsters' whereabouts, she said.

The sheriff's office directed a search that utilized about 50 units of police officers and volunteer searchers.

Irondale Student Marries In Ceremonies At Church

Miss Karen Tolson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Tolson of Irondale, became the bride of Harry L. Blackmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Blackmon of Ocean City, N. J., the afternoon of Aug. 20 at the Irondale Methodist Church.

The Rev. David L. Atkinson preformed the double - ring ceremony before an altar of palms and ferns. An arrangement of snapdragons, pompons and greenery was on the communion table and two seven - branch candelabra, accented with stephanotis and streamers, completed the altar decoration. The family pews were marked with white satin bows.

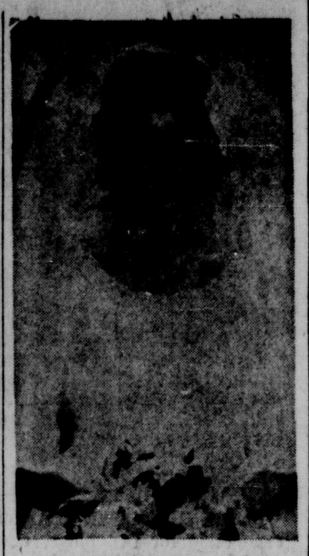
The bride carried a cascade arrangement of daisies, secured with white velvet ribbon.

Mrs. Dorothy Reineck of Findlay, matron of honor, was attired in a floor - length frock of rose - orange colored material with white embroidered daisies encircling the Empire waistline. The gown had an "A-line" skirt with a bodice fashioned with a scoop neckline. She wore a Dior bow of matching material and a veil.

A white basket of daisies and ferns and velvet bows, which matched her dress, was carried by the matron of honor.

Miss Lois Blackmon, sister tof the bridegroom, and Miss Donna Tolson, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids in gowns identical to that of the matron of honor.

Bruce Bryant of Pittsburgh was best man. Ushers were Richard Kittle of Findlay and James Keflonitis of Westfield, N. J.



MRS. HARRY BLACKMON
Will Reside In Findlay.

Aides were Mrs. Clyde Russell, Mrs. Art Wardesk, Mrs. Jack Tolson and Mrs. William Banfield.

The couple is honeymooning at Lake George, N. Y.

The bride was graduated from Stanton Local High School in 1963 and is presently a student at Findlay College. She is a member of Delta Zeta sorority.

The bridegroom was graduated from Ocean City High School in 1963 and is also a student at Findlay College.

They will reside at Findlay.

Missing Children Turn Up Safely

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)—Four children missing overnight from then Ross County home turned up safely Monday morning after authorities had launched an all-night search, sheriff's deputies said.

Deputies said it was not immediately known where the children spent the night, but there were reports thay had staved at a house.

The missing children were those of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cramer, who live on a farm about three miles outside Chillicothe. They were Debbie, 13, Christine, 10, Paul, 6, and Vina, 2.

The children were wearing summer clothes, and the youngest child only a diaper, when they were last seen, heading toward a nearby 300-acre fruit farm, deputies reported.

Temperatures went into the 40s overnight.

Mrs. Cramer, who reported the children missing, said she had checked with several neighbors before calling the sheriff's office. No one could give any hints as to the youngsters' whereabouts, she said.

The sheriff's office directed a search that utilized about 50 units of police officers and volunteer searchers.

Irondale Student Marries In Ceremonies At Church

Miss Karen Tolson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Tolson of Irondale, became the bride of Harry L. Blackmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Blackmon of Ocean City, N. J., the afternoon of Aug. 20 at the Irondale Methodist Church.

The Rev. David L. Atkinson preformed the double - ring ceremony before an altar of palms and ferns. An arrangement of snapdragons, pompons and greenery was on the communion table and two seven - branch candelabra, accented with stephanotis and streamers, completed the altar decoration. The family pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride carried a cascade arrangement of daisies, secured with white velvet ribbon.

Mrs. Dorothy Reineck of Findlay, matron of honor, was attired in a floor - length frock of rose - orange colored material with white embroidered daisies encircling the Empire waistline. The gown had an "A-line" skirt with a bodice fashioned with a scoop neckline. She wore a Dior bow of matching material and a veil.

A white basket of daisies and ferns and velvet bows, which matched her dress, was carried by the matron of honor.

Miss Lois Blackmon, sister tof the bridegroom, and Miss Donna Tolson, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids in gowns identical to that of the matron of honor.

Bruce Bryant of Pittsburgh was best man. Ushers were Richard Kittle of Findlay and James Keflonitis of Westfield, N. J.

MRS. HARRY BLACKMON
Will Reside In Findlay.

A RECEPTION was held in the social room of the church. The bridal table was centered with a three - tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple.

Aides were Mrs. Clyde Russell, Mrs. Art Wardesk, Mrs. Jack Tolson and Mrs. William Banfield.

The couple is honeymooning at Lake George, N. Y.

The bride was graduated from Stanton Local High School in 1963 and is presently a student at Findlay College. She is a member of Delta Zeta sorority.

The bridegroom was graduated from Ocean City High School in 1963 and is also a student at Findlay College.

They will reside at Findlay.

Search Pressed For 2 Who Grab $100 In Holdup

Randy Adams, 18, assistant manager of Industry RD 1, told Ohio Borough police that two armed men pulled a gun, while sitting in their cars, as he approached.

Adams said the men asked for the cash in the drawer and he gave them approximately $100.

The pair, driving a 1958 light blue Chevrolet coupe, then drove west toward the Ohio border. The car did not have a license plate, police said.

According to Adams, the driver wore a heavy beard, had short hair and wore sunglasses. There was no description of the other man.

Ohio Borough police investigated, assisted by the Pennsylvania state police. East Liverpool and Midland police also were contacted to assist in possible roadblocks.

Open House Will Be Held On Carroll's Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Carroll of 748 Garner Ave. will be honored with an open house reception in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday from 2 until 7 p.m. at the home of their son-in-law and daugher, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Glass of Route 45, four miles from Wellsville Roadside Park.

Mr. Carroll was born March 5, 1895, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Carroll, and was employed at Riverview Cemetery for 40 years before his retirement in 1960.

Mrs. Carroll, the former Nell Seyler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seyler, was born Oct. 6, 1899.

They have a son and daughter deceased, Jack Carroll Jr. and Mrs. Hilda Moore.

There are six grandchildren.

Search Pressed For 2 Who Grab $100 In Holdup

Randy Adams, 18, assistant manager of Industry RD 1, told Ohio Borough police that two armed men pulled a gun, while sitting in their cars, as he approached.

Adams said the men asked for the cash in the drawer and he gave them approximately $100.

The pair, driving a 1958 light blue Chevrolet coupe, then drove west toward the Ohio border. The car did not have a license plate, police said.

According to Adams, the driver wore a heavy beard, had short hair and wore sunglasses. There was no description of the other man.

Ohio Borough police investigated, assisted by the Pennsylvania state police. East Liverpool and Midland police also were contacted to assist in possible roadblocks.

Epstein Had Been In Poor Health

Beatles' Manager Dies; Post-Mortem Scheduled

LONDON (AP) — A post-mortem probably will be held to determine what killed Brian Epstein, but one friend said the 32-year-old discoverer of the Beatles had been in poor health for months.

Epstein, whose promotion of the Beatles and other pop music stars made him a millionaire, was found dead in bed at his $100,000 home near Buckingham palace Sunday.

"No notes were found at the house," said a spokesman for Scotland Yard. "As far as we are concerned there are no suspicious circumstances."

After failing to make the grade as an acting student at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art, Epstein went to work building a record department in his father's Liverpool furniture store. Intrigued by the number of requests he got for a German record made by a local pop group called the Beatles, he sought them out at the Liverpool Cavern Club in October, 1961, and became their manager.

He claimed that he lost money on them for the first year, but late in 1962 their records began spinning to the top of the hit parade, and the money began to pour in.

During the last five years the Beatles are reckoned to have earned between $56 million and $84 million, and Epstein's personal fortune was estimated at around $16.8 million.

BRIAN EPSTEIN
Found Dead In Bed.

Epstein had a great ability for discovering and promoting talent and had many other top pop stars under his management. To his staff he was known as an aloof man, but he was lonely and often depressed and admitted to friends he attempted suicide last year. Recently he had been depressed by the death of his father, to whom he was very close.

Epstein once admitted taking the psychedelic drug LSD, while three of the Beatles—Paul McCartney, John Lennon and George Harrison—also said they have taken the drug.

Cool Weather Curbs State Fair Crowds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's, unseasonal chilly weather has cut into the 1967 Ohio State Fair's gate receipts—but fair officials have an ace named Bob Hope still to play.

Through Sunday night, 195,762 persons had paid to pass through the gates for the fair—a drop of 17,000 from last year's fair attendance figures.

Fair officials said the decrease from the 1966 attendance record had been 30,000 through Sunday's performance.

"We think this is good," a fair official said, "since this year we have our most popular entertainment on the end of the program. We still have Bob Hope and others to come."

Another beauty queen was picked Sunday. Ruth Anne Haynes, 19, from Canal Winchester was selected Miss Wool of Ohio.

Fairgoers donned sweaters and jackets in the afternoon when the temperature suddenly dropped to 72 degrees — with chilly winds whipping about the grounds.

Kenneth John Bell, 24, a fair roustabout from East Monticello, N.Y., died at University Hospital early Sunday after suffering head injuries in a fall from a raised walkway on an amusement ride. His was the first state fair death in many years, officials said.

A 117-pound Hampshire lamb was chosen the 1967 Fair Champion Lamb and was sold to Presutti's Villa, of Columbus, at $5 per pound. The Ravenwook Farms, Inc., State College, Penn., has entered the lamb.

The fair runs through Sept. 4, Labor Day.

Could Be Deciding Factor Tuesday

Increase In Negro Voters Being Eyed In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A sharp increase in the number of Negro voters could be a deciding factor in Tuesday's Democratic state primary.

The contenders for governor, Rep. John Bell Williams and State Treasurer William Winter, have pushed state's rights to the foreground of the campaign. But race has remained a muted issue.

There are no official figures but state officials estimate that in the past four years the number of registered Negro voters has jumped from about 30,000 to about 200,000. The increase took place in large measure after enactment of the Federal Voting Rights Act of 1965 and a series of voter registration drives.

Winter, a 44-year-old Grenada lawyer, opened his campaign with an attack on President Johnson s administration and hit at Williams for what he said was a lack of a program. He identified his political stance with that of Mississippi's two long-time conservator senators. James O. Eastland and John Stennis.

He tempered a slashing personal campaign with discussion of issues in the closing days of the race.

While Negroes remained a shadow quantity in statewide contests, they were clearly moving ahead on the county level. Twenty-one Negro candidates, including four for sheriff, face white opponents. A dozen were elected outright in the first primary, since they face no independent or republican opposition in the general election.

Williams polled 197,778 from the record 684,005 votes cast. The third place candidate, hard-line segregationist Jimmy Swan, got more than 124,000 votes.

Swan, whose voters were courted by both the runoff candidates, declined to endorse either one, saying that neither was willing to publicly pledge to work for private, segregated schools. His key supporters have split between the two candidates.

Negro political activist James H. Meredith withheld an endorsement, pronouncing both candidates unsuitable, but he said he would make a judgment in the November general election when the Democratic survivor meets Republican Rubel Phillips of Jackson.

Lynch Heads West Virginia Medical Assn.

Elected president-elect of the organization was Dr. Richard B. Corbitt of Parkersburg. He will be installed as president at the next convention here Aug. 22-24, 1968.

Immediate past president Richard E. Flood of Weirton, making his final address as president, exhorted county medical societies in the state to establish friendly relationships with medical students.

"We need to let them know they are not only welcome but wanted here in West Virginia," Flood said.

Pittsburgh Police Find Bomb Near Zoo

The bomb had no detonator or main charge, but the primer was intact.

Police said a child tinkering with the bomb could have set it off and received serious injury. But officers said there was no danger of a massive explosion.

It wasn't known where the bomb came from.

It has been estimated that 12,000 people drift in and out of St. Peter's in Rome on a usual day.

Arab Summit Parley To Seek Unified Policy Toward Israel

By The Associated Press

A summit conference of Arab leaders opens in Khartoum Tuesday to forge a unified policy toward Israel, but divisions among the Arabs on the civil war in Yemen and relations with the West may diminish the cordiality of the meeting.

Algerian President Houari Boumedienne is apparently reluctant to attend the conference in the Sudanese capital because he fears moderate leaders will prevail in policy making.

Foreign ministers of 13 Arab nations met in Khartoum Sunday and approved the agenda for the summit. Egyptian sources said the ministers regard the dispute over Yemen as foremost among inter-Arab feuds. Egypt backs the Republican regime in Yemen against Royalists rebels supported by Saudi Arabia.

The Arab world is also divided in its stance toward the West. Eight Arab nations broke relations with Britain and the United States, accusing them of aiding Israel in the June 5-10 war against the Arabs. But five other Arab nations kept diplomatic relations with the two Western powers.

Two of the five, Tunisia and Jordan, touched off a dispute at the foreign ministers meeting by pushing for a plan to improve relations with the West. Most foreign ministers argued that the question of continuing the embargo on oil shipments to the United States and Britain should be dealt with at the summit level.

Reports in Cairo of deeper Soviet involvement on the Egyptian-Republican side of the Yemeni civil war dimmed hopes for settlement of the 5-year-old conflict. Yemeni President Abdullal Al-Sallal conferred secretly in Yemen with a Soviet delegation Friday, then flew to Cairo for talks with President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Meanwhile, the repatriation of Arab refugees to the Israeli-occupied west bank of the Jordan River continued to lag. Only 1,388 refugees straggled across the bridges Sunday. With only 11,392 refugees repatriated by Sunday evening, officials said it was unlikely more than 20,000 in all could be returned home before the Israeli deadline of Aug. 31. United Nations officials aiding the refugees estimate the total number east of the river at 170,000, while Jordan claims the total exceeds 200,000.

Israel accepted a proposal by Gen. Odd Bull, the U.N. ceasefire observer chief, to extend indefinitely an arrangement whereby neither Egypt nor Israeli ships use the shut-down Suez Canal. Egypt was reported to have accepted Bull's proposal too.

Luncheon, Trip Will Be Held By Golden Age Club

Plans for a luncheon Sept. 8 and a trip in October were made when the Golden Age Club of Chester and vicinity met Friday afternoon in the Westminster United Presbyterian Church.

Lester Lutton presided.

The luncheon will be at the Holiday Inn on Route 66 and the trip, by bus, to Cook's Forest.

It was announced that the group received a blue ribbon for its arts and crafts display booth at the Hookstown Fair.

Twenty-five attended Friday's meeting.

The club will meet again next Friday.

Hand Tools Stolen And Motor Damaged

Theft of tools valued at $100 and damage to a motor resulted from a breaking and entering near Weirton Friday.

Ross Howell of Weirton RD 1 told the Hancock County sheriff's office Sunday night someone entered his garage Friday night and made off with the assortment of hand tools. There was no estimate of damage to the motor.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures Tuesday through Saturday will average below normal. Highs will average in the 70s, nighttime lows in the 50s. Warmer readings are expected at the beginning of the period, with cooler weather prevailing most of the remainder of the week. Precipitation will total .5 inch to .75 inch as showers both at the beginning and end of the period.

Missing Children Turn Up Safely

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)—Four children missing overnight from then Ross County home turned up safely Monday morning after authorities had launched an all-night search, sheriff's deputies said.

Deputies said it was not immediately known where the children spent the night, but there were reports thay had staved at a house.

The missing children were those of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cramer, who live on a farm about three miles outside Chillicothe. They were Debbie, 13, Christine, 10, Paul, 6, and Vina, 2.

The children were wearing summer clothes, and the youngest child only a diaper, when they were last seen, heading toward a nearby 300-acre fruit farm, deputies reported.

Temperatures went into the 40s overnight.

Mrs. Cramer, who reported the children missing, said she had checked with several neighbors before calling the sheriff's office. No one could give any hints as to the youngsters' whereabouts, she said.

The sheriff's office directed a search that utilized about 50 units of police officers and volunteer searchers.

Irondale Student Marries In Ceremonies At Church

Miss Karen Tolson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Tolson of Irondale, became the bride of Harry L. Blackmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Blackmon of Ocean City, N. J., the afternoon of Aug. 20 at the Irondale Methodist Church.

The Rev. David L. Atkinson preformed the double - ring ceremony before an altar of palms and ferns. An arrangement of snapdragons, pompons and greenery was on the communion table and two seven - branch candelabra, accented with stephanotis and streamers, completed the altar decoration. The family pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride carried a cascade arrangement of daisies, secured with white velvet ribbon.

Mrs. Dorothy Reineck of Findlay, matron of honor, was attired in a floor - length frock of rose - orange colored material with white embroidered daisies encircling the Empire waistline. The gown had an "A-line" skirt with a bodice fashioned with a scoop neckline. She wore a Dior bow of matching material and a veil.

A white basket of daisies and ferns and velvet bows, which matched her dress, was carried by the matron of honor.

Miss Lois Blackmon, sister tof the bridegroom, and Miss Donna Tolson, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids in gowns identical to that of the matron of honor.

Bruce Bryant of Pittsburgh was best man. Ushers were Richard Kittle of Findlay and James Keflonitis of Westfield, N. J.

MRS. HARRY BLACKMON
Will Reside In Findlay.

Aides were Mrs. Clyde Russell, Mrs. Art Wardesk, Mrs. Jack Tolson and Mrs. William Banfield.

The couple is honeymooning at Lake George, N. Y.

The bride was graduated from Stanton Local High School in 1963 and is presently a student at Findlay College. She is a member of Delta Zeta sorority.

The bridegroom was graduated from Ocean City High School in 1963 and is also a student at Findlay College.

They will reside at Findlay.

Oak Glen Band Closes 5-Day State Fair Trip

Ninety - five members of the Oak Glen High School Band have returned from a five-day trip to the West Virginia State Fair at Lewisburg near White Sulphur Springs.

James Buracchio, director, said the band arrived home about 7:30 p. m. Saturday. The group performed two concerts and led a parade as the Governor's Band.

Buracchio said members and their chaperones toured Charleston and Hawk's Nest State Park during the trip and gave performances before about 40,000 at the fair, which closed Saturday.

TV Set And Steaks Are Stolen At Cabin

NEGLEY — A cabin on Jackman Rd. was broken into between 5:30 p.m. Saturday and 6:50 p.m. Sunday. A 19-inch portable television set and several steaks were stolen.

Vincent Welsh, who rents the cabin from Ervin Hayes, reported the burglary to the sheriff's office Sunday night. Deputies Sid Boydston and Dan Gartland said someone forced open a screen door to a closed-in porch, then ripped a screen from a window between the porch and kitchen.

According to latest estimate, there are four widows in the United States for every widower, and three divorced women for every two divorced men.

Pennsylvania Girl Weds Resident Of Chester Area

Miss Marie Elaine DeBee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar DeBee of Huston, Pa., became the bride of Thomas Lee Bosworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bosworth of Chester Route 1, Aug. 19 at 7:30 p. m. at the Pleasant Heights United Brethren in Christ Church.

The Rev. Clair Tucker officiated for the double - ring, open church ceremony. Mrs. Debbie Schoolcraft was organist and Glenn McGaffic, uncle of the bride, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of Chantilly lace over satin and a crystal crown holding a shoulder - length veil. She carried a white Bible topped with an arrangement of white orchids and satin streamers.

Miss Shirley Fry, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a white dress trimmed with pink and carried a Colonial bouquet of white carnations and pink roses.

Garey Bosworth served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Wayne DeBee, brother of the bride, and Allen McGaffic, her uncle.

MRS. THOMAS BOSWORTH

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: You'll never know what you did for me when you printed that letter from "Young at Heart" — the 70-year-old woman who longed for fulfillment night after night while her husband (who had gone dead sexually 10 years before) was snoring in the next bed.

She asked if something was wrong with her and wondered if she was the only woman in the world "up in years" who had the problem. You said, "No. You are not alone."

I, too, wondered if I was alone. I'm 68, look 55 and feel 35. My husband is 68, looks 75 and acts 100. On his 50th birthday he made an announcement — too many of his friends were dropping dead of heart attacks and sex was killing them. "I'm through with all that nonsense," he proclaimed.

I almost went into shock. We had been married 27 year raised four fine children, and I thought the physical side of our marriage was perfect.

After eight months of living like brother and sister, I celebrated my 50th birthday by taking a lover. (He is 10 years my junior.)

I'm not writing to ask if I'm doing right or wrong. I just wanted "Young at Heart" to know how I dealt with the problem. — BACK FROM THE DEAD.

Dear Back: Please keep reading and learn how another "Sister In Misery" dealt with the problem.

Another Experience

Dear Ann: The 70-year-old woman who fell for the carpenter — or was it the paperhanger? — caught my eye. I know how she must have felt, after having raised a nice family and believing her marriage to be a good one in every respect, to be told that part of her life was over.

It happened to me, too, not exactly that way but close enough. About that time an attractive man (also married) showed me a little attention. I was flattered. "No harm in it," I thought. "Just something to brighten my life."

Before I knew it, I was sneaking around, seeing him twice a week, lying to my husband and taking ridiculous chances. The man swore he loved me and needed me as much as I needed him. He said what we were doing was beautiful and right.

Then I began to hear his name pop up over bridge tables and in the locker room of the club. He was linked with this woman and that woman. When I was told that his car could be found every Thursday afternoon in Mrs. X's garage (Thursday was her maid's day off), I couldn't believe it. So I checked, and I saw not only his car but the man himself going into the house by the side door.

I thought I'd die on the spot, but I didn't. I just promised myself I'd go home and work as hard to rejuvenate my marriage as I had worked to keep the love affair exciting.

I discovered that my husband was very pleased when I took the initiative. It brought out a side of him I'd never seen before. He later told me he had just given up because he was sure I had lost interest in him.

When I run into my former Romeo at social affairs I feel cheap and ashamed. But I thank my lucky stars I didn't wreck my life over him. He isn't fit to shine my husband's shoes, muchless fill them. — HOME WHERE I BELONG.

Dear Home: The medical literature I have read makes it plain that many people past 70 are still sexually active. "Young at Heart's" letter, however, produced such an avalanche of mail that I now believe the geriatrics set is even livelier than the literature indicates. And I say hurray for them!

Police Hold Man, 40, In Death Of Woman

SOUTH WEBSTER, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Mary Cook, 49, was found dead in the bedroom of her home near here Sunday with a bullet wound in her mouth.

Police said Mrs. Cook was shot with a 22 caliber pistol. They said they were holding 40-year-old Karl Ramsey on an open charge in connection with the death. Ramsey was arrested less than two hours after Mrs. Cook's body was discovered.

Youngster, 2, Drowns In Fall Into Well

MOUNT ORAB, Ohio (AP)—Exploring the yard of his grandfather's farm when no grownups were around led to the death of 2-year-old Charles Edward Lacey Sunday.

Brown County authorities said the youngster fell into a well and drowned. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lacey, Batavia. The accident happened on the farm of Howard Cooper five miles north of here.

Killed In Collision

MARYSVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Dwight Edward Sorrell, 47, of Franklin, Ohio, was killed Sunday in a two-car collision at the intersection of U.S. highways 411 and 129, six miles south of here. Three other persons were injured in the crash.

Search Pressed For 2 Who Grab $100 In Holdup

Randy Adams, 18, assistant manager of Industry RD 1, told Ohio Borough police that two armed men pulled a gun, while sitting in their cars, as he approached.

Adams said the men asked for the cash in the drawer and he gave them approximately $100.

The pair, driving a 1958 light blue Chevrolet coupe, then drove west toward the Ohio border. The car did not have a license plate, police said.

According to Adams, the driver wore a heavy beard, had short hair and wore sunglasses. There was no description of the other man.

Ohio Borough police investigated, assisted by the Pennsylvania state police. East Liverpool and Midland police also were contacted to assist in possible roadblocks.

Romney Due Starring Role At Meeting

OSAGE BEACH, Mo. (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney flew into the Ozarks Sunday night to assume what was likely to be the starring role in the sixth annual Midwestern Governors Conference.

Romney, an undeclared candidate for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination and the man the latest Gallup Poll says could beat President Johnson today, was among the last of the 13 Midwestern chief executives to arrive.

Three of the Democratic governors attending the conference said in separate interviews Sunday that Johnson would have difficulty in their states under present conditions.

"At this particular time he couldn't carry the state," said Missouri Gov. Warren E. Hearnes.

By next year, added Iowa Gov. Harold E. Hughes, Johnson should have "a 50-50 chance in my state, but there's no doubt he would have a tough race."

Gov. Robert Docking, a Democrat in strongly Republican Kansas, said Johnson at this time could carry Kansas only if there was a "national Democratic landslide like the one against Goldwater."

Taking the opposite view were Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois and Gov. Hulett C. Smith of West Virginia, both Democrats.

"There's no question in my mind but what he is going to be re-elected next year," Kerner said.

Two-Day Display Of Steam Engines Set Next Month

The 11th annual exhibition of the Tri-State Historical Steam Engine Association will be held Sept. 15 and 16 at Burgettstown.

The event will be on the Dean Fullerton farm on State Route 18 between Burgettstown and Hickory.

In daily operation will be old-fashioned steam engines and other equipment dating back to the turn of the century and earlier.

Portable steam engines, threshing machines, hay balers, timber saw mill, burr feed mill and a steam train all will be featured, but the big attraction will be the snorting steam traction engines which replaced "Old Dobbin" down on the farm, only to be replaced in turn by the gas and diesel engines of today.

There will be two daily parades of the antique puffers for the 6,000 visitors expected from the three-state area.

"Reliving a little bit of the past is the idea of the show," says Lester Lee, a Cross Creek farmer who is president of the 300-member association made up of tri-state residents.

Earl Hamilton of Lisbon is vice president and Paul F. Crow of Charleroi secretary.

The two presidential candidates of the Whig Party both died while in office — W. H. Harrison in 1841 and Zachary Taylor in 1850.

Epstein Had Been In Poor Health

Beatles' Manager Dies; Post-Mortem Scheduled

LONDON (AP) — A post-mortem probably will be held to determine what killed Brian Epstein, but one friend said the 32-year-old discoverer of the Beatles had been in poor health for months.

Epstein, whose promotion of the Beatles and other pop music stars made him a millionaire, was found dead in bed at his $100,000 home near Buckingham palace Sunday.

"No notes were found at the house," said a spokesman for Scotland Yard. "As far as we are concerned there are no suspicious circumstances."

After failing to make the grade as an acting student at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art, Epstein went to work building a record department in his father's Liverpool furniture store. Intrigued by the number of requests he got for a German record made by a local pop group called the Beatles, he sought them out at the Liverpool Cavern Club in October, 1961, and became their manager.

He claimed that he lost money on them for the first year, but late in 1962 their records began spinning to the top of the hit parade, and the money began to pour in.

During the last five years the Beatles are reckoned to have earned between $56 million and $84 million, and Epstein's personal fortune was estimated at around $16.8 million.

BRIAN EPSTEIN
Found Dead In Bed.

Epstein had a great ability for discovering and promoting talent and had many other top pop stars under his management. To his staff he was known as an aloof man, but he was lonely and often depressed and admitted to friends he attempted suicide last year. Recently he had been depressed by the death of his father, to whom he was very close.

Epstein once admitted taking the psychedelic drug LSD, while three of the Beatles—Paul McCartney, John Lennon and George Harrison—also said they have taken the drug.

Cool Weather Curbs State Fair Crowds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's unseasonal chilly weather has cut into the 1967 Ohio State Fair's gate receipts—but fair officials have an ace named Bob Hope still to play.

Through Sunday night, 195,762 persons had paid to pass through the gates for the fair—a drop of 17,000 from last year's fair attendance figures.

Fair officials said the decrease from the 1966 attendance record had been 30,000 through Sunday's performance.

"We think this is good," a fair official said, "since this year we have our most popular entertainment on the end of the program. We still have Bob Hope and others to come."

Another beauty queen was picked Sunday. Ruth Anne Haynes, 19, from Canal Winchester was selected Miss Wool of Ohio.

Fairgoers donned sweaters and jackets in the afternoon when the temperature suddenly dropped to 72 degrees — with chilly winds whipping about the grounds.

Kenneth John Bell, 24, a fair roustabout from East Monticello, N.Y., died at University Hospital early Sunday after suffering head injuries in a fall from a raised walkway on an amusement ride. His was the first state fair death in many years, officials said.

A 117-pound Hampshire lamb was chosen the 1967 Fair Champion Lamb and was sold to Presutti's Villa, of Columbus, at $5 per pound. The Ravenwook Farms, Inc., State College, Penn., has entered the lamb.

The fair runs through Sept. 4, Labor Day.

Could Be Deciding Factor Tuesday

Increase In Negro Voters Being Eyed In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A sharp increase in the number of Negro voters could be a deciding factor in Tuesday's Democratic state primary.

The contenders for governor, Rep. John Bell Williams and State Treasurer William Winter, have pushed state's rights to the foreground of the campaign. But race has remained a muted issue.

There are no official figures but state officials estimate that in the past four years the number of registered Negro voters has jumped from about 30,000 to about 200,000. The increase took place in large measure after enactment of the Federal Voting Rights Act of 1965 and a series of voter registration drives.

Winter, a 44-year-old Grenada lawyer, opened his campaign with an attack on President Johnson s administration and hit at Williams for what he said was a lack of a program. He identified his political stance with that of Mississippi's two long-time conservator senators. James O. Eastland and John Stennis.

He tempered a slashing personal campaign with discussion of issues in the closing days of the race.

While Negroes remained a shadow quantity in statewide contests, they were clearly moving ahead on the county level. Twenty-one Negro candidates, including four for sheriff, face white opponents. A dozen were elected outright in the first primary, since they face no independent or republican opposition in the general election.

Williams polled 197,778 from the record 684,005 votes cast. The third place candidate, hard-line segregationist Jimmy Swan, got more than 124,000 votes.

Swan, whose voters were courted by both the runoff candidates, declined to endorse either one, saying that neither was willing to publicly pledge to work for private, segregated schools. His key supporters have split between the two candidates.

Negro political activist James H. Meredith withheld an endorsement, pronouncing both candidates unsuitable, but he said he would make a judgment in the November general election when the Democratic survivor meets Republican Rubel Phillips of Jackson.

Lynch Heads West Virginia Medical Assn.

Elected president-elect of the organization was Dr. Richard B. Corbitt of Parkersburg. He will be installed as president at the next convention here Aug. 22-24, 1968.

Immediate past president Richard E. Flood of Weirton, making his final address as president, exhorted county medical societies in the state to establish friendly relationships with medical students.

"We need to let them know they are not only welcome but wanted here in West Virginia," Flood said.

Pittsburgh Police Find Bomb Near Zoo

The bomb had no detonator or main charge, but the primer was intact.

Police said a child tinkering with the bomb could have set it off and received serious injury. But officers said there was no danger of a massive explosion.

It wasn't known where the bomb came from.

It has been estimated that 12,000 people drift in and out of St. Peter's in Rome on a usual day.

Arab Summit Parley To Seek Unified Policy Toward Israel

By The Associated Press

A summit conference of Arab leaders opens in Khartoum Tuesday to forge a unified policy toward Israel, but divisions among the Arabs on the civil war in Yemen and relations with the West may diminish the cordiality of the meeting.

Algerian President Houari Boumedienne is apparently reluctant to attend the conference in the Sudanese capital because he fears moderate leaders will prevail in policy making.

Foreign ministers of 13 Arab nations met in Khartoum Sunday and approved the agenda for the summit. Egyptian sources said the ministers regard the dispute over Yemen as foremost among inter-Arab feuds. Egypt backs the Republican regime in Yemen against Royalists rebels supported by Saudi Arabia.

The Arab world is also divided in its stance toward the West. Eight Arab nations broke relations with Britain and the United States, accusing them of aiding Israel in the June 5-10 war against the Arabs. But five other Arab nations kept diplomatic relations with the two Western powers.

Two of the five, Tunisia and Jordan, touched off a dispute at the foreign ministers meeting by pushing for a plan to improve relations with the West. Most foreign ministers argued that the question of continuing the embargo on oil shipments to the United States and Britain should be dealt with at the summit level.

Reports in Cairo of deeper Soviet involvement on the Egyptian-Republican side of the Yemeni civil war dimmed hopes for settlement of the 5-year-old conflict. Yemeni President Abdullal Al-Sallal conferred secretly in Yemen with a Soviet delegation Friday, then flew to Cairo for talks with President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Meanwhile, the repatriation of Arab refugees to the Israeli-occupied west bank of the Jordan River continued to lag. Only 1,388 refugees straggled across the bridges Sunday. With only 11,392 refugees repatriated by Sunday evening, officials said it was unlikely more than 20,000 in all could be returned home before the Israeli deadline of Aug. 31. United Nations officials aiding the refugees estimate the total number east of the river at 170,000, while Jordan claims the total exceeds 200,000.

Israel accepted a proposal by Gen. Odd Bull, the U.N. ceasefire observer chief, to extend indefinitely an arrangement whereby neither Egypt nor Israeli ships use the shut-down Suez Canal. Egypt was reported to have accepted Bull's proposal too.

Luncheon, Trip Will Be Held By Golden Age Club

Plans for a luncheon Sept. 8 and a trip in October were made when the Golden Age Club of Chester and vicinity met Friday afternoon in the Westminster United Presbyterian Church.

Lester Lutton presided.

The luncheon will be at the Holiday Inn on Route 66 and the trip, by bus, to Cook's Forest.

It was announced that the group received a blue ribbon for its arts and crafts display booth at the Hookstown Fair.

Twenty-five attended Friday's meeting.

The club will meet again next Friday.

Hand Tools Stolen And Motor Damaged

Ross Howell of Weirton RD 1 told the Hancock County sheriff's office Sunday night someone entered his garage Friday night and made off with the assortment of hand tools. There was no estimate of damage to the motor.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures Tuesday through Saturday will average below normal. Highs will average in the 70s, nighttime lows in the 50s. Warmer readings are expected at the beginning of the period, with cooler weather prevailing most of the remainder of the week. Precipitation will total .5 inch to .75 inch as showers both at the beginning and end of the period.

Rash Of Mishaps Brings Injuries

Seven were injured, one seriously, in a rash of accidents investigated over the weekend by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

In "serious" condition at Salem City Hospital with a possible head injury is William Earl Oesch, 20, of Rogers RD 1, whose car left the highway and slammed into a utility pole at 2:45 a.m. today.

Officers said the driver was at the intersection of County Roads 428 and 429 when the wheels of his auto dropped off the highway, causing the car to leave the road. His 1967 coach then returned to the road, went off the left side and slid back across, finally hitting the pole and spinning to a stop. The auto was damaged severely. The patrol said a citation is pending.

CARS DRIVEN by Richard L. Whittington, 20, of East Liverpool RD 3 and Charles A. Russell of 937 Myler Rd., East Liverpool, collided on Route 30 Sunday afternoon.

Russell's northbound coach had slowed for traffic and was struck from behind by the Whittington vehicle, officers said. Whittington was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

An accident on old Route 30 near the Pearl China Co. sent an Oakdale, Pa., woman to City Hospital with minor injuries.

A passenger in the Link auto, Frances Downs, 62, was treated at City Hospital for a bruised leg. Link was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Kenneth Ray Woods, 17, of Rogers RD 1, was cited for driving at a speed in excess of conditions after his auto slid off Route 558 east of Route 7 in East Fairfield and struck a pole and fence.

Officers said the youth was eastbound at 1 p.m. Sunday when his car went out of control and hit the pole and wooden fence.

BILLIE W. EVANS, 32, of Michigan City, Ind., told investigators a dee rcrossed in front of his auto on Route 7 north of Route 30 and was struck. The dead animal was later removed.

Charles Gardner Jr., 40, of Lisbon RD 4, was treated at Salem City Hospital for multiple lacerations following a motorcycle mishap near Guilford Lake Sunday morning.

According to reports, Gardner's machine was cresting a hill on Route 172 when it slid off the right side of the road and overturned after returning to the highway. No citations were issued.

An East Liverpool area man was cited as the result of a two-car collision at the intersection of Route 170 and 30 Saturday which injured a woman.

Carl E. Hadley, 24, of MC 21 was charged after he reportedly turned left into the path of a 1966 sedan driven by George F. McHenry, 44, of East Liverpool RD 3. Mrs. George McHenry was treated for an elbow contusion at City Hospital following the accident.

Virginia Kay Betteridge, 20, of 803 John St., was treated for contusions of the neck and knee suffered when her car went off the highway at a curve, slid across the road into a guardrail and returned to the right side of the highway, finally stopping in the berm.. She was cited by the patrol for speeding.

—:—

A ROGERS MAN was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way after he turned into the path of a car on Route 7 between Rogers and Columbiana.

Charged was Fred Mercer, 38, of RD 1, who was struck after turning left in front of a car driven by John Penney, 55, of Poland. Both cars were damaged badly.

Two hit-skip accidents also were reported to the Lisbon post over the weekend.

James E. Rusco, 21, of New Waterford told officers his auto was struck by a car that continued on at the intersection of Routes 170 and 438 Sunday at 5:30 p.m.

An unidentified vehicle collided with a car driven by Leroy Albert Beadnell, 33, of Salem, on Route 410 south of Salem early Sunday and also failed to halt. Beadnell told investigators he was northbound at the crest of a hill when an oncoming car bumped his vehicle and kept going.

Sky Divers

who saw the multicolored chutes descend through overcast skies into the lake Sunday at 4:30 p.m., said chances that the 14 missing jumpers survived the night in the 72-degree water were 'slim."

Exactly how the 18 Ohio parachute enthusiasts — most of whom had more than 100 jumps to their credit — missed their target by 10 miles was unknown.

"As far as I knew, I was right where I was supposed to be," the pilot, Robert Karns of Vermilion, told Ohio Highway Patrolman John Shimp.

Shimp quoted Karns as saying he was flying by a radar fix furnished him by the Federal Aviation Agency tower at Hopkins International Airport in Cleveland and a Loran Station at Amherst.

The drivers were unprepared for the landing in water. None had floating equipment, the two survivors said. Each carried about 50 pounds of equipment.

Patricia C. Lownsbury of Akron — who had celebrated her wedding on June 28, 1964, by sky diving with her husband— was found dead in the water.

"She loved sky diving," said her husband, Alvin, as he waited on the dock as the Coast Guard returned her body ashore Sunday night.

Lownsbury, an iron worker, had made the wedding sky dive with his bride. He quit jumping earlier this year after suffering his fourth broken leg.

The other known drowning victim was Dorsie Kitchen Jr., 33, also of Akron.

One of the missing, Michael Thiem of Springfield, had told friends before the jump that he didn't like the idea of going. It was too close to Lake Erie and he couldn't swim, he told them.

Winds were estimated at 58 miles an hour at 20,000 feet up.

Robert Coy of Springfield, one of the survivors, said, "I was shocked and flabbergasted to see that I was over the lake. We assumed we were over the field."

"As soon as I broke out of the clouds, I knew something was wrong" Coy added. "All I saw was water." Coy had made 262 previous jumps.

"The waves were over my head and water was swishing into my mouth," he added. Coy said he stayed afloat by making an air pocket within his crash helmet.

Twenty-three persons had been scheduled for the flight, but only 20 made it. The patrol said the jump was attended by parachutists from various parts of Ohio, and not sponsored by any one group.

Names Of Sky Divers In Lake Jump Listed

HURON, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Highway Patrol released the following tentative list of parachutists, all from Ohio, who sky dived into Lake Erie by accidest Sunday:

Known dead:

Dorsie Kitchen Jr., 33, Akron.

Mrs. Patricia Lownsbury, Akron.

Rescued safely:

Robert Coy, 29, Springfield.

Bernard Johnson, 30, West Richfield

Landed safely:

Allen Homestead, Oberlin.

Larry Hartman, Fairview Park.

William J. Onysko, Cleveland.

Don Akers, Medina.

Dick Patfield, Cleveland.

Dave Sheehan, Medina.

Norman Allard, Ashtabula.

Jerry Freeman, Akron.

Lyle Bover, Rocky River.

James Dryer, Cleveland.

Ralph Hazelton, Fairview Park.

Michael Thiem, Springfield.

Joe Malarik, Newbury.

James Simmons, Warren.

Stanley Beck, Strongsville.

Three persons who signed the manifest for the trip did not catch the plane, police said. They were identified as Mickey Seaver, Paul Ritchev and Edward Schmidt. Addresses of the three were unknown.

Forfeits In Fight

LISBON — Lloyd A. Grate, 19, of Columbiana RD 1, charged with disturbing the peace by fighting a County Fair concessionnaire at 1:15 a. m. today on Lee Ave. at the fairgrounds, forfeited a $25 appearance bond today in mayor's court.

British Columbia has an area of 366,255 square miles—greater than the combined areas of California, Ohio, Oregon and Washington.

Thank You...

Our thanks to the workers, the committees, exhibitors, newspapers, radio station, and to THE GENERAL PUBLIC, for their cooperation and support in making the 21st Annual Fair such a tremendous success.

Our Sincere Thanks to Each and Every One.

Saigon Action Pressed

Black Market Activities Seen Continuing In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee, citing improvements in some aspects of U.S. aid to Vietnam and continued shortcomings in others, says unless the South Vietnamese government takes action "the advisability of U.S. involvement is questionable."

The report from the Foreign Operations and Government Information subcommittee says black market activities continue in Saigon, though on a lesser scale than previously, and excessive quantities of some products are flooding Vietnam.

"The reponsible U.S. officials are as much at fault as the government of Vietnam," said the report, released Sunday as a followup to a 1966 subcommittee study.

Unless the South Vietnamese government takes corrective actions, the report concludes, "the prospects of success are minimal and the advisability of U.S. involvement is questionable and could lead to a reassessment of the U.S. position."

The report asked Secretary of State Dean Rusk to "direct the U.S. ambassador in Vietnam to inform the government of Vietnam in no uncertain terms of the necessity for its cooperation and commitment.

"The U.S. Congress and the American taxpayer expect considerably more than has been demonstrated by the government of Vietnam in the past."

But it said "The United States has consistently failed to take a firm stand in its dealings with the government of Vietnam."

If recommendations are ignored, it said, Congress could take "the more drastic measure of cutting appropriations."

The report said it is still possible "to obtain PX liquor at bars in downtown Saigon and to purchase PX goods at street stands in the city." But it noted increased security at the U.S. military post exchanges, or PXs, and said: "It seems unlikely the black markets will ever be eliminated completely." Up to 40 per cent of civilian U.S. goods shipped to Vietnam went into the black market in 1966, estimates the report. It gives no figure for this year's rate but says: "All the evidence provided the committee tends to indicate that the scope of this activity is reduced."

Odd Facts

Manslaughter is the unlawful killing of another without malice, expressed or implied. It is the absence of malice which distinguishes this crime from murder.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: You'll never know what you did for me when you printed that letter from "Young at Heart" — the 70-year-old woman who longed for fulfillment night after night while her husband (who had gone dead sexually 10 years before) was snoring in the next bed.

She asked if something was wrong with her and wondered if she was the only woman in the world "up in years" who had the problem. You said, "No. You are not alone."

I, too, wondered if I was alone. I'm 68, look 55 and feel 35. My husband is 68, looks 75 and acts 100. On his 50th birthday he made an announcement — too many of his friends were dropping dead of heart attacks and sex was killing them. "I'm through with all that nonsense," he proclaimed.

I almost went into shock. We had been married 27 year raised four fine children, and I thought the physical side of our marriage was perfect.

After eight months of living like brother and sister, I celebrated my 50th birthday by taking a lover. (He is 10 years my junior.)

I'm not writing to ask if I'm doing right or wrong. I just wanted "Young at Heart" to know how I dealt with the problem. — BACK FROM THE DEAD.

Dear Back: Please keep reading and learn how another "Sister In Misery" dealt with the problem.

Another Experience

Dear Ann: The 70-year-old woman who fell for the carpenter — or was it the paperhanger? — caught my eye. I know how she must have felt, after having raised a nice family and believing her marriage to be a good one in every respect, to be told that part of her life was over.

It happened to me, too, not exactly that way but close enough. About that time an attractive man (also married) showed me a little attention. I was flattered. "No harm in it," I thought. "Just something to brighten my life."

Before I knew it, I was sneaking around, seeing him twice a week, lying to my husband and taking ridiculous chances. The man swore he loved me and needed me as much as I needed him. He said what we were doing was beautiful and right.

Then I began to hear his name pop up over bridge tables and in the locker room of the club. He was linked with this woman and that woman. When I was told that his car could be found every Thursday aftrnoon in Mrs. X's garage (Thursday was her maid's day off), I couldn't believe it. So I checked, and I saw not only his car but the man himself going into the house by the side door.

I thought I'd die on the spot, but I didn't. I just promised myself I'd go home and work as hard to rejuvenate my marriage as I had worked to keep the love affair exciting.

I discovered that my husband was very pleased when I took the initiative. It brought out a side of him I'd never seen before. He later told me he had just given up because he was sure I had lost interest in him.

When I run into my former Romeo at social affairs I feel cheap and ashamed. But I thank my lucky stars I didn't wreck my life over him. He isn't fit to shine my husband's shoes, muchless fill them. — HOME WHERE I BELONG.

Dear Home: The medical literature I have read makes it plain that many people past 70 are still sexually active. "Young at Heart's" letter, however, produced such an avalanche of mail that I now believe the geriatrics set is even livelier than the literature indicates. And I say hurray for them!

-:-

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Police Hold Man, 40, In Death Of Woman

Police said Mrs. Cook was shot with a 22 caliber pistol. They said they were holding 40-year-old Karl Ramsey on an open charge in connection with the death. Ramsey was arrested less than two hours after Mrs. Cook's body was discovered.

Youngster, 2, Drowns In Fall Into Well

MOUNT ORAB, Ohio (AP)—Exploring the yard of his grandfather's farm when no grownups were around led to the death of 2-year-old Charles Edward Lacey Sunday.

Brown County authorities said the youngster fell into a well and drowned. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lacey, Batavia. The accident happened on the farm of Howard Cooper five miles north of here.

Killed In Collision

MARYSVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Dwight Edward Sorrell, 47, of Franklin, Ohio, was killed Sunday in a two-car collision at the intersection of U.S. highways 411 and 129, six miles south of here. Three other persons were injured in the crash.

Romney Due Starring Role At Meeting

OSAGE BEACH, Mo. (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney flew into the Ozarks Sunday night to assume what was likely to be the starring role in the sixth annual Midwestern Governors Conference.

Romney, an undeclared candidate for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination and the man the latest Gallup Poll says could beat President Johnson today, was among the last of the 13 Midwestern chief executives to arrive.

Three of the Democratic governors attending the conference said in separate interviews Sunday that Johnson would have difficulty in their states under present conditions.

"At this particular time he couldn't carry the state," said Missouri Gov. Warren E. Hearnes.

By next year, added Iowa Gov. Harold E. Hughes, Johnson should have "a 50-50 chance in my state, but there's no doubt he would have a tough race."

Gov. Robert Docking, a Democrat in strongly Republican Kansas, said Johnson at this time could carry Kansas only if there was a "national Democratic landslide like the one against Goldwater."

Taking the opposite view were Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois and Gov. Hulett C. Smith of West Virginia, both Democrats.

"There's no question in my mind but what he is going to be re-elected next year," Kerner said.

Two-Day Display Of Steam Engines Set Next Month

The 11th annual exhibition of the Tri-State Historical Steam Engine Association will be held Sept. 15 and 16 at Burgettstown.

The event will be on the Dean Fullerton farm on State Route 18 between Burgettstown and Hickory.

In daily operation will be old-fashioned steam engines and other equipment dating back to the turn of the century and earlier.

Portable steam engines, threshing machines, hay balers, timber saw mill, burr feed mill and a steam train all will be featured, but the big attraction will be the snorting steam traction engines which replaced "Old Dobbin" down on the farm, only to be replaced in turn by the gas and disel engines of today.

There will be two daily parades of the antique puffers for the 6,000 visitors expected from the three-state area.

"Reliving a little bit of the past is the idea of the show," says Lester Lee, a Cross Creek farmer who is president of the 300-member association made up of tri-state residents.

Earl Hamilton of Lisbon is vice president and Paul F. Crow of Charlerol secretary.

The two presidential candidates of the Whig Party both died while in office — W. H. Harrison in 1841 and Zachary Taylor in 1850.

Rash Of Mishaps Brings Injuries

Seven were injured, one seriously, in a rash of accidents investigated over the weekend by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

In "serious" condition at Salem City Hospital with a possible head injury is William Earl Oesch, 20, of Rogers RD 1, whose car left the highway and slammed into a utility pole at 2:45 a.m. today.

Officers said the driver was at the intersection of County Roads 428 and 429 when the wheels of his auto dropped off the highway, causing the car to leave the road. His 1967 coach then returned to the road, went off the left side and slid back across, finally hitting the pole and spinning to a stop. The auto was damaged severely. The patrol said a citation is pending.

CARS DRIVEN by Richard L. Whittington, 20, of East Liverpool RD 3 and Charles A. Russell of 937 Myler Rd., East Liverpool, collided on Route 30 Sunday afternoon.

Russell's northbound coach had slowed for traffic and was struck from behind by the Whittington vehicle, officers said. Whittington was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

An accident on old Route 30 near the Pearl China Co. sent an Oakdale, Pa., woman to City Hospital with minor injuries.

A passenger in the Link auto, Frances Downs, 62, was treated at City Hospital for a bruised leg. Link was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Kenneth Ray Woods, 17, of Rogers RD 1, was cited for driving at a speed in excess of conditions after his auto slid off Route 558 east of Route 7 in East Fairfield and struck a pole and fence.

Officers said the youth was eastbound at 1 p.m. Sunday when his car went out of control and hit the pole and wooden fence.

BILLIE W. EVANS, 32, of Michigan City, Ind., told investigators a dee rcrossed in front of his auto on Route 7 north of Route 30 and was struck. The dead animal was later removed.

Charles Gardner Jr., 40, of Lisbon RD 4, was treated at Salem City Hospital for multiple lacerations following a motorcycle mishap near Guilford Lake Sunday morning.

According to reports, Gardner's machine was cresting a hill on Route 172 when it slid off the right side of the road and overturned after returning to the highway. No citations were issued.

An East Liverpool area man was cited as the result of a two-car collision at the intersection of Route 170 and 30 Saturday which injured a woman.

Carl E. Hadley, 24, of MC 21 was charged after he reportedly turned left into the path of a 1966 sedan driven by George F. McHenry, 44, of East Liverpool RD 3. Mrs. George McHenry was treated for an elbow contusion at City Hospital following the accident.

Virginia Kay Betteridge, 20, of 803 John St., was treated for contusions of the neck and knee suffered when her car went off the highway at a curve, slid across the road into a guardrail and returned to the right side of the highway, finally stopping in the berm.. She was cited by the patrol for speeding.

—:—

A ROGERS MAN was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way after he turned into the path of a car on Route 7 between Rogers and Columbiana.

Charged was Fred Mercer, 38, of RD 1, who was struck after turning left in front of a car driven by John Penney, 55, of Poland. Both cars were damaged badly.

Two hit-skip accidents also were reported to the Lisbon post over the weekend.

James E. Rusco, 21, of New Waterford told officers his auto was struck by a car that continued on at the intersection of Routes 170 and 438 Sunday at 5:30 p.m.

An unidentified vehicle collided with a car driven by Leroy Albert Beadnell, 33, of Salem, on Route 410 south of Salem early Sunday and also failed to halt. Beadnell told investigators he was northbound at the crest of a hill when an oncoming car bumped his vehicle and kept going.

Saigon Action Pressed

Black Market Activities Seen Continuing In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee, citing improvements in some aspects of U.S. aid to Vietnam and continued shortcomings in others, says unless the South Vietnamese government takes action "the advisability of U.S. involvement is questionable."

The report from the Foreign Operations and Government Information subcommittee says black market activities continue in Saigon, though on a lesser scale than previously, and excessive quantities of some products are flooding Vietnam.

"The reponsible U.S. officials are as much at fault as the government of Vietnam," said the report, released Sunday as a followup to a 1966 subcommittee study.

Unless the South Vietnamese government takes corrective actions, the report concludes, "the prospects of success are minimal and the advisability of U.S. involvement is questionable and could lead to a reassessment of the U.S. position."

The report asked Secretary of State Dean Rusk to "direct the U.S. ambassador in Vietnam to inform the government of Vietnam in no uncertain terms of the necessity for its cooperation and commitment.

"The U.S. Congress and the American taxpayer expect considerably more than has been demonstrated by the government of Vietnam in the past."

But it said "The United States has consistently failed to take a firm stand in its dealings with the government of Vietnam."

If recommendations are ignored, it said, Congress could take "the more drastic measure of cutting appropriations."

The report said it is still possible "to obtain PX liquor at bars in downtown Saigon and to purchase PX goods at street stands in the city." But it noted increased security at the U.S. military post exchanges, or PXs, and said: "It seems unlikely the black markets will ever be eliminated completely." Up to 40 per cent of civilian U.S. goods shipped to Vietnam went into the black market in 1966, estimates the report. It gives no figure for this year's rate but says: "All the evidence provided the committee tends to indicate that the scope of this activity is reduced."

Odd Facts

Manslaughter is the unlawful killing of another without malice, expressed or implied. It is the absence of malice which distinguishes this crime from murder.

who saw the multicolored chutes descend through overcast skies into the lake Sunday at 4:30 p.m., said chances that the 14 missing jumpers survived the night in the 72-degree water were 'slim."

Exactly how the 18 Ohio parachute enthusiasts — most of whom had more than 100 jumps to their credit — missed their target by 10 miles was unknown.

"As far as I knew, I was right where I was supposed to be," the pilot, Robert Karns of Vermilion, told Ohio Highway Patrolman John Shimp.

Shimp quoted Karns as saying he was flying by a radar fix furnished him by the Federal Aviation Agency tower at Hopkins International Airport in Cleveland and a Loran Station at Amherst.

The drivers were unprepared for the landing in water. None had floating equipment, the two survivors said. Each carried about 50 pounds of equipment.

Patricia C. Lownsbury of Akron — who had celebrated her wedding on June 28, 1964, by sky diving with her husband— was found dead in the water.

"She loved sky diving," said her husband, Alvin, as he waited on the dock as the Coast Guard returned her body ashore Sunday night.

Lownsbury, an iron worker, had made the wedding sky dive with his bride. He quit jumping earlier this year after suffering his fourth broken leg.

The other known drowning victim was Dorsie Kitchen Jr., 33, also of Akron.

One of the missing, Michael Thiem of Springfield, had told friends before the jump that he didn't like the idea of going. It was too close to Lake Erie and he couldn't swim, he told them.

Winds were estimated at 58 miles an hour at 20,000 feet up.

Robert Coy of Springfield, one of the survivors, said, "I was shocked and flabbergasted to see that I was over the lake. We assumed we were over the field."

"As soon as I broke out of the clouds, I knew something was wrong" Coy added. "All I saw was water." Coy had made 262 previous jumps.

"The waves were over my head and water was swishing into my mouth," he added. Coy said he stayed afloat by making an air pocket within his crash helmet.

Twenty-three persons had been scheduled for the flight, but only 20 made it. The patrol said the jump was attended by parachutists from various parts of Ohio, and not sponsored by any one group.

Names Of Sky Divers In Lake Jump Listed

HURON, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Highway Patrol released the following tentative list of parachutists, all from Ohio, who sky dived into Lake Erie by accidest Sunday:

Known dead:

Dorsie Kitchen Jr., 33, Akron.

Mrs. Patricia Lownsbury, Akron.

Rescued safely:

Robert Coy, 29, Springfield.

Bernard Johnson, 30, West Richfield

Landed safely:

Allen Homestead, Oberlin.

Larry Hartman, Fairview Park.

William J. Onysko, Cleveland.

Don Akers, Medina.

Dick Patfield, Cleveland.

Dave Sheehan, Medina.

Norman Allard, Ashtabula.

Jerry Freeman, Akron.

Lyle Bover, Rocky River.

James Dryer, Cleveland.

Ralph Hazelton, Fairview Park.

Michael Thiem, Springfield.

Joe Malarik, Newbury.

James Simmons, Warren.

Stanley Beck, Strongsville.

Three persons who signed the manifest for the trip did not catch the plane, police said. They were identified as Mickey Seaver, Paul Ritchev and Edward Schmidt. Addresses of the three were unknown.

Forfeits In Fight

LISBON — Lloyd A. Grate, 19, of Columbiana RD 1, charged with disturbing the peace by fighting a County Fair concessionnaire at 1:15 a. m. today on Lee Ave. at the fairgrounds, forfeited a $25 appearance bond today in mayor's court.

British Columbia has an area of 366,255 square miles—greater than the combined areas of California, Ohio, Oregon and Washington.

Thank You...

Our thanks to the workers, the committees, exhibitors, newspapers, radio station, and to THE GENERAL PUBLIC, for their cooperation and support in making the 21st Annual Fair such a tremendous success.

Our Sincere Thanks to Each and Every One.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: When you are making French toast, cut the bread in quarters before dipping it into the egg mixture. The quarters are much easier to turn, and there isn't any sticking.

MARANELL KEMP.

You're right, Maranell. When I tried it, I also found that if you cut the slices into triangles or squares, they even fry differently and lend variety to the breakfast.

Moreover, you can get more pieces in the skillet at the same time, and it's easier to eat.

And don't forget that French toast can also be varied by what you put on top of it — syrup, honey, jelly or jams, powdered sugar, granulated sugar, and even cinnamon sugar.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: How do YOU mend a tear in a brand new screen door?

Works fine.

MRS. MacDONALD.

Now that's one for the books! I would never have thought of it.

We like you!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When using instant tea to make a cold drink, try pouring a little hot water on the tea powder and sugar. Stir and let stand a little while, then fill with cold water.

It gives a better flavor.

A READER.

DEAR HELOISE: When I purchase a plastic checked tablecloth for the kitchen dinette, I get a larger size than necessary and clip off the excess to use for window ruffles.

It makes a very nice ensemble.

BONNIE C. WHITE.

DEAR HELOISE: When our five children were growing up I needed everyone's cooperation to keep the house in order. Like most children, they would leave their personal clothes and things lying about the house — anywhere but in the proper place.

However, when they were old enough to get an allowance, I figured they were old enough to pick up their own things. I put a carton in my closet, and any personal things of the children that I found lying around out of place, I put in the carton.

From then on, I made the children pay a fee of so much per article to reclaim their things.

I assure you, my system quickly cured the worst violator, and saved me many a step.

R.J.M.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a good one.

I find that an empty roll-on deodorant bottle makes a remarkably efficient dispenser for glue or muscilage.

Simply pry off the plastic ball top for easy access, fill the bittle with glue, and replace the ball. Keeping the cap screwed on tightly after each use to be sure the glue does not dry out and render the rolling ball inoperative.

A "roll-on" spreads just enough glue to do a perfect job, and we all know how glue travels!

New York Area Struck By Heavy Rain, Flooding

By The Associated Press

A heavy downpour Sunday, accompanied by fog, thunder and lightning caused widespread flooding, disrupted train and subway service, stalled auto traffic, and knocked out electric power in some New York metropolitan area communities.

The storm, blinding in intensity at times, caused at least two persons to die when a plane crashed into a 500-foot Bronx radio tower and cut off AM transmission by radio statioss WNBC and WCBS. The stations obtained emergency service for regular broadcast today.

A total of 2.12 inches of rain fell on the city and outlying areas during the day, contributing to the wettest summer since 1938. The city water supply now stands at 95 per cent. Two years ago, during the Northeast drought, it was 43 per cent of capacity.

Proxmire Urges Spending Cut Not 10% Surcharge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire, chairman of the Joint Senate- House Economic Committee, called today for a $9 billion spending cut in place of President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent surcharge on income taxes.

But, the Wisconsin Democrat said, no spending reduction would be possible without Johnson's concurrence.

"It is difficult or impossible for any congressional coalition to resist the great pressures for spending unless the President leads the way," Proxmire said.

He said big cuts could be made in the public works and space programs and more money could be saved by the withdrawal of four of the six U.S. divisions from Europe. He called for at least a one year postponement, in spending on the multi-billion-dollar supersonic air transport development program.

Proxmire made his proposal in a speech prepared for Senate delivery.

You can make delicious croutons to add to a toasted green salad by frying the cut-up bread in olive oil; use a tablespoon of oil for each slice of bread. Cut the bread into neat small squares.

Twins Beat Indians 6-3, Take Over Top Spot In AL

Hitless Run Wins For White Sox

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Stanky's patience paid off in a run without a hit that gave the White Sox a 1-0 11-inning victory and a split of a Sunday double-header with Boston.

The Red Sox took the opener 4-3 with Carl Yastrzemski slamming his 33rd and 34th homeruns of the season. The split, combined with Minnesota's 6-3 victory over Cleveland, moved the Twins into first place, one percentage point in front of Boston. Chicago is third, one game back and Detroit, which lost 2-1 to Kansas City, is fourth, 1½ behind.

The White Sox, whose team batting average is hovering around .230—ninth best in the American League—had managed just four hits against Jose Santiago and Darrell Brandon in the nightcap. In the 11th inning, Stanky decided to stop swinging and start waiting.

The tall reliever walked Duane Josephson opening the 11th. Ron Hansen sacrificed and Brandon then purposely walked pinch hitter Smoky Burgess, who was swinging for winner Gary Peters.

Joel Horlen ran for Burgess and Brandon wild pitched the runners to second and third. He bore down and got Ken Boyer on a bouncer, retiring Josephson along the third base line. Horlen reached third and Boyer first on the play.

Don Buford walked, loading the bases and then pinch hitter Rocky Colavito waited out Brandon's fourth pass of the inning, forcing Horlen across.

Elsewhere in the American League, New York belted Washington 8-2 and California's doubleheader at Baltimore was postponed by rain. In the National League, St. Louis whipped Los Angeles 6-2, Cincinnati outslugged Houston 11-8, San Francisco split with Atlanta, winning 2-0 and then losing 4-1, Chicago topped New York 3-1 in a game ended by rain after seven innings and Philadelphia blanked Pittsburgh 2-0 in a 4½ inning rain-shortened game.

Joe Azcue, who was robbed of a homer in the second when Ted Uhlaender made a spectacular catch in center field, tagged a two-run shot in the ninth for Cleveland.

Merritt struck out eight and ran his record to 10-4.

Ramon Webster hammered a two-run homer and Roberto Rodriguez and Paul Lindblad combined for a five-hitter as Kansas City trimmed Detroit.

Tom Tresh drove in four runs with a double and a sacrifice fly and Ruben Amaro ripped a three-run homer as the Yankees dropped the Senators. Frank Howard homered for Washington.

Wheeling, Charleston Lose CFL Openers

By The Associated Press

If things seem familiar in the Continental Football League after season-opening games, it's because they are, what with Orlando and Charleston in another grudge fight.

Orlando's Panthers went one up with a 13-10 trimming of the Rockets before 9,336 fans in Charleston Saturday night. Bill Tobin's 12-yard field goal in the last eight minutes decided the issue.

In other games Saturday night, the Hartford Charter Oaks pushed two touchdowns across in the fourth quarter to whip the Wheeling Ironmen 30-17 while Toronto poured it on the Akron Vulcans 22-7. Sunday afternoon at Montreal, a high scoring affair ended with Norfolk ahead 48-26 over the Montreal Beavers.

There has been little love between Orlando and Charleston since Perry Moss left the West Virginia hills and took command of the Panthers. Charleston took an exhibition decision a couple of weeks ago but the Panthers made up for it Saturday night.

Orlando led 13-7 at the half on Tobin's 24-yard field goal and quarterback Don Jonas' one-yard run. Charleston came back with a 27-yard scoring toss from Ron Miller to Jim Moss in the second period and tied it on Jamie Caleb's 46-yard field goal in the third.

Wheeling had a 17-16 edge early in the fourth quarter before Hartford lighted its fireworks. John Torok whipped a 42-yard scoring toss to Tom Krzemienski for the go-ahead tally and Tom Watson frosted the cake with a 52-yard pass interception for a touchdown in the final two minutes. Wheeling's biggest play was Ed Chlebek's 55-yard touchdown pass to Curt Lucas.

Akron, disturbed by coaching changes just before the season opened, wilted before Toronto's Rifles in the last half. The score was 10-10 at the half but Clem Turner's 30-yard filed goal sent the Rifles in front to stay and they added two touchdowns in the fourth on Bob Blakeley's six-yard run and Turner's one yard plunge.

The Norfolk Neptunes quarterback Junior Edge outpassed Montreal counterpart Dunn Marteen. Edge flooded the air, hitting the skyways almost every other down. Four of the Neptunes six touchdowns came via his sure aerials.

Leetonia Hopeful Of Breaking Even

The Bears were 3-7 last year, but Hartzell says "We could break even with a few breaks". He decries a lack of experience, as many of his lettermen saw action only on kickoff teams last year. He expects to play some sophomores.

Fullback Dan Bell, a two-year letterman, should be the bellweather of the backfield, but the quarterback will lack experience. Ed Casey and Jim DeJane are the candidates for the signal - calling position.

There is more experience in the line. Pat Mango and Eugene Altomare are veteran ends, with Angelo Nicotera and Tim Trombites expected to see plenty of action. Orin Morris and Galen Zimmerman, both lettermen, plus two - year letterman Dave Coleman, provide experience at tackle. Guards are slated to be lettermen John Davis and Fred Bruderly and letterman Jerry Less is fighting Terry Kornbau for the center slot.

Hartzell tabs Columbiana, Minerva, Beaver Local and East Canton as Leetonia's toughest foes. The complete schedule:

Westchester 2nd Round Postponed Third Time

Three days of rain have turned the Westchester Classic, a $250,000 affair, from the world's richest golf tournament into a sodden disappointment.

For three days tournament officials have tried to get in the second round. And for three days heavy, soaking rains have turned the lush links of the ultra-plush Westchester Country Club into a quagmire.

Players and officials are bitterly disappointed. And the comments have reached the caustic stage.

At an interview on the edge of the indoor pool, Lee Trevino looked up when someone splashed into the water.

"Someone going after his ball," said the young, El Paso, Tex., pro, one of the chief victims of Sunday's rain-out. He was one of 83 who had finished their rounds when rains and lightning wiped it all out.

Trevino was in with a five-under-par 67 and a 135 for two rounds over the 6,573 yard, par 72 layout. He was tied for second with Gary Pittman, a one-time assistant pro at the club, who had a brilliant 65.

They were two strokes back of Mason Rudolph, the pudgy veteran from Clarksville, Tenn., who had a 67 for 133. All, of course, are wiped out.

Now it all reverts to Thursday's first round results, with Rudolph, Gary Player and Jim Colbert tied for the lead at 66, followed by Jack Nicklaus, John Schlee and Bob Charles at 67.

The schedule now has 18-hole rounds set for today, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Raiders Hope For Title Behind Daryle Lamonica

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP) — In the first seven years of American Football League existence, the Oakland Raiders had such quarterbacks as Hunter Enis, Nick Papac and Chon Gallegos. None of them ever led the Raiders to the Western Division title.

The Raiders also had Babe Parilli, Cotton Davidson and Tom Flores, but none of them fired Oakland to the top either.

Now the Raiders have Daryle Lamonica, and they're eager to learn whether he can bring a change in their fortunes.

"Lamonica has worlds of promise, but it is very difficult for any quarterback to step into a new offense and become an immediate success," Coach John Rauch commented.

The key to Oakland's season, however, seems to be just how fast Lamonica can adjust to the Raiders' way of things.

The 26-year-old quarterback came to Oakland in one of the biggest trades of the off-season. The Raiders gave up Flores, receiver Art Powell and one draft choice for Lamonica, receiver Glenn Bass and two draft choices.

In his four years with the Bills, the former Notre Dame star played behind Jack Kemp, but at various times he came off the bench and got Buffalo moving.

He may have to move the Raiders pretty far if they are to catch defending champion Kansas City, but such an occurrence is not inconceivable.

To go with their potentially good passing attack, the Raiders have one of the top running duos in the league, all-star Clem Daniels and Hewritt Dixon.

Daniels ran for 801 yards last year and gained 652 more on 40 pass receptions. Dixon, making a switch from tight end to fullback, got going in the latter part of the season and averaged 4.1 yards per carry.

Bass probably will be the fourth man in the backfield at flanker, but Fred Biletnikoff also has a chance to be there.

Two-way battles are going on for the other two receiving spots —Bill Miller and Lionel Taylor at split end and Tom Mitchell and Billy Cannon at tight end.

Mitchell and Cannon shared tight end time last season with Mitchell catching 23 passes to 14 for Cannon. But Mitchell averaged only 13 yards per catch while Cannon had an astronomical gain of 31 yards per reception.

Defensively, the Raiders are set on the line with Ike Lassiter and Ben Davidson at ends and Dan Birdwell and Tom Keating the tackles.

Dan Conners and Gus Otto will be at two of the linebacking spots, but the third is between Bill Laskey and Bob Williamson.

The secondary probably is Oakland's strongest defensive point, particularly with cornermen Kent McCloughan and Dave Grayson and safety Rodger Bird. Dainard Paulson, an acquisition from the New York Jets, most likely will be the other safety.

Coach Rauch believes his team has a good chance for its first title, but he knows all too well that the Chiefs are still in the league.

"They're the champs, and it'll take some real good football to beat them," he said.

The Pirates' record in no-hit games since 1892 is 3-6. They have not been involved in a no-hit game since Harvey Haddix pitched 12 perfect innings in Milwaukee in 1959 and there has never been a no-hit game pitched in Forbes Field in 58 years.

Giant's McCormick Wins 18th

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

McCormick became the National League's first 18-game winner Sunday, scattering five hits as San Francisco blanked Atlanta 2-0 in the opener of a doubleheader.

The Braves then bounced back to take the nightcap 4-1 behind Ed Rakow, Ramon Hernandez and Phil Niekro, who teamed up for a masterful two-hitter.

The shutout victory was the second in a row for McCormick, 18-6, who blanked league-leading St. Louis 6-0 last Wednesday and has pitched 24 consecutive scoreless innings.

"I never worry about how tough the teams are I face," said the veteran left-hander, reacquired by the Giants in a trade with the Washington Senators last winter. "I just worry about one batter at a time."

Rakow, unbeaten in three decisions since the Braves rescued him from the minors last month, was clipped for two hits and a run in the first inning of the nightcap. He then pitched five hitless innings, walked two Giants with one out in the seventh and was replaced by Hernandez.

Hernandez threw an inning-ending double play pitch and gave way to knuckleballer Niekro, who completed the two-hitter by retiring all six batters he faced.

The Cardinals whipped Los Angeles 6-2; Cincinnati outslugged Houston 11-8; Philadelphia blanked Pittsburgh 2-0 in a rain-shortened 4½ inning game and the Chicago Cubs topped the New York Mets 3-1 in seven innings before rain halted play and washed out their doubleheader nightcap.

Run-scoring singles by Ollie Brown and Hal Lanier in the sixth inning provided the Giants' margin against loser Clay Carroll.

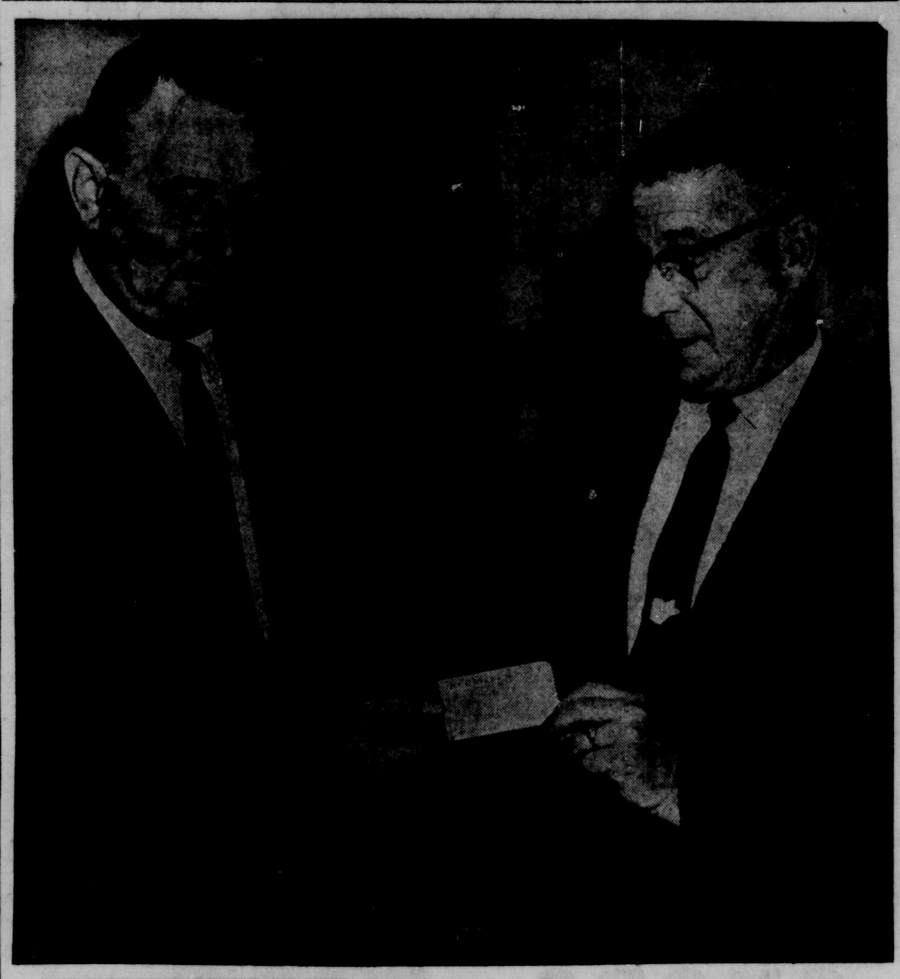
Clete Boyer's 22nd homer in the fourth inning of the nightcap ended a scoreless string of 25 innings for the Braves and Hank Aaron knocked in the deciding run with a fifth inning single.

Julian Javier tripled one run home and scored another as the Cardinals exploded for five runs in the third inning and subdued the Dodgers. Winning pitcher Nelson Briles triggered the big inning with a single, but needed relief help from Joe Hoerner in the ninth.

Pete Rose, who homered, and Tommy Harper each drove in three runs as the Reds built an 11-4 lead at Houston, then weathered the Astros' four-run ninth inning rally. Vada Pinson lashed a triple and two singles in the Reds' 14-hit assault.

Larry Jackson stopped Pittsburgh on four hits and Tony Taylor drilled a two-run triple for the Phillies, who have won seven in a row, before the rains came.

Randy Hundley, whose second inning homer lifted the Cubs into a 1-1 tie, singled to touch off a two-run burst in the seventh and Rick Nye pitched a five-hitter as the Mets went down to their eighth straight setback.



MEMBERSHIP DRIVE BEGINS. Herman (Bud) Steffen, president of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club, sells the first 1967-68 membership to Mayor George Willshaw. The Nonpareil Club will launch a membership drive this week beginning with a house-to-house campaign Tuesday. The club's goal is 800 members. Joe Anderson, Tom Sullivan and Terry Fullerton are co-chairmen of the drive.

Broncos Win Behind Tensi; Rams Smother Chargers

By The Associated Press

Steve Tensi, late of the San Diego Chargers, continues to take the surprising Denver Broncos to American Football League respectability. John Hadl, the present San Diego quarterback, continues to take his lumps.

Tensi, traded to the Broncos before their victory last week over Minnesota, brought Denver from behind to beat Oakland 21-17 in North Platte, Neb., of all places, while Hadl was given rude treatment by the Los Angeles Rams, who crushed the Chargers 50-7 in San Diego.

The Rams of the National Football League intercepted two of Hadl's first-quarter passes and turned them into touchdowns, then forced him to fumble and scored again. By halftime, the Rams led 43-0, causing some caustic appraisal from Charger partisans.

"The worst I've ever seen a pro team play," said Eugene Klein, part owner of the club. "I just don't know. It's unbelievable." The San Diego exhibition record is now 1-3.

Tensi, in the meantime, heaved a 39-yard pass to Neal Sweeney, setting up Denver's first touchdown the first time the Broncos got the football.

Then, in the fourth quarter, after Oakland fought back to a 17-14 edge, Tensi's 42-yard pass to Eric Crabtree put Denver in position for the go-ahead touchdown.

In the only other exhibition game Sunday, New York beat Minnesota 21-3 in an NFL game.

On Saturday, Washington of the NFL beat the AFL's Boston 13-7, Pittsburgh took St. Louis 24-13 in the NFL, New York downed Houston 13-7 in the AFL, Baltimore knocked off Detroit 14-5 and New Orleans took San Francisco 24-10, both in the NFL.

Green Bay and Dallas of the NFL meet in a televised contest tonight.

Midland Season Grid Tickets Go On Sale

Reserve season books for 1967 Midland football games are on sale now, Vic Martinetti, Lincoln High School athletic director, has announced. The books sell for $5 for five games and may be ordered at Katich's Confectionery on Midland Ave. Martinetti asked that checks or money orders be made payable to the Midland High School Athletic Department.

Allie Rice Birds Finish Race 1-2

Birds from the loft of Allie Rice finished 1-2 in the second young bird race of the season from Coshocton, Ohio, held yesterday by the East Liverpool Homing Pigeon Club.

The third place finisher belonged to M. Flora, while the numbers four, five and six slots were captured by entries of Harold Gatrell.

There were 360 birds entered in yesterday's race. Next week the race will be from Newark, Ohio, and on Labor Day the club will sponsor a race from Xenia, with other clubs in the area participating.

Earl Gros Out After Surgery

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Fullback Earl Gros of the Pittsburgh Steelers is expected to be out of action for about six weeks following surgery today for removal of knee cartilage.

The National Football League Club said he would miss two or three regular season games. He entered Divine Providence Hospital Sunday.

Bazylak Looks Top Pitt QB

The senior signal-caller connected on three touchdown passes Saturday in Pitt's first intrasquad scrimmage. He struck on plays of 13, 70 and five yards.

Sophomore Jeff Barr uncorked another touchdown pass. Frank Gustine Jr. ran the offense for a few plays.

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: When you are making French toast, cut the bread in quarters before dipping it into the egg mixture. The quarters are much easier to turn, and there isn't any sticking.

MARANELL KEMP.

You're right, Maranell. When I tried it, I also found that if you cut the slices into triangles or squares, they even fry differently and lend variety to the breakfast.

Moreover, you can get more pieces in the skillet at the same time, and it's easier to eat.

And don't forget that French toast can also be varied by what you put on top of it — syrup, honey, jelly or jams, powdered sugar, granulated sugar, and even cinnamon sugar.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: How do YOU mend a tear in a brand new screen door?

I used lightweight nylon fishing line and made a neat, unobtrusive darn.

Works fine.

MRS. MacDONALD.

Now that's one for the books! I would never have thought of it.

We like you!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When using instant tea to make a cold drink, try pouring a little hot water on the tea powder and sugar. Stir and let stand a little while, then fill with cold water.

It gives a better flavor.

A READER.

DEAR HELOISE: When I purchase a plastic checked tablecloth for the kitchen dinette, I get a larger size than necessary and clip off the excess to use for window ruffles.

It makes a very nice ensemble.

BONNIE C. WHITE.

DEAR HELOISE: When our five children were growing up I needed everyone's cooperation to keep the house in order. Like most children, they would leave their personal clothes and things lying about the house — anywhere but in the proper place.

However, when they were old enough to get an allowance, I figured they were old enough to pick up their own things. I put a carton in my closet, and any personal things of the children that I found lying around out of place, I put in the carton.

From then on, I made the children pay a fee of so much per article to reclaim their things.

I assure you, my system quickly cured the worst violator, and saved me many a step.

R.J.M.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a good one.

I find that an empty roll-on deodorant bottle makes a remarkably efficient dispenser for glue or muscilage.

Simply pry off the plastic ball top for easy access, fill the bittle with glue, and replace the ball. Keeping the cap screwed on tightly after each use to be sure the glue does not dry out and render the rolling ball inoperative.

A "roll-on" spreads just enough glue to do a perfect job, and we all know how glue travels!

New York Area Struck By Heavy Rain, Flooding

By The Associated Press

A heavy downpour Sunday, accompanied by fog, thunder and lightning caused widespread flooding, disrupted train and subway service, stalled auto traffic, and knocked out electric power in some New York metropolitan area communities.

The storm, blinding in intensity at times, caused at least two persons to die when a plane crashed into a 500-foot Bronx radio tower and cut off AM transmission by radio statioss WNBC and WCBS. The stations obtained emergency service for regular broadcast today.

A total of 2.12 inches of rain fell on the city and outlying areas during the day, contributing to the wettest summer since 1938. The city water supply now stands at 95 per cent. Two years ago, during the Northeast drought, it was 43 per cent of capacity.

Proxmire Urges Spending Cut Not 10% Surcharge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire, chairman of the Joint Senate- House Economic Committee, called today for a $9 billion spending cut in place of President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent surcharge on income taxes.

But, the Wisconsin Democrat said, no spending reduction would be possible without Johnson's concurrence.

"It is difficult or impossible for any congressional coalition to resist the great pressures for spending unless the President leads the way," Proxmire said.

He said big cuts could be made in the public works and space programs and more money could be saved by the withdrawal of four of the six U.S. divisions from Europe. He called for at least a one year postponement, in spending on the multi-billion-dollar supersonic air transport development program.

Proxmire made his proposal in a speech prepared for Senate delivery.

You can make delicious croutons to add to a toasted green salad by frying the cut-up bread in olive oil; use a tablespoon of oil for each slice of bread. Cut the bread into neat small squares.

Tokyo Team Little League Series Victor

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—A big sign was held high by a naturalized Japanese woman at the Little League world series Saturday. It read: Do good job. Await Heaven's orders."

The West Tokyo, Japan, team apparently got the right orders. It went out and beat North Roseland of Chicago 4-1, and for the first time in the 21-year history of this annual series for 11- and 12-year-olds, the title went winging over the Pacific Ocean.

The Japanese team needed a little more than those orders from above to beat North Roseland's Bob Stratta, the youngster who pitched a no-hit, no-run game earlier in the competition.

Collier Very Unhappy At Browns' 4th Loss

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—"There's no sense in our playing this kind of football," said Coach Blanton Collier Sunday in commenting on his Cleveland Browns' 34-31 exhibition loss to the Atlanta Falcons.

The defeat Friday night was the fourth for the winless Browns, who play the National Football League champion Green Bay Packers next Saturday night in the second game of the annual professional football doubleheader at Cleveland.

"I'm very unhappy and that's putting it mildly," Collier said. "Atlanta wanted to win. We didn't seem to care."

"We played a typical exhibition football game. We didn't have eagnerness, enthusiasm or concentration."

Asked if he was worried about the situation, Collier replied:

"Certainly, I'm concerned. I'm worried about whether these people are ready to play football.

"We had errors of omission and commission. Some were due to the new men and are understandable in a way. Still, that was our fourth game.

In spite of his disappointment, Collier found a few bright spots for the Browns. He said he thought the running game looked good in the third quarter and that he sees potential in Ben Davis, new defensive back from Defiance College.

"Ben continues to improve," said the coach. "He still has much to learn but did pretty well."

Injuries that will put tight end Milt Morin out for at least six weeks and sideline reserve flanker Clifton McNeil for the season are causing Collier and Browns Owner Art Modell to scan the waiver lists. There is a possibility of a trade or two.

Oakland, Baltimore Wait Soccer Playoff

Walt Coleman President Of Area Bowlers

Walter Coleman was named president of the East Liverpool Bowling Association at the annual organizational meeting held at the YMCA Sunday afternoon. Coleman will serve a two-year term succeeding J. Ernest Purton.

Four vice presidents were elected to serve one - year terms. They are Kenneth Smith, first vice president; George La Neve, second vice president; Ernest Purton, third vice president, and Paul Rayl, fourth vice president.

Elected to three-year terms and succeeding themselves were association directors Howard Allison for Terrace Lanes in Chester and Charles Wynn for Headpin Lanes in East Liverpool. Dale Craven was appointed to fill out a two-year term as director for Friendly Lanes in East Liverpool when that vacancy was occasioned by Coleman's election as president.

Continuing in office were J. George Simballa, secretary - treasurer, and directors Charles Rogers of Tri-State Lanes in Calcutta, Dennis Hendricks for Village Lanes in Salineville, and roving director Cy Shaffer.

The association also voted to allow league representatives from leagues at Tri-State Lanes that had to suspend their leagues temporarily because of the fire there a vote in the association deliberations.

The association's next meeting will be Oct. 1st.

OSU Grid Ticket Sales Off Slightly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If you're one of those Ohio State football fans who has trouble getting tickets, this could be your big chance.

"Ticket sales are running a little below last season and we are down about 2,000 season books," Staten reports.

For more than a decade now, tickets to Buckeye grid skirmishes have been harder to come by than a hit Broadway show.

An unattractive schedule, except for Purdue's Oct. 14 visit, seems to be the major reason for the dropoff.

Fight Results

Davis Sets Record

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Dave Davis of Phoenix, Ariz., knocked down more pins in a 40-game tournament than any man in history as he won the Professional Bowlers Association $27,500 Green Bay Open Sunday.

The 6-2, 155 pounder totaled 9,316, breaking the world record of 9,283 held by Billy Hardwick of San Mateo, Calif., set in the 1963 Los Angeles Open.

Splash Mats Prove Useful

Home owners who do a lot of gardening, pot plants, cut flowers and use water or a hose to a great extent, are aware the ground below the hose soon becomes soggy.

There never seems to be a clean hard surface at hand upon which to place a bucket or set a piece of lawn furniture to dry after washing.

A splash mat is a great convenience and so easily made that the outdoor worker usually starts with a small one and ends up with quite an area of pavement.

Virtually all outside hose connections come through the foundation wall of the house or from beneath the porch. There are two ways of making the splash mat.

The first is to cut out the required area, making the sides cut through the turf sharp and neat, and about three or four inches deep. A mixture of one part of portland cement, two parts of sand and three parts of crushed stone or gravel makes the best concrete mix.

An absolute minimum of water should be used in mixing it. The batch is shoveled into the depression and troweled off smooth. No form is required, since the neat edges cut into the ground furnish the form. The concrete should be kept covered and dampened for four days before it is walked on.

The second type of spalsh mat, and probably easier to make than the first one, is provided by simply cutting out the turf the required size and laying common bricks in the depression.

Second-hand bricks are excellent for this purpose. The depression should be two inches deep, so that when a brick is laid flat it will be even with the lawn. The best job of this kind is done when the bottom of the cut-out is raked smooth and tamped down hard before the brick is set in place.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Although an inland city, Chicago is fast becoming a major world shipping center. Linked to the ocean by both the Mississippi River system and the Great Lakes - St. Lawrence Seaway, more than 50 scheduled ship lines sail to 66 countries from Chicago.

The amount of solar energy streaming toward the earth from the sun in only one day equals the energy that could be produced by burning 550 billion tons of coal. This is as much coal as would be dug in the U. S. in a thousand years at the present rate of mining. Enough solar energy falls on the U. S. every 20 minutes to fill the nation's entire power needs for one year.

Steel Prices Continue 'Up'

CLEVELAND (AP) — Steel prices reflect returning bullishness in the market and the upward movement of prices is likely to continue until inflational influences lose their force, Steel Magazine said today.

Last week's $4 a ton hike on carbon and high strength plates and an $8 a ton increase on alloy material followed quickly upon upward adjustments in extras on bar and blooming mill products, the weekly journal of metalworking noted.

Extras for processing services on carbon and alloy bars were increased earlier in August and there was a boost in tin mill product prices to become effective in October, Steel said.

Taxes, raw materials, freight, and employment payrolls all are going up and cutting into profits, increasing pressure for price increases.

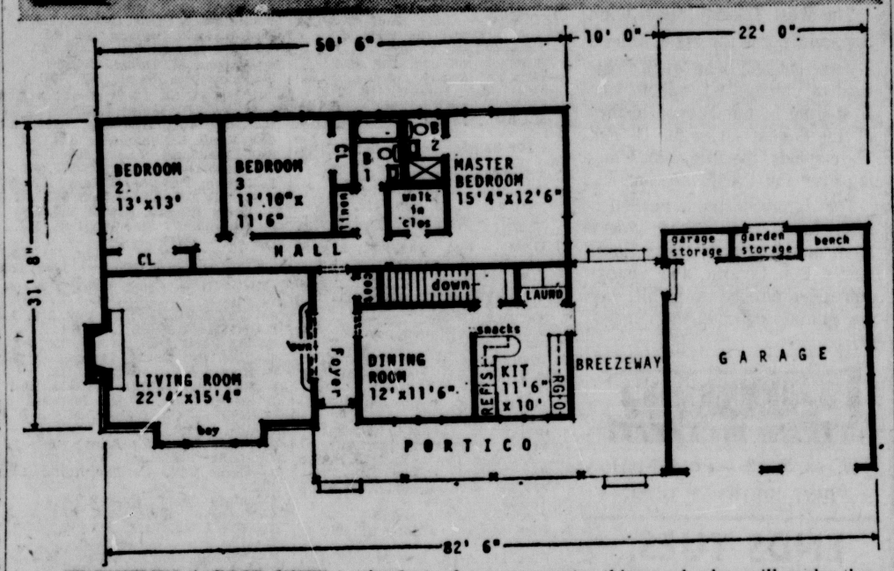
But the industry is moving slowly and cautiously in adjusting prices upward, Steel said. It noted that the hike in base price on plates was the first in four years on that product, and that there have been some minor decreases over the last year, notably in certain wire items.

Consumer inventories remain unbalanced on the low side and have been shrinking steadily with the result that orders are beginning to climb, the magazine said. Bookings for finished steel in August are at least five per cent ahead of July and mill shipments will be up 10-15 per cent, Steel reported.

Last week's production was estimated by Steel at 2,355,000 million tons—highest level since the last week in May and up 1.6 per cent from the previous week.

The magazine's composite price on No. 1 heavy melting grade of steelmaking scrap stayed at $27.17 a gross ton for the fourth consecutive week.

Soccer, or association football, is the original version of football, and ranks as one of the most popular sports in the world. The city of Derby, England, claims credit for its origin in A.D. 217, when the Romans occupied Britain. Soccer is played in almost every country, and is the major sport in most European and South American nations, where games often attract larger crowds than those at football games in the United States.



IF THERE'S A GOOD VIEW to the font of your property, this ranch plan will make the best of it. The bedrooms are at the back and the dropped living room has a lovely bay window overlooking the front. Dining room and kitchen windows are sheltered by the portico but enjoy the front view as well. The attached breezeway and garage add a lot to the long look of the house and a lot to living as well. Plan HA-513S has 1,505 square feet of living area and was designed by Architect Herbert Struppmann, Room 704, 48 W. 48th St., N. Y.

Tip Given On Winning Battle Of Inner Space

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

How many closets in your home? Five? Eight? Twelve?

No matter. Each of them undoubtedly is filled to capacity. If you had less or more, the same would be true. All of us are inclined to use the space that is available — and to get along without that which is not.

One builder says he has stopped adding extra closets to each series of homes he constructs "because no matter how many there are, someone comes along and suggests that one or two more could have been used."

Another residential developer, Roy Server, suggests that at least one closet can be prevented from becoming a catch-all for "junk" by utilizing it for other purposes.

Especially in the case of storage areas that have sliding doors, "a bit of fitting can convert closet space to a variety of alternate uses," Server points out. And the techniques can be helpful to apartment dwellers as well as home owners.

His suggestions:

1. — Remove the sliding doors from a walk - in closet, fit its sides and back with shelving and install a pull - down lamp. Result: a mini library. Shelves may be attached to the walls or constructed from fit - together units of varying sizes. These can be the unfinished type which you can finish yourself.

2. —Substitute a glass door for all or part of a foyer closet and, by inserting shelving, create a display cabinet for decorative pottery, silver pieces or family relics.

3. — Install a pair of three-drawer cabinets in the un-used half of a bedroom closet, top them with a piece of plywood or hardboard and you've created a knee - hole desk. Shelving for the walls and perhaps an additional light fixture complete the setting for a full - fledged office —or at least an adequate space for the letter - writing, bill-paying, vacation - planning tasks that go on in any household. And it may be closed off, with the sliding door, when not in use.

4. — For a swinging door closet, the woman who sews may attach a full-length mirror and install additional shelves to create a dress - making nook. An extra linen closet, for example, would accommodate a cabinet-style sewing machine, with upper shelves reserved for fabric storage, patterns and accessories.

5. — And for the amateur photographer to whom his hobby is more important than eating, an empty pantry may beckon as just the place to work with his enlarger and the developing and printing materials that will make it a darkroom.

Painting Planks? Tips Are Offered

AP Newsfeatures

Question: We have vertical wood planks in our attic. We finished them with varnish before they were installed. That was about two years ago. Because we are now changing the whole motif of the attic to satisfy our teen - age daughter, we want to paint the planks a bright color. Is it necessary to remove all the varnish? We would like to avoid that if possible, since we did it to a table a year ago and found it a messy job.

ANSWER: No, you do not have to remove the varnish. The paint can be applied directly over it. However, certain steps are necessary in order for the paint to adhere properly.

It is likely that the planks have picked up a considerable amount of dust. Wipe them with a clean cloth moistened with denatured alcohol. Change the cloth as soon as it gets dirty so that you don't just spread the dust around from one place to another. When everything is completely dry — which will be quickly, as the alcohol evaporates almost at once—look for shiny areas.

Paint does not grip on glossy surfaces. Wherever you find a shine, sand it lightly with a fine grade of sandpaper or steel wool. Then wipe, again with denatured alcohol, to be sure all pieces of grit are picked up. It is then okay to go ahead with the painting.

The origin of the term "electricity" dates back to ancient times when it was discovered that amber, rubbed with a piece of fur, would attract bits of feathers or wisps of straw — a property we know today as "static electricity." The Greek word for amber is "elektron." And since it was the first substance to show this property of attraction, William Gilbert (1540-1603), physician to Queen Elizabeth, called the property "electricia," and a century later the name was changed to "electricity," as we know it today.

Construction Report Given

NEW YORK (Special)—July construction contract values eased back from the all-time peak reached in June, but still led the year-ago value by 2 per cent, it is reported by the F. W. Dodge Co., authoritative analyst of construction activity.

According to the statistics, July contracts for future construction were valued at $4,879,350,000.

The seasonally - adjusted Dodge Index of total construction contract value slid to 149 in July, down from June's record 164 (1957-59—100).

July's residential building contracts climbed to $1,828,552,000, a 23 per cent gain over last year's depressed levels. Apartment contract values were up 51 per cent during the month, while contracts for one-family housing were 17 per cent higher than the year-ago month.

"Although the current housing values show large year-to-year gains, the seasonally-adjusted rate of residential contracting slipped a bit from the previous month during July," noted George A. Christie, chief economist for the company.

"Much of the anticipated strong response by the housing market to the renewed flow of mortgage money already has been felt," Christie said, explaining that "by June, the rates of contract value for both single - family homes and apartments were back within 10 per cent of the levels attained just before last year's credit squeeze.

"There's still room for further housing expansion," the Dodge economist said, "but the pace is bound to be a bit slower over the months ahead."

At the end of seven months, total residential contract value was still 9 per cent behind the comparable year-ago amount, but the gap was closing fast.

With three key non - residential building categories showing modest declines in July, total contract value for this group fell 4 per cent below its year-ago amount to $1,748,726,000.

July contracts for new commercial buildings (stores, offices, etc.) were 8 per cent below their year-ago value, while contracts for manufacturing buildings fell 6 per cent. Educational contracts also were down moderately.

Increases in non-residential building contract value were limited to public buildings, hospitals and religious buildings during July. Through seven months, the 1967 total for non-residential building value was $11,658,549,000, about even with last year.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I remove heat marks from table tops?

A. — Rub them with a hard paraffin wax candle, then cover with blotting paper, and press with a warm iron. Repeat, if necessary. Afterward, rub well with a soft cloth to restore the finish.

Q. — What is a good tip for keeping my silverware bright?

A. — Try adding a little milk to the water in which it is washed.

Q. — How can I prevent sausages from losing their shape when frying?

A. — Place them in a pan of cold water, and bring to a boil before frying.

Hitless Run Wins For White Sox

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Stanky's patience paid off in a run without a hit that gave the White Sox a 1-0 11-inning victory and a split of a Sunday double-header with Boston.

The Red Sox took the opener 4-3 with Carl Yastrzemski slamming his 33rd and 34th homeruns of the season. The split, combined with Minnesota's 6-3 victory over Cleveland, moved the Twins into first place, one percentage point in front of Boston. Chicago is third, one game back and Detroit, which lost 2-1 to Kansas City, is fourth, 1½ behind.

The White Sox, whose team batting average is hovering around .230—ninth best in the American League—had managed just four hits against Jose Santiago and Darrell Brandon in the nightcap. In the 11th inning, Stanky decided to stop swinging and start waiting.

The tall reliever walked Duane Josephson opening the 11th. Ron Hansen sacrificed and Brandon then purposely walked pinch hitter Smoky Burgess, who was swinging for winner Gary Peters.

Joel Horlen ran for Burgess and Brandon wild pitched the runners to second and third. He bore down and got Ken Boyer on a bouncer, retiring Josephson along the third base line. Horlen reached third and Boyer first on the play.

Don Buford walked, loading the bases and then pinch hitter Rocky Colavito waited out Brandon's fourth pass of the inning, forcing Horlen across.

Elsewhere in the American League, New York belted Washington 8-2 and California's doubleheader at Baltimore was postponed by rain. In the National League, St. Louis whipped Los Angeles 6-2, Cincinnati outslugged Houston 11-8, San Francisco split with Atlanta, winning 2-0 and then losing 4-1, Chicago topped New York 3-1 in a game ended by rain after seven innings and Philadelphia blanked Pittsburgh 2-0 in a 4½ inning rain-shortened game.

Joe Azcue, who was robbed of a homer in the second when Ted Uhlaender made a spectacular catch in center field, tagged a two-run shot in the ninth for Cleveland.

Merritt struck out eight and ran his record to 10-4.

Ramon Webster hammered a two-run homer and Roberto Rodriguez and Paul Lindblad combined for a five-hitter as Kansas City trimmed Detroit.

Tom Tresh drove in four runs with a double and a sacrifice fly and Ruben Amaro ripped a three-run homer as the Yankees dropped the Senators. Frank Howard homered for Washington.

Wheeling, Charleston Lose CFL Openers

By The Associated Press

If things seem familiar in the Continental Football League after season-opening games, it's because they are, what with Orlando and Charleston in another grudge fight.

Orlando's Panthers went one up with a 13-10 trimming of the Rockets before 9,336 fans in Charleston Saturday night. Bill Tobin's 12-yard field goal in the last eight minutes decided the issue.

In other games Saturday night, the Hartford Charter Oaks pushed two touchdowns across in the fourth quarter to whip the Wheeling Ironmen 30-17 while Toronto poured it on the Akron Vulcans 22-7. Sunday afternoon at Montreal, a high scoring affair ended with Norfolk ahead 48-26 over the Montreal Beavers.

There has been little love between Orlando and Charleston since Perry Moss left the West Virginia hills and took command of the Panthers. Charleston took an exhibition decision a couple of weeks ago but the Panthers made up for it Saturday night.

Orlando led 13-7 at the half on Tobin's 24-yard field goal and quarterback Don Jonas' one-yard run. Charleston came back with a 27-yard scoring toss from Ron Miller to Jim Moss in the second period and tied it on Jamie Caleb's 46-yard field goal in the third.

Wheeling had a 17-16 edge early in the fourth quarter before Hartford lighted its fireworks. John Torok whipped a 42-yard scoring toss to Tom Krzemienski for the go-ahead tally and Tom Watson frosted the cake with a 52-yard pass interception for a touchdown in the final two minutes. Wheeling's biggest play was Ed Chlebek's 55-yard touchdown pass to Curt Lucas.

Akron, disturbed by coaching changes just before the season opened, wilted before Toronto's Rifles in the last half. The score was 10-10 at the half but Clem Turner's 30-yard filed goal sent the Rifles in front to stay and they added two touchdowns in the fourth on Bob Blakeley's six-yard run and Turner's one yard plunge.

The Norfolk Neptunes quarterback Junior Edge outpassed Montreal counterpart Dunn Marteen. Edge flooded the air, hitting the skyways almost every other down. Four of the Neptunes six touchdowns came via his sure aerials.

Leetonia Hopeful Of Breaking Even

The Bears were 3-7 last year, but Hartzell says "We could break even with a few breaks". He decries a lack of experience, as many of his lettermen saw action only on kickoff teams last year. He expects to play some sophomores.

Fullback Dan Bell, a two-year letterman, should be the bell-weather of the backfield, but the quarterback will lack experience. Ed Casey and Jim DeJane are the candidates for the signal - calling position.

There is more experience in the line. Pat Mango and Eugene Altomare are veteran ends, with Angelo Nicotera and Tim Trombites expected to see plenty of action. Orin Morris and Galen Zimmerman, both lettermen, plus two - year letterman Dave Coleman, provide experience at tackle. Guards are slated to be lettermen John Davis and Fred Bruderly and letterman Jerry Less is fighting Terry Kornbau for the center slot.

Hartzell tabs Columbiana, Minerva, Beaver Local and East Canton as Leetonia's toughest foes. The complete schedule:

Westchester 2nd Round Postponed Third Time

Three days of rain have turned the Westchester Classic, a $250,000 affair, from the world's richest golf tournament into a sodden disappointment.

For three days tournament officials have tried to get in the second round. And for three days heavy, soaking rains have turned the lush links of the ultra-plush Westchester Country Club into a quagmire.

Players and officials are bitterly disappointed. And the comments have reached the caustic stage.

At an interview on the edge of the indoor pool, Lee Trevino looked up when someone splashed into the water.

"Someone going after his ball," said the young, El Paso, Tex., pro, one of the chief victims of Sunday's rain-out. He was one of 83 who had finished their rounds when rains and lightning wiped it all out.

Trevino was in with a five-under-par 67 and a 135 for two rounds over the 6,573 yard, par 72 layout. He was tied for second with Gary Pittman, a one-time assistant pro at the club, who had a brilliant 65.

They were two strokes back of Mason Rudolph, the pudgy veteran from Clarksville, Tenn., who had a 67 for 133. All, of course, are wiped out.

Now it all reverts to Thursday's first round results, with Rudolph, Gary Player and Jim Colbert tied for the lead at 66, followed by Jack Nicklaus, John Schlee and Bob Charles at 67.

The schedule now has 18-hole rounds set for today, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Raiders Hope For Title Behind Daryle Lamonica

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP) — In the first seven years of American Football League existence, the Oakland Raiders had such quarterbacks as Hunter Enis, Nick Papac and Chon Gallegos. None of them ever led the Raiders to the Western Division title.

The Raiders also had Babe Parilli, Cotton Davidson and Tom Flores, but none of them fired Oakland to the top either.

Now the Raiders have Daryle Lamonica, and they're eager to learn whether he can bring a change in their fortunes.

"Lamonica has worlds of promise, but it is very difficult for any quarterback to step into a new offense and become an immediate success," Coach John Rauch commented.

The key to Oakland's season, however, seems to be just how fast Lamonica can adjust to the Raiders' way of things.

The 26-year-old quarterback came to Oakland in one of the biggest trades of the off-season. The Raiders gave up Flores, receiver Art Powell and one draft choice for Lamonica, receiver Glenn Bass and two draft choices.

In his four years with the Bills, the former Notre Dame star played behind Jack Kemp, but at various times he came off the bench and got Buffalo moving.

He may have to move the Raiders pretty far if they are to catch defending champion Kansas City, but such an occurrence is not inconceivable.

To go with their potentially good passing attack, the Raiders have one of the top running duos in the league, all-star Clem Daniels and Hewritt Dixon.

Daniels ran for 801 yards last year and gained 652 more on 40 pass receptions. Dixon, making a switch from tight end to fullback, got going in the latter part of the season and averaged 4.1 yards per carry.

Bass probably will be the fourth man in the backfield at flanker, but Fred Biletnikoff also has a chance to be there.

Two-way battles are going on for the other two receiving spots —Bill Miller and Lionel Taylor at split end and Tom Mitchell and Billy Cannon at tight end.

Mitchell and Cannon shared tight end time last season with Mitchell catching 23 passes to 14 for Cannon. But Mitchell averaged only 13 yards per catch while Cannon had an astronomical gain of 31 yards per reception.

Defensively, the Raiders are set on the line with Ike Lassiter and Ben Davidson at ends and Dan Birdwell and Tom Keating the tackles.

Dan Conners and Gus Otto will be at two of the linebacking spots, but the third is between Bill Laskey and Bob Williamson.

The secondary probably is Oakland's strongest defensive point, particularly with cornermen Kent McCloughan and Dave Grayson and safety Rodger Bird. Dainard Paulson, an acquisition from the New York Jets, most likely will be the other safety.

Coach Rauch believes his team has a good chance for its first title, but he knows all too well that the Chiefs are still in the league.

"They're the champs, and it'll take some real good football to beat them," he said.

The Pirates' record in no-hit games since 1892 is 3-6. They have not been involved in a no-hit game since Harvey Haddix pitched 12 perfect innings in Milwaukee in 1959 and there has never been a no-hit game pitched in Forbes Field in 58 years.

Giant's McCormick Wins 18th

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

McCormick became the National League's first 18-game winner Sunday, scattering five hits as San Francisco blanked Atlanta 2-0 in the opener of a doubleheader.

The Braves then bounced back to take the nightcap 4-1 behind Ed Rakow, Ramon Hernandez and Phil Niekro, who teamed up for a masterful two-hitter.

The shutout victory was the second in a row for McCormick, 18-6, who blanked league-leading St. Louis 6-0 last Wednesday and has pitched 24 consecutive scoreless innings.

"I never worry about how tough the teams are I face," said the veteran left-hander, reacquired by the Giants in a trade with the Washington Senators last winter. "I just worry about one batter at a time."

Rakow, unbeaten in three decisions since the Braves rescued him from the minors last month, was clipped for two hits and a run in the first inning of the nightcap. He then pitched five hitless innings, walked two Giants with one out in the seventh and was replaced by Hernandez.

Hernandez threw an inning-ending double play pitch and gave way to knuckleballer Niekro, who completed the two-hitter by retiring all six batters he faced.

The Cardinals whipped Los Angeles 6-2; Cincinnati outslugged Houston 11-8; Philadelphia blanked Pittsburgh 2-0 in a rain-shortened 4½ inning game and the Chicago Cubs topped the New York Mets 3-1 in seven innings before rain halted play and washed out their doubleheader nightcap.

Run-scoring singles by Ollie Brown and Hal Lanier in the sixth inning provided the Giants' margin against loser Clay Carroll.

Clete Boyer's 22nd homer in the fourth inning of the nightcap ended a scoreless string of 25 innings for the Braves and Hank Aaron knocked in the deciding run with a fifth inning single.

Julian Javier tripled one run home and scored another as the Cardinals exploded for five runs in the third inning and subdued the Dodgers. Winning pitcher Nelson Briles triggered the big inning with a single, but needed relief help from Joe Hoerner in the ninth.

Pete Rose, who homered, and Tommy Harper each drove in three runs as the Reds built an 11-4 lead at Houston, then weathered the Astros' four-run ninth inning rally. Vada Pinson lashed a triple and two singles in the Reds' 14-hit assault.

Larry Jackson stopped Pittsburgh on four hits and Tony Taylor drilled a two-run triple for the Phillies, who have won seven in a row, before the rains came.

Randy Hundley, whose second inning homer lifted the Cubs into a 1-1 tie, singled to touch off a two-run burst in the seventh and Rick Nye pitched a five-hitter as the Mets went down to their eighth straight setback.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE BEGINS. Herman (Bud) Steffen, president of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club, sells the first 1967-68 membership to Mayor George Willshaw. The Nonpareil Club will launch a membership drive this week beginning with a house-to-house campaign Tuesday. The club's goal is 800 members. Joe Anderson, Tom Sullivan and Terry Fullerton are co-chairmen of the drive.

Broncos Win Behind Tensi; Rams Smother Chargers

By The Associated Press

Steve Tensi, late of the San Diego Chargers, continues to take the surprising Denver Broncos to American Football League respectability. John Hadl, the present San Diego quarterback, continues to take his lumps.

Tensi, traded to the Broncos before their victory last week over Minnesota, brought Denver from behind to beat Oakland 21-17 in North Platte, Neb., of all places, while Hadl was given rude treatment by the Los Angeles Rams, who crushed the Chargers 50-7 in San Diego.

The Rams of the National Football League intercepted two of Hadl's first-quarter passes and turned them into touchdowns, then forced him to fumble and scored again. By halftime, the Rams led 43-0, causing some caustic appraisal from Charger partisans.

"The worst I've ever seen a pro team play," said Eugene Klein, part owner of the club. "I just don't know. It's unbelievable." The San Diego exhibition record is now 1-3.

Tensi, in the meantime, heaved a 39-yard pass to Neal Sweeney, setting up Denver's first touchdown the first time the Broncos got the football.

Then, in the fourth quarter, after Oakland fought back to a 17-14 edge, Tensi's 42-yard pass to Eric Crabtree put Denver in position for the go-ahead touchdown.

In the only other exhibition game Sunday, New York beat Minnesota 21-3 in an NFL game.

On Saturday, Washington of the NFL beat the AFL's Boston 13-7, Pittsburgh took St. Louis 24-13 in the NFL, New York downed Houston 13-7 in the AFL, Baltimore knocked off Detroit 14-5 and New Orleans took San Francisco 24-10, both in the NFL.

Green Bay and Dallas of the NFL meet in a televised contest tonight.

Midland Season Grid Tickets Go On Sale

Reserve season books for 1967 Midland football games are on sale now, Vic Martinetti, Lincoln High School athletic director, has announced. The books sell for $5 for five games and may be ordered at Katich's Confectionery on Midland Ave. Martinetti asked that checks or money orders be made payable to the Midland High School Athletic Department.

Allie Rice Birds Finish Race 1-2

Birds from the loft of Allie Rice finished 1-2 in the second young bird race of the season from Coshocton, Ohio, held yesterday by the East Liverpool Homing Pigeon Club.

The third place finisher belonged to M. Flora, while the numbers four, five and six slots were captured by entries of Harold Gatrell.

There were 360 birds entered in yesterday's race. Next week the race will be from Newark, Ohio, and on Labor Day the club will sponsor a race from Xenia, with other clubs in the area participating.

Earl Gros Out After Surgery

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Fullback Earl Gros of the Pittsburgh Steelers is expected to be out of action for about six weeks following surgery today for removal of knee cartilage.

The National Football League Club said he would miss two or three regular season games. He entered Divine Providence Hospital Sunday.

Bazylak Looks Top Pitt QB

The senior signal-caller connected on three touchdown passes Saturday in Pitt's first intrasquad scrimmage. He struck on plays of 13, 70 and five yards.

Asbestos Insulating Wrap Change

Porter Company Places New Product On Market

PITTSBURGH — The first major development for asbestos insulating wrap in more than 25 years has been placed on the market by the Thermoid Division of H. K. Porter Co., Inc.

Company officials term the product and its application "revolutionary from both a use standpoint and impact on present markets."

Designated Custom Lag Rewettable Lagging, RWL-100, it is an asbestos lagging material with an extremely important difference: it has a built-in adhesive that impregnates the asbestos cloth throughout. As a result, this new material needs nothing more than a bucket of water for immediate use.

CONVENTIONAL insulation lagging cloth always has been manufactured as untreated material, making it mandatory to use with a separate supply of adhesive or "gunk."

The division has had the rewettable lagging project under research and development for the last two years, completed final testing in late 1966 and has applied for patents. During the last seven months, the lagging has been thoroughly tested and proven extremely successful in actual use at major shipyards. It is also undergoing extensive evaluation at power plants.

Immediate markets for the rewettable lagging in cloth form are at power plants and shipbuilding operations for piping systems, ducting, and boilers, both for initial application and for repair work on existing lagging. In tape form, the lagging is designed for smaller applications where insulating tape with an adhesive is used, or where tape needs securing.

The rewettable lagging was developed at the Charlotte, N. C., asbestos textiles plant of the Thermoid Division, where all raw material for the adhesive is formulated and mixed. After impregnation, the asbestos cloth goes through a process for dehydration and is supplied in dry form. Addition of water at the job site activates the adhesive.

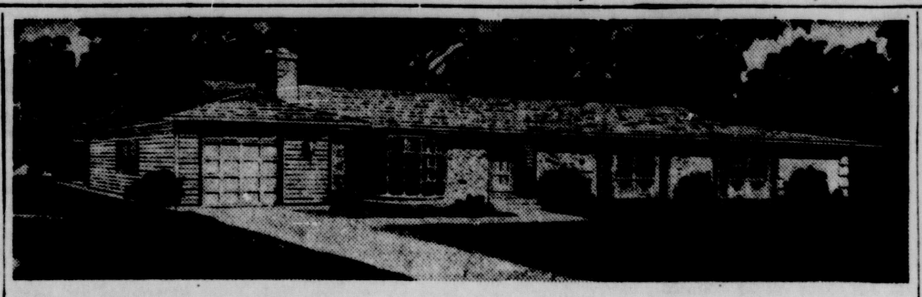
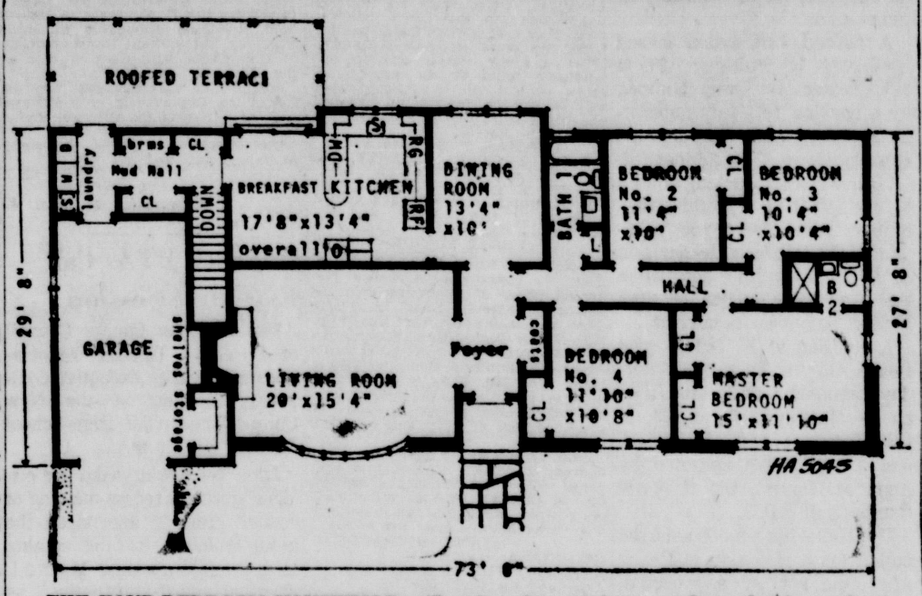
ADHESIVE materials utilized in the lagging are completely inorganic, water dispersible, and also possess positive affinity to asbestos cloth.

The inorganic composition reduces chances of fire to virtually zero, a significant feature for applications where heat poses a hazard.

The U. S. Coast Guard Certificate of Approval for incombustible material was granted in January. The adhesive also has received military specification certification.

From a purely money standpoint, cost of the Thermoid lagging is slightly less than conventional lagging. The comparison is based on total selling price of RWL-100 versus conventional lagging plus the necessary adhesive. Savings extend further when considering factors such as cleanup time and the expense of separate purchase, shipping and stocking of the adhesive. Major labor savings also derive from ease and simplicity of applying the rewettable lagging cloth.





THE FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSEHOLD will enjoy the spacious comfort of this moderate home. A foyer separates the living area and bedrooms. The dining room, kitchen and breakfast room are all in the back. In addition there is a mud hall and laundry behind the garage, with ready access from backyard to kitchen or basement and to and from the garage. A roofed terrace is reached by sliding glass doors in the breakfast room for outdoor entertaining. Plan HA504S has 1,510 square feet. It was designed by Herbert Struppmann. Room 704, 48 W. 48th St., New York, N. Y. 10036.

Government Subsidy To Buy Insurance For Aged Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president of the American Medical Association suggested today that persons over 65 eligible for medicare receive a direct government subsidy to finance their purchase of private health insurance.

Dr. Milford O. Rouse, testifying on the administration's Social Security amendments, told the Senate Finance Committee such a plan would be more practical than the current medicare program involving the government, insurance carriers and physicians.

"Physicians find that government has involved itself in medicine through such regulation as rules on reasonable charges, statistical data requirements and definitions of physicians' services," Rouse said.

"The elderly patient is sometimes dissatisfied because he finds he is getting less than he expected; or experiences delays in being reimbursed: and often doesn't really understand the government- physician-carrier combination that is trying to take care of him," he added.

As a result, Rouse said, the government "finds it necessary" to blame the insurance companies or doctors or both for delays, confusion and higher medical costs.

Under a direct subsidy plan, Rouse said, elderly persons eligible for medicare would have a qualified private insurance program of their choice at no greater expense than under the present program, carriers would have more responsibility for performance and the doctor - patient relationship would not change after the patient reached 65 and becomes eligible for medicare.

Chinese Terrorists Publish Death List

HONG KONG (AP) — Communist Chinese terrorists today published a death list of six prominent anti-Communist Chinese the Reds said would be executed like radio comedian Lam Bun. The list included Paul Tsiu, secretary for Chinese Affairs in the Hong Kong government, two legislative councilors, two newspaper executives and the chairman of a village elders' association.

The death threat, published in an underground Communist terrorist propaganda sheet, said the six would be eliminated like Lam Bun.

The 37-year-old comedian and his brother were turned into human torches last Thursday when terrorists bombed their car, doused them in gasoline, and then set them afire.

The trade winds blow from the southeast and northeast.

Don't Go Off Half-Calked, Home Owners Are Urged

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Any home owner who does not periodically renew the calking around his house is ignoring the least expensive and one of the most effective methods of protecting his home.

Properly applied, calking will keep out cold drafts, moisture and insects. During the winter, it prevents heat loss.

Thanks to pre-filled cartridges and inexpensive guns for application, calking requires little outlay for equipment and material and virtually no skill except the ability to follow instructions and work carefully.

CALKING IS a puttylike material blended of pigments and oils. Even after application it remains elastic for a long time so that it will expand and contract along with the surfaces it adheres to.

Calking will stick to wood, metal and masonry. It is used to seal the joints and cracks in these materials.

It is available in bulk form and in disposable cartridges. Also available are tubes which can be squeezed for application and no gun is needed.

A calking gun that uses bulk compound costs several times more than a cartridge gun. The bulk compound, however, will average less cost per ounce.

But for the average home owner, the cartridge and the inexpensive gun is the best buy. Compound in bulk would probably be more than he could use, and there is the indisputable convenience of preloaded cartridges.

White and gray are the usual colors for calking, although black is available for use inside gutters and around roofs. It gets its color from the asphalt it contains. Unlike the white and gray, black compounds cannot be painted over.

Another advantage of cartridges is that you can change from one color to another without finishing the cartridge you have started.

THE GUN forces the compound out through a narrow nozzle in the right thickness to fill a crack or joint. Steady pressure on the trigger while steadily moving the nozzle along the seam will assure even application.

Calking should be applied to corner joints, window frames, door frames, door sills, cracks in masonry and siding.

It will not adhere to greasy, dirty or damp surfaces. Use a stiff brush to clean away loose dirt. Use a turpentine-soaked rag to wipe greasy surfaces.

Do not apply fresh calking over old. Scrape out the old, dired - out calking before applying the new.

Lay in an even bead of calking and then leave it alone. Do not smooth it out with your finger. Better to leave it convex — it will not crack as soon.

A little practice and you will be able to apply the compound smoothly and neatly. The result will be a weathertight house. If you plan to paint, be sure to calk first.

Today In Washington

Few worshippers noticed their arrival but the word was whispered around.

Other than the trip to church, there was no specific presidential activity announced by the White House, and no word of a birthday celebration.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark reports that convictions of persons involved in organized crime and gambling rose 39 per cent in fiscal 1967—but a Republican group said he was "fighting a war of retreat against organized crime."

Clark said convictions resulting from FBI investigations and Justice Department prosecutions in the organized crime and gambling fields totaled 197 during the year and that as of June 30, another 330 defendants were awaiting trial. He said convictions were based on "sound investigative techniques untainted by improper electronic eavesdropping, which has sometimes hindered successful prosecution in the past."

However, the House Republican Task Force on Crime said: "We view his regulations as inevitably discouraging the use of sound, acceptable and legal investigative techniques in combatting organized crime."

Mobile Unit Reports 1,620 Chest X-Rays

Mechanical trouble prevented the cruiser from opening for the 10 a.m. to noon shift Friday on S. Broadway.

The cruiser's next stop will be Sept. 8-9 at the Columbiana Street Fair.

Personalities In The News

Charlene hitched up the drooping skirt and continued her dance. But it slipped again. The girl borrowed a pin from a Soviet stagehand and restarted her act. This time the skirt stayed up.

The taping session included acts by several of Charlene's classmates from Honolulu's Roosevelt High School. The group, which totals 93, including parents and teachers, has been on the road since Aug. 2.

During intermission, contributions will be collected from the audience and members of the cast, and from actresses who have played Bloody Mary, to aid Miss Hall, who is a patient at the Medical Arts Center.

KABUL, Afghanistan (AP) — Afghan Premier Mohammad Hashim Maiwandwal has successfully undergone an operation for intestinal blockage, it was announced Monday.

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Mohammad Reza Pahlavi, the shah of Iran, after reigning crownless for 26 years, will perform his own coronation on Oct. 26, a government committee announced Sunday.

The shah had postponed the crowning because, he said, "It is not a pride to be a king of a poor and hungry people." He said the success of social reforms changed his mind.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I freshen the atmosphere in a musty-smelling basement?

A.—One effective treatment consists of the spraying of unslaked lime on the basement walls. This has the effect of freshening not only the basement itself, but also the entire house.

Q.—How can I remove rust stains from my kitchen sink?

A.—Pour a few drops of vinegar on the stains, leave there for about 15 minutes, then scour the sink in the usual manner.

THE TRUTH ABOUT BUYING A FURNACE

who is kidding whom about these low, low prices?

Q. How can some dealers offer to sell heating systems at prices below the actual cost of producing a quality furnace in a modern plant?

A. ONE OF THREE WAYS:

No. 1—By using cheap, inferior components that are made to meet a price, rather than serve the homeowners needs.

No. 2—By "bumping" the customer to a much higher priced system with a high pressure sales talk. This is a version of the old shell game.

No. 3—By skimping dangerously in installation procedures, and service after the sale.

GOOD PRACTICES TO FOLLOW IN BUYING HEATING

Look around for a dealer with a good reputation. Refuse to deal with anybody else, no matter how tempting the deal may sound. Invest in a heating system with a brand-name furnace backed by years of honest service to the public.

Tokyo Team Little League Series Victor

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—A big sign was held high by a naturalized Japanese woman at the Little League world series Saturday. It read: Do good job. Await Heaven's orders."

The West Tokyo, Japan, team apparently got the right orders. It went out and beat North Roseland of Chicago 4-1, and for the first time in the 21-year history of this annual series for 11- and 12-year-olds, the title went winging over the Pacific Ocean.

The Japanese team needed a little more than those orders from above to beat North Roseland's Bob Stratta, the youngster who pitched a no-hit, no-run game earlier in the competition.

Collier Very Unhappy At Browns' 4th Loss

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—"There's no sense in our playing this kind of football," said Coach Blanton Collier Sunday in commenting on his Cleveland Browns' 34-31 exhibition loss to the Atlanta Falcons.

The defeat Friday night was the fourth for the winless Browns, who play the National Football League champion Green Bay Packers next Saturday night in the second game of the annual professional football doubleheader at Cleveland.

"I'm very unhappy and that's putting it mildly," Collier said. "Atlanta wanted to win. We didn't seem to care."

"We played a typical exhibition football game. We didn't have eagerness, enthusiasm or concentration."

Asked if he was worried about the situation, Collier replied:

"Certainly, I'm concerned. I'm worried about whether these people are ready to play football.

"We had errors of omission and commission. Some were due to the new men and are understandable in a way. Still, that was our fourth game.

In spite of his disappointment, Collier found a few bright spots for the Browns. He said he thought the running game looked good in the third quarter and that he sees potential in Ben Davis, new defensive back from Defiance College.

"Ben continues to improve," said the coach. "He still has much to learn but did pretty well."

Injuries that will put tight end Milt Morin out for at least six weeks and sideline reserve flanker Clifton McNeil for the season are causing Collier and Browns Owner Art Modell to scan the waiver lists. There is a possibility of a trade or two.

Oakland, Baltimore Wait Soccer Playoff

By The Associated Press

The regular National Professional Soccer League season ended this wekend and Western Division champion Oakland now prepares to meet Eastern Division champion Baltimore in a two-game playoff for the league championship on Sept. 3 and Sept. 9.

Baltimore was beaten 3-2 Sunday by Pittsburgh.

Walt Coleman President Of Area Bowlers

Walter Coleman was named president of the East Liverpool Bowling Association at the annual organizational meeting held at the YMCA Sunday afternoon. Coleman will serve a two-year term succeeding J. Ernest Purton.

Four vice presidents were elected to serve one - year terms. They are Kenneth Smith, first vice president; George La Neve, second vice president; Ernest Purton, third vice president, and Paul Rayl, fourth vice president.

Elected to three-year terms and succeeding themselves were association directors Howard Allison for Terrace Lanes in Chester and Charles Wynn for Headpin Lanes in East Liverpool. Dale Craven was appointed to fill out a two-year term as director for Friendly Lanes in East Liverpool when that vacancy was occasioned by Coleman's elction as president.

Continuing in office were J. George Simballa, secretary - treasurer, and directors Charles Rogers of Tri-State Lanes in Calcutta, Dennis Hendricks for Village Lanes in Salineville, and roving director Cy Shaffer.

The association also voted to allow league representatives from leagues at Tri-State Lanes that had to suspend their leagues temporarily because of the fire there a vote in the association deliberations.

The association's next meeting will be Oct. 1st.

OSU Grid Ticket Sales Off Slightly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If you're one of those Ohio State football fans who has trouble getting tickets, this could be your big chance.

"Ticket sales are running a little below last season and we are down about 2,000 season books," Staten reports.

For more than a decade now, tickets to Buckeye grid skirmishes have been harder to come by than a hit Broadway show.

An unattractive schedule, except for Purdue's Oct. 14 visit, seems to be the major reason for the dropoff.

Fight Results

Davis Sets Record

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Dave Davis of Phoenix, Ariz., knocked down more pins in a 40-game tournament than any man in history as he won the Professional Bowlers Association $27,500 Green Bay Open Sunday.

The 6-2, 155 pounder totaled 9,316, breaking the world record of 9,283 held by Billy Hardwick of San Mateo, Calif., set in the 1963 Los Angeles Open.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

TV Escalated In Vietnam

"I sometimes think we should de-escalate the TV coverage of the Vietnam war," says CBS correspondent Murray Fromson, who has been based in Bangkok, Thailand, the past two years.

Hal Humphrey

There are six CBS-TV crews in Vietnam now. ABC and NBC have about the same number. So much manpower has a tendency, in Fromson's opinion, to lower the quality of the coverage there.

-:-

"I'M AFRAID the system takes over too frequently," he says. "When there are X number of men working, then there's the compulsion to have X number of stories each week or month. If each of our crews did four stories a month, that would mean 24 stories. But we've done as many as 50 or 55, and only 22 got on the air."

This mass production of Vietnam stories prevents concentration on certain aspects of the war because each team is busily engaged in a kind of intramural competition to get its stuff on the air.

On vacation leave in this country now, for the first time since going to Asia two years ago, Fromson has discovered how little real listening many TV watchers of news programs do.

"I'VE DONE a few lecture dates here, and each time there are people who come up to me afterward and ask, 'But why don't you say those things on the air?' I tell them that I have, but I can see they don't believe it," Fromson reports.

He has done two or three pieces on the CBS Cronkite news on our pacification efforts the past several months and said they are not working. Fromson also stated (on the air) that the United States can't win this war militarily—"unless, of course, we bomb them back into the Stone Age" — but now he wonders how many viewers got the message through the welter of commercials and other brief news spots in those half hours.

Fromson agrees with other veteran correspondents who've had turns at covering the Vietnam war for TV that the medium goes overboard on "the bang-bang stuff," that is combat filming, and he has some doubts now about its value, especially since the enemy is never seen and much of such film gets to looking the same after a while.

ONE OF THE greatest frustrations Fromson goes through is trying to report the ever-widening gap between what Gen. William G. Westmoreland or Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara says about the progress of the war and what lower echelon commanders in the field will confide in off-the-record conversations with reporters.

"There is no doubt we've reached a stalemate in this war, but Westmoreland says it isn't so, and how do you criticize him?" Fromson wants to know. "Our command over there can say, 'Who the hell are you, and what do you know about it:' and what do you answer to that?"

It was Fromson who first aired the story over a year ago about our bomb shortage in Vietnam at the time. It was vigorously denied at first, officially, then later admitted, but not until considerable pressure was mounted from Washington onto CBS about "irresponsible" reporting.

EX-CBS NEWS President Fred Friendly in his book, "Due to Circumstancs Beyond Our Control," mentioned the Washington pressure he experienced on different occasions, and apparently it hasn't abated. When newsmen of TV, radio or the press report something the Establishment would rather not have reported, they hear about it.

As Fromson points out, too, the administration certainly is not frustrated when it comes to airing its views on TV. Programs like "Face the Nation" and "Meet the Press" have a preponderent number of Washington officials on throughout the year compared to those who might be voicing opposition views.

"I guess we can say that TV news still is in its infancy, but I do see improvements, and more real newsmen are coming into TV all the time," concludes Fromson, who despite the frustrations just signed up for another two years with CBS in Asia.

He spent seven years with Associated press and two years with NBC before joining CBS five years ago.

Ohio Man Is Charged With W. Va. Murder

Police Hunt Man, 35, In Mahoning Slaying

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)— Luetenner Parker, 31, of Youngstown, was shot to death Sunday at the intersection of Overland and Lakewood Streets.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at South Side Hospital.

None Injured In 3 Mishaps

No one was injured in three traffic mishaps in East Liverpool over the weekend, police reported.

Minor damage resulted in a collision Sunday at 11:35 a. m. on Jackman St. at John St., officers said.

A parked 1964 sedan owned by Joseph H. Smith Jr., 29, of 823 Chester Ave. was bumped by a backing 1963 sedan operated by Mrs. Maude Caroline Fraser, 45, of 337 Jackman St.

A collision at W. 3rd St. and Peach Alley at 4:50 p.m. Saturday damaged a 1967 sedan driven by Martha I. Rutan, 23, of 1030 Torrence Ave., Wellsville, and a 1965 sedan operated by Anna M. Covert, 26, of New Cumberland RD 2.

The Wellsville woman said she halted for a stop sign in Peach Alley, did not see any oncoming traffic and pulled onto W. 3rd St. The New Cumberland woman, driving west on W. 3rd St., said she saw the Rutan car emerge from the alley, but when she tried to halt her car skidded on rain-slicked pavement.

Another mishap Saturday at 2:20 p.m. on Walnut St. at E. 5th St. involved a 1965 model coupe operated by Miss Mary Lee Heddleston of 1042 Bradshaw Ave. and a 1963 two-door sedan driven by Dianne L. Daugherty of 2517 Clement Way.

Miss Heddleston, driving south on Walnut St., halted for a red traffic signal and then yielded the right-of-way to pedestrians as she began to proceed, officers said. The Daugherty car then bumped the Heddleston car in the rear.

Pittsburgh Garages Boost Parking Price

The eight-hour rate at Gateway Center will go up 20 cents to $2; the Bigelow Apartment will hike rates 10 cents for the first hour and 20 cents for the second; and the Penn—Liberty garage fee also will go up.

Plants need more water in summer and in hot climates because they lose more moisture to the air when it is hot and there is much sunshine.

Splash Mats Prove Useful

Home owners who do a lot of gardening, pot plants, cut flowers and use water or a hose to a great extent, are aware the ground below the hose soon becomes soggy.

There never seems to be a clean hard surface at hand upon which to place a bucket or set a piece of lawn furniture to dry after washing.

A splash mat is a great convenience and so easily made that the outdoor worker usually starts with a small one and ends up with quite an area of pavement.

Virtually all outside hose connections come through the foundation wall of the house or from beneath the porch. There are two ways of making the splash mat.

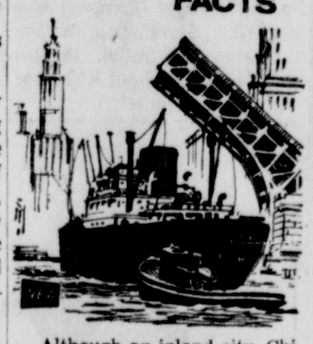
The first is to cut out the required area, making the sides cut through the turf sharp and neat, and about three or four inches deep. A mixture of one part of portland cement, two parts of sand and three parts of crushed stone or gravel makes the best concrete mix.

An absolute minimum of water should be used in mixing it. The batch is shoveled into the depression and troweled off smooth. No form is required, since the neat edges cut into the ground furnish the form. The concrete should be kept covered and dampened for four days before it is walked on.

The second type of spalsh mat, and probably easier to make than the first one, is provided by simply cutting out the turf the required size and laying common bricks in the depression.

Second-hand bricks are excellent for this purpose. The depression should be two inches deep, so that when a brick is laid flat it will be even with the lawn. The best job of this kind is done when the bottom of the cut-out is raked smooth and tamped down hard before the brick is set in place.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS



Although an inland city, Chicago is fast becoming a major world shipping center. Linked to the ocean by both the Mississippi River system and the Great Lakes - St. Lawrence Seaway, more than 50 scheduled ship lines sail to 66 countries from Chicago.

The amount of solar energy streaming toward the earth from the sun in only one day equals the energy that could be produced by burning 550 billion tons of coal. This is as much coal as would be dug in the U. S. in a thousand years at the present rate of mining. Enough solar energy falls on the U. S. every 20 minutes to fill the nation's entire power needs for one year.

Steel Prices Continue 'Up'

CLEVELAND (AP) — Steel prices reflect returning bullishness in the market and the upward movement of prices is likely to continue until inflational influences lose their force, Steel Magazine said today.

Last week's $4 a ton hike on carbon and high strength plates and an $8 a ton increase on alloy material followed quickly upon upward adjustments in extras on bar and blooming mill products, the weekly journal of metalworking noted.

Extras for processing services on carbon and alloy bars were increased earlier in August and there was a boost in tin mill product prices to become effective in October, Steel said.

Taxes, raw materials, freight, and employment payrolls all are going up and cutting into profits, increasing pressure for price increases.

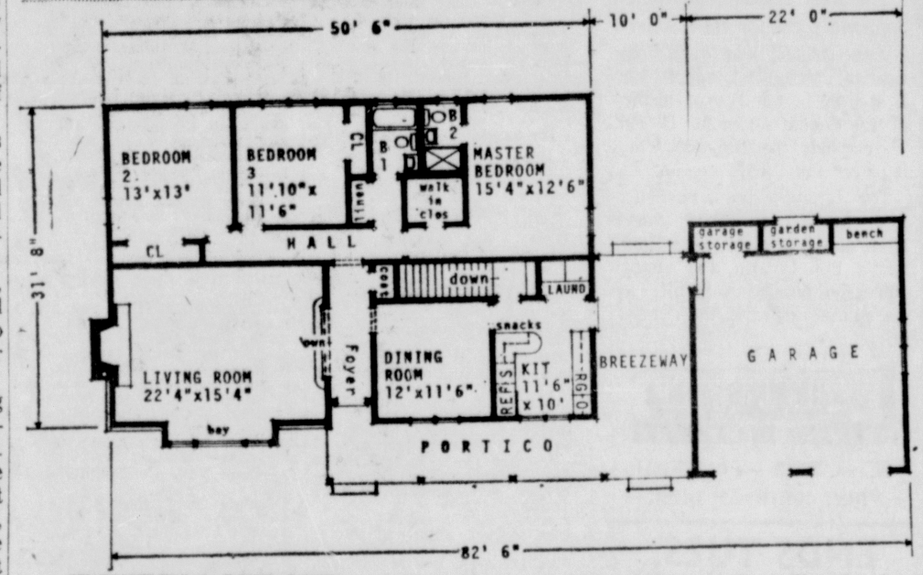
But the industry is moving slowly and cautiously in adjusting prices upward, Steel said. It noted that the hike in base price on plates was the first in four years on that product, and that there have been some minor decreases over the last year, notably in certain wire items.

Consumer inventories remain unbalanced on the low side and have been shrinking steadily with the result that orders are beginning to climb, the magazine said. Bookings for finished steel in August are at least five per cent ahead of July and mill shipments will be up 10-15 per cent, Steel reported.

Last week's production was estimated by Steel at 2,355,000 million tons—highest level since the last week in May and up 1.6 per cent from the previous week.

The magazine's composite price on No. 1 heavy melting grade of steelmaking scrap stayed at $27.17 a gross ton for the fourth consecutive week.

Soccer, or association football, is the original version of football, and ranks as one of the most popular sports in the world. The city of Derby, England, claims credit for its origin in A.D. 217, when the Romans occupied Britain. Soccer is played in almost every country, and is the major sport in most European and South American nations, where games often attract larger crowds than those at football games in the United States.



IF THERE'S A GOOD VIEW to the font of your property, this ranch plan will make the best of it. The bedrooms are at the back and the dropped living room has a lovely bay window overlooking the front. Dining room and kitchen windows are sheltered by the portico but enjoy the front view as well. The attached breezeway and garage add a lot to the long look of the house and a lot to living as well. Plan HA-513S has 1,505 square feet of living area and was designed by Architect Herbert Struppmann, Room 704, 48 W. 48th St., N. Y.

How many closets in your home? Five? Eight? Twelve?

No matter. Each of them undoubtedly is filled to capacity. If you had less or more, the same would be true. All of us are inclined to use the space that is available — and to get along without that which is not.

One builder says he has stopped adding extra closets to each series of homes he constructs "because no matter how many there are, someone comes along and suggests that one or two more could have been used."

Another residential developer, Roy Server, suggests that at least one closet can be prevented from becoming a catch-all for "junk" by utilizing it for other purposes.

Especially in the case of storage areas that have sliding doors, "a bit of fitting can convert closet space to a variety of alternate uses," Server points out. And the techniques can be helpful to apartment dwellers as well as home owners.

His suggestions:

1. — Remove the sliding doors from a walk - in closet, fit its sides and back with shelving and install a pull - down lamp. Result: a mini library. Shelves may be attached to the walls or constructed from fit - together units of varying sizes. These can be the unfinished type which you can finish yourself.

2. —Substitute a glass door for all or part of a foyer closet and, by inserting shelving, create a display cabinet for decorative pottery, silver pieces or family relics.

3. — Install a pair of three-drawer cabinets in the un-used half of a bedroom closet, top them with a piece of plywood or hardboard and you've created a knee - hole desk. Shelving for the walls and perhaps an additional light fixture complete the setting for a full - fledged office —or at least an adequate space for the letter - writing, bill-paying, vacation - planning tasks that go on in any household. And it may be closed off, with the sliding door, when not in use.

4. — For a swinging door closet, the woman who sews may attach a full-length mirror and install additional shelves to create a dress - making nook. An extra linen closet, for example, would accommodate a cabinet-style sewing machine, with upper shelves reserved for fabric storage, patterns and accessories.

5. — And for the amateur photographer to whom his hobby is more important than eating, an empty pantry may beckon as just the place to work with his enlarger and the developing and printing materials that will make it a darkroom.

AP Newsfeatures

Question: We have vertical wood planks in our attic. We finished them with varnish before they were installed. That was about two years ago. Because we are now changing the whole motif of the attic to satisfy our teen - age daughter, we want to paint the planks a bright color. Is it necessary to remove all the varnish? We would like to avoid that if possible, since we did it to a table a year ago and found it a messy job.

ANSWER: No, you do not have to remove the varnish. The paint can be applied directly over it. However, certain steps are necessary in order for the paint to adhere properly.

It is likely that the planks have picked up a considerable amount of dust. Wipe them with a clean cloth moistened with denatured alcohol. Change the cloth as soon as it gets dirty so that you don't just spread the dust around from one place to another. When everything is completely dry — which will be quickly, as the alcohol evaporates almost at once—look for shiny areas.

Paint does not grip on glossy surfaces. Wherever you find a shine, sand it lightly with a fine grade of sandpaper or steel wool. Then wipe, again with denatured alcohol, to be sure all pieces of grit are picked up. It is then okay to go ahead with the painting.

The origin of the term "electricity" dates back to ancient times when it was discovered that amber, rubbed with a piece of fur, would attract bits of feathers or wisps of straw — a property we know today as "static electricity." The Greek word for amber is "elektron." And since it was the first substance to show this property of attraction, William Gilbert (1540-1603), physician to Queen Elizabeth, called the property "electricia," and a century later the name was changed to "electricity," as we know it today.

Construction Report Given

NEW YORK (Special)—July construction contract values eased back from the all-time peak reached in June, but still led the year-ago value by 2 per cent, it is reported by the F. W. Dodge Co., authoritative analyst of construction activity.

According to the statistics, July contracts for future construction were valued at $4,879,350,000.

The seasonally - adjusted Dodge Index of total construction contract value slid to 149 in July, down from June's record 164 (1957-59—100).

July's residential building contracts climbed to $1,828,552,000, a 23 per cent gain over last year's depressed levels. Apartment contract values were up 51 per cent during the month, while contracts for one-family housing were 17 per cent higher than the year-ago month.

"Although the current housing values show large year-to-year gains, the seasonally-adjusted rate of residential contracting slipped a bit from the previous month during July," noted George A. Christie, chief economist for the company.

"Much of the anticipated strong response by the housing market to the renewed flow of mortgage money already has been felt," Christie said, explaining that "by June, the rates of contract value for both single - family homes and apartments were back within 10 per cent of the levels attained just before last year's credit squeeze.

"There's still room for further housing expansion," the Dodge economist said, "but the pace is bound to be a bit slower over the months ahead."

At the end of seven months, total residential contract value was still 9 per cent behind the comparable year-ago amount, but the gap was closing fast.

With three key non - residential building categories showing modest declines in July, total contract value for this group fell 4 per cent below its year-ago amount to $1,748,726,000.

July contracts for new commercial buildings (stores, offices, etc.) were 8 per cent below their year-ago value, while contracts for manufacturing buildings fell 6 per cent. Educational contracts also were down moderately.

Increases in non-residential building contract value were limited to public buildings, hospitals and religious buildings during July. Through seven months, the 1967 total for non-residential building value was $11,658,549,000, about even with last year.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I remove heat marks from table tops?

A. — Rub them with a hard paraffin wax candle, then cover with blotting paper, and press with a warm iron. Repeat, if necessary. Afterward, rub well with a soft cloth to restore the finish.

Q. — What is a good tip for keeping my silverware bright?

A. — Try adding a little milk to the water in which it is washed.

Q. — How can I prevent sausages from losing their shape when frying?

A. — Place them in a pan of cold water, and bring to a boil before frying.

2 IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, JOHN E. SMITH, who passed away August 28th, 18 years ago:

From our happy home and circle
God has taken one we loved
He is borne away from sin and sorrow to a nobler rest above.
No one knows how much we miss him, None but aching hearts can tell;
Lost on earth, but found in heaven—Jesus doeth all things well.

Sadly missed by Wife, Children, and Grandchildren

Asbestos Insulating Wrap Change

Porter Company Places New Product On Market

PITTSBURGH — The first major development for asbestos insulating wrap in more than 25 years has been placed on the market by the Thermoid Division of H. K. Porter Co., Inc.

Company officials term the product and its application "revolutionary from both a use standpoint and impact on present markets."

Designated Custom Lag Rewettable Lagging, RWL-100, it is an asbestos lagging material with an extremely important difference: it has a built-in adhesive that impregnates the asbestos cloth throughout. As a result, this new material needs nothing more than a bucket of water for immediate use.

CONVENTIONAL insulation lagging cloth always has been manufactured as untreated material, making it mandatory to use with a separate supply of adhesive or "gunk."

The division has had the rewettable lagging project under research and development for the last two years, completed final testing in late 1966 and has applied for patents. During the last seven months, the lagging has been thoroughly tested and proven extremely successful in actual use at major shipyards. It is also undergoing extensive evaluation at power plants.

Immediate markets for the rewettable lagging in cloth form are at power plants and shipbuilding operations for piping systems, ducting, and boilers, both for initial application and for repair work on existing lagging. In tape form, the lagging is designed for smaller applications where insulating tape with an adhesive is used, or where tape needs securing.

The rewettable lagging was developed at the Charlotte, N. C., asbestos textiles plant of the Thermoid Division, where all raw material for the adhesive is formulated and mixed. After impregnation, the asbestos cloth goes through a process for dehydration and is supplied in dry form. Addition of water at the job site activates the adhesive.

ADHESIVE materials utilized in the lagging are completely inorganic, water dispersible, and also possess positive affinity to asbestos cloth.

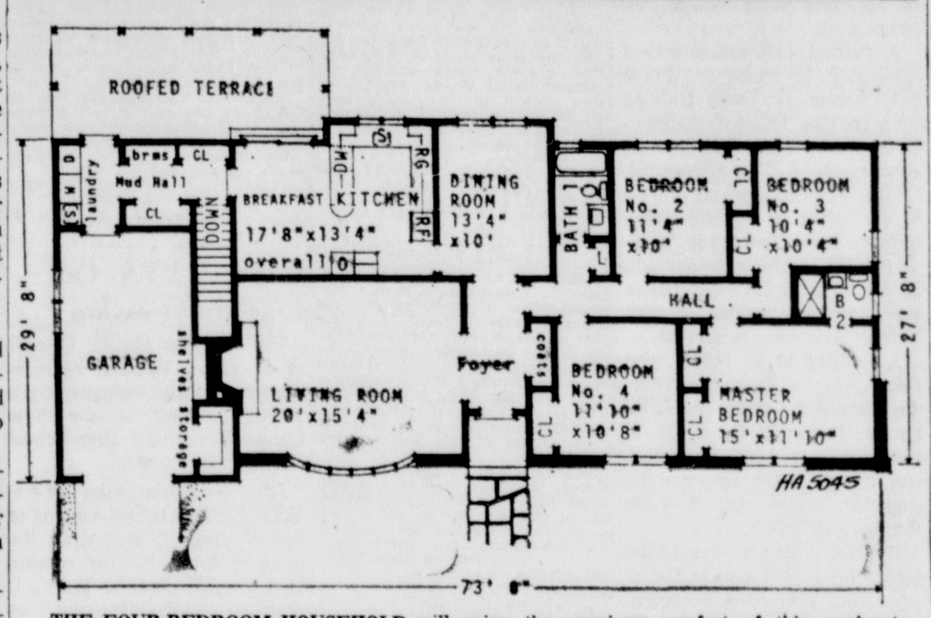
The U. S. Coast Guard Certificate of Approval for incombustible material was granted in January. The adhesive also has received military specification certification.

From a purely money standpoint, cost of the Thermoid lagging is slightly less than conventional lagging. The comparison is based on total selling price of RWL-100 versus conventional lagging plus the necessary adhesive. Savings extend further when considering factors such as cleanup time and the expense of separate purchase, shipping and stocking of the adhesive. Major labor savings also derive from ease and simplicity of applying the rewettable lagging cloth.



THE FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSEHOLD will enjoy the spacious comfort of this moderate home. A foyer separates the living area and bedrooms. The dining room, kitchen and breakfast room are all in the back. In addition there is a mud hall and laundry behind the garage, with ready access from backyard to kitchen or basement and to and from the garage. A roofed terrace is reached by sliding glass doors in the breakfast room for outdoor entertaining. Plan HA504S has 1,510 square feet. It was designed by Herbert Struppmann. Room 704, 48 W. 48th St., New York, N. Y. 10036.

Government Subsidy To Buy Insurance For Aged Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president of the American Medical Association suggested today that persons over 65 eligible for medicare receive a direct government subsidy to finance their purchase of private health insurance.

Dr. Milford O. Rouse, testifying on the administration's Social Security amendments, told the Senate Finance Committee such a plan would be more practical than the current medicare program involving the government, insurance carriers and physicians.

"Physicians find that government has involved itself in medicine through such regulation as rules on reasonable charges, statistical data requirements and definitions of physicians' services," Rouse said.

"The elderly patient is sometimes dissatisfied because he finds he is getting less than he expected; or experiences delays in being reimbursed; and often doesn't really understand the government- physician-carrier combination that is trying to take care of him," he added.

As a result, Rouse said, the government "finds it necessary" to blame the insurance companies or doctors or both for delays, confusion and higher medical costs.

Under a direct subsidy plan, Rouse said, elderly persons eligible for medicare would have a qualified private insurance program of their choice at no greater expense than under the present program, carriers would have more responsibility for performance and the doctor - patient relationship would not change after the patient reached 65 and becomes eligible for medicare.

Chinese Terrorists Publish Death List

HONG KONG (AP) — Communist Chinese terrorists today published a death list of six prominent anti-Communist Chinese the Reds said would be executed like radio comedian Lam Bun. The list included Paul Tsiu, secretary for Chinese Affairs in the Hong Kong government, two legislative councilors, two newspaper executives and the chairman of a village elders' association.

The death threat, published in an underground Communist terrorist propaganda sheet, said the six would be eliminated like Lam Bun.

The 37-year-old comedian and his brother were turned into human torches last Thursday when terrorists bombed their car, doused them in gasoline, and then set them afire.

The trade winds blow from the southeast and northeast.

Today In Washington

Few worshippers noticed their arrival but the word was whispered around.

Other than the trip to church, there was no specific presidential activity announced by the White House, and no word of a birthday celebration.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark reports that convictions of persons involved in organized crime and gambling rose 39 per cent in fiscal 1967—but a Republican group said he was "fighting a war of retreat against organized crime."

Clark said convictions resulting from FBI investigations and Justice Department prosecutions in the organized crime and gambling fields totaled 197 during the year and that as of June 30, another 330 defendants were awaiting trial. He said convictions were based on "sound investigative techniques untainted by improper electronic eavesdropping, which has sometimes hindered successful prosecution in the past."

However, the House Republican Task Force on Crime said: "We view his regulations as inevitably discouraging the use of sound, acceptable and legal investigative techniques in combatting organized crime."

Mobile Unit Reports 1,620 Chest X-Rays

Mechanical trouble prevented the cruiser from opening for the 10 a.m. to noon shift Friday on S. Broadway.

The cruiser's next stop will be Sept. 8-9 at the Columbiana Street Fair.

Don't Go Off Half-Calked, Home Owners Are Urged

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Any home owner who does not periodically renew the calking around his house is ignoring the least expensive and one of the most effective methods of protecting his home.

Properly applied, calking will keep out cold drafts, moisture and insects. During the winter, it prevents heat loss.

Thanks to pre-filled cartridges and inexpensive guns for application, calking requires little outlay for equipment and material and virtually no skill except the ability to follow instructions and work carefully.

CALKING IS a puttylike material blended of pigments and oils. Even after application it remains elastic for a long time so that it will expand and contract along with the surfaces it adheres to.

Calking will stick to wood, metal and masonry. It is used to seal the joints and cracks in these materials.

It is available in bulk form and in disposable cartridges. Also available are tubes which can be squeezed for application and no gun is needed.

A calking gun that uses bulk compound costs several times more than a cartridge gun. The bulk compound, however, will average less cost per ounce.

But for the average home owner, the cartridge and the inexpensive gun is the best buy. Compound in bulk would probably be more than he could use, and there is the indisputable convenience of preloaded cartridges.

White and gray are the usual colors for calking, although black is available for use inside gutters and around roofs. It gets its color from the asphalt it contains. Unlike the white and gray, black compounds cannot be painted over.

Another advantage of cartridges is that you can change from one color to another without finishing the cartridge you have started.

THE GUN forces the compound out through a narrow nozzle in the right thickness to fill a crack or joint. Steady pressure on the trigger while steadily moving the nozzle along the seam will assure even application.

Calking should be applied to corner joints, window frames, door frames, door sills, cracks in masonry and siding.

It will not adhere to greasy, dirty or damp surfaces. Use a stiff brush to clean away loose dirt. Use a turpentine-soaked rag to wipe greasy surfaces.

Lay in an even bead of calking and then leave it alone. Do not smooth it out with your finger. Better to leave it convex — it will not crack as soon.

A little practice and you will be able to apply the compound smoothly and neatly. The result will be a weathertight house. If you plan to paint, be sure to calk first.

Personalities In The News

Charlene hitched up the drooping skirt and continued her dance. But it slipped again. The girl borrowed a pin from a Soviet stagehand and restarted her act. This time the skirt stayed up.

The taping session included acts by several of Charlene's classmates from Honolulu's Roosevelt High School. The group, which totals 93, including parents and teachers, has been on the road since Aug. 2.

During intermission, contributions will be collected from the audience and members of the cast, and from actresses who have played Bloody Mary, to aid Miss Hall, who is a patient at the Medical Arts Center.

KABUL, Afghanistan (AP) — Afghan Premier Mohammad Hashim Maiwandwal has successfully undergone an operation for intestinal blockage, it was announced Monday.

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Mohammad Reza Pahlavi, the shah of Iran, after reigning crownless for 26 years, will perform his own coronation on Oct. 26, a government committee announced Sunday.

The shah had postponed the crowning because, he said, "It is not a pride to be a king of a poor and hungry people." He said the success of social reforms changed his mind.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I freshen the atmosphere in a musty-smelling basement?

A.—One effective treatment consists of the spraying of unslaked lime on the basement walls. This has the effect of freshening not only the basement itself, but also the entire house.

Q.—How can I remove rust stains from my kitchen sink?

A.—Pour a few drops of vinegar on the stains, leave there for about 15 minutes, then scour the sink in the usual manner.

THE TRUTH ABOUT BUYING A FURNACE

who is kidding whom about these low, low prices?

Q. How can some dealers offer to sell heating systems at prices below the actual cost of producing a quality furnace in a modern plant?

A. ONE OF THREE WAYS:

No. 1—By using cheap, inferior components that are made to meet a price, rather than serve the homeowners needs.

No. 2—By "bumping" the customer to a much higher priced system with a high pressure sales talk. This is a version of the old shell game.

No. 3—By skimping dangerously in installation procedures, and service after the sale.

GOOD PRACTICES TO FOLLOW IN BUYING HEATING

Look around for a dealer with a good reputation. Refuse to deal with anybody else, no matter how tempting the deal may sound. Invest in a heating system with a brand-name furnace backed by years of honest service to the public.

We Feature JANITROL Quality Heating Equipment and Pledge Installation To Highest Quality Standards!

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

TV Escalated In Vietnam

"I sometimes think we should de-escalate the TV coverage of the Vietnam war," says CBS correspondent Murray Fromson, who has been based in Bangkok, Thailand, the past two years.

Hal Humphrey

There are six CBS-TV crews in Vietnam now. ABC and NBC have about the same number. So much manpower has a tendency, in Fromson's opinion, to lower the quality of the coverage there.

-:-

"I'M AFRAID the system takes over too frequently," he says. "When there are X number of men working, then there's the compulsion to have X number of stories each week or month. If each of our crews did four stories a month, that would mean 24 stories. But we've done as many as 50 or 55, and only 22 got on the air."

This mass production of Vietnam stories prevents concentration on certain aspects of the war because each team is busily engaged in a kind of intramural competition to get its stuff on the air.

On vacation leave in this country now, for the first time since going to Asia two years ago, Fromson has discovered how little real listening many TV watchers of news programs do.

"I'VE DONE a few lecture dates here, and each time there are people who come up to me afterward and ask, 'But why don't you say those things on the air?' I tell them that I have, but I can see they don't believe it," Fromson reports.

He has done two or three pieces on the CBS Cronkite news on our pacification efforts the past several months and said they are not working. Fromson also stated (on the air) that the United States can't win this war militarily—"unless, of course, we bomb them back into the Stone Age" — but now he wonders how many viewers got the message through the welter of commercials and other brief news spots in those half hours.

Fromson agrees with other veteran correspondents who've had turns at covering the Vietnam war for TV that the medium goes overboard on "the bang-bang stuff," that is combat filming, and he has some doubts now about its value, especially since the enemy is never seen and much of such film gets to looking the same after a while.

ONE OF THE greatest frustrations Fromson goes through is trying to report the ever-widening gap between what Gen. William G. Westmoreland or Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara says about the progress of the war and what lower echelon commanders in the field will confide in off-the-record conversations with reporters.

"There is no doubt we've reached a stalemate in this war, but Westmoreland says it isn't so, and how do you criticize him?" Fromson wants to know. "Our command over there can say, 'Who the hell are you, and what do you know about it:' and what do you answer to that?"

It was Fromson who first aired the story over a year ago about our bomb shortage in Vietnam at the time. It was vigorously denied at first, officially, then later admitted, but not until considerable pressure was mounted from Washington onto CBS about "irresponsible" reporting.

EX-CBS NEWS President Fred Friendly in his book, "Due to Circumstancs Beyond Our Control," mentioned the Washington pressure he experienced on different occasions, and apparently it hasn't abated. When newsmen of TV, radio or the press report something the Establishment would rather not have reported, they hear about it.

As Fromson points out, too, the administration certainly is not frustrated when it comes to airing its views on TV. Programs like "Face the Nation" and "Meet the Press" have a preponderant number of Washington officials on throughout the year compared to those who might be voicing opposition views.

"I guess we can say that TV news still is in its infancy, but I do see improvements, and more real newsmen are coming into TV all the time," concludes Fromson, who despite the frustrations just signed up for another two years with CBS in Asia.

He spent seven years with Associated press and two years with NBC before joining CBS five years ago.

Ohio Man Is Charged With W. Va. Murder

BECKLEY, W. Va. (AP) — Eugene A. Martin, 54, of Columbus, Ohio, was arrested here Sunday and charged with murdering Edward Walker, about 65, of Beckley.

Police said Martin and Walker apparently argued at Walker's home and Walker either fell or was pushed down a flight of stairs.

Police Hunt Man, 35, In Mahoning Slaying

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Luetenner Parker, 31, of Youngstown, was shot to death Sunday at the intersection of Overland and Lakewood Streets.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at South Side Hospital.

None Injured In 3 Mishaps

No one was injured in three traffic mishaps in East Liverpool over the weekend, police reported.

Minor damage resulted in a collision Sunday at 11:35 a. m. on Jackman St. at John St., officers said.

A parked 1964 sedan owned by Joseph H. Smith Jr., 29, of 823 Chester Ave. was bumped by a backing 1963 sedan operated by Mrs. Maude Caroline Fraser, 45, of 337 Jackman St.

A collision at W. 3rd St. and Peach Alley at 4:50 p.m. Saturday damaged a 1967 sedan driven by Martha I. Rutan, 23, of 1030 Torrence Ave., Wellsville, and a 1965 sedan operated by Anna M. Covert, 26, of New Cumberland RD 2.

The Wellsville woman said she halted for a stop sign in Peach Alley, did not see any oncoming traffic and pulled onto W. 3rd St. The New Cumberland woman, driving west on W. 3rd St., said she saw the Rutan car emerge from the alley, but when she tried to halt her car skidded on rain-slicked pavement.

Another mishap Saturday at 2:20 p.m. on Walnut St. at E. 5th St. involved a 1965 model coupe operated by Miss Mary Lee Heddleston of 1042 Bradshaw Ave. and a 1963 two-door sedan driven by Dianne L. Daugherty of 2517 Clement Way.

Miss Heddleston, driving south on Walnut St., halted for a red traffic signal and then yielded the right-of-way to pedestrians as she began to proceed, officers said. The Daugherty car then bumped the Heddleston car in the rear.

Hancock PTAs Call Executive Session

The Hancock County Council of Parent - Teacher Associations will hold an executive committee meeting at the New Cumberland Junior High School Tuesday at 7 p.m.

The executive committee will consider a tentative calendar for meetings.

A council workshop will be held Sept. 28 at Weir High School, with Mrs. Claudius Ford, director of Region 10, in charge.

The workshop will get under way with registration at 7.

A person's eyes, according to one scientific study, relay on to his brain only about 1 per cent of all the information they receive.

Pittsburgh Garages Boost Parking Price

The eight-hour rate at Gateway Center will go up 20 cents to $2; the Bigelow Apartment will hike rates 10 cents for the first hour and 20 cents for the second; and the Penn—Liberty garage fee also will go up.

Plants need more water in summer and in hot climates because they lose more moisture to the air when it is hot and there is much sunshine.

2 IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, JOHN E. SMITH, who passed away August 28th, 18 years ago:

From our happy home and circle
God has taken one we loved
He is borne away from sin and sorrow to a nobler rest above.
No one knows how much we miss him, None but aching hearts can tell;
Lost on earth, but found in heaven—Jesus doeth all things well.

Sadly missed by Wife, Children, and Grandchildren

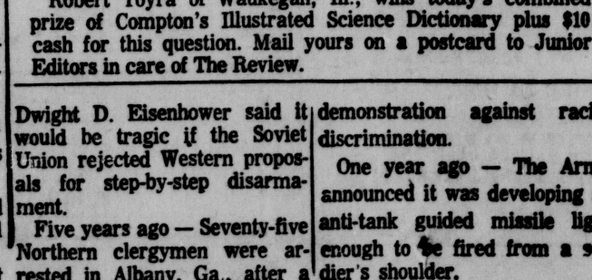
Junior Editors Quiz on CENTAURS



QUESTION: Were there such things as centaurs?

ANSWER: The centaur is one of a group of unreal, mythical animals invented by the imaginations of the peoples of ancient days. Some other such imaginative animals were the unicorn and the phoenix. Ancient people seemed to exercise fancy combining the shapes of men and creatures. The centaur had a man's head and torso and a horse's body. Such strange creatures fitted into the strange tales the old poets loved to write and relate. Most centaurs were described as wild, savage creatures. But there was one, named Chiron, who was civilized and able to act as an instructor to Greek heroes. Our picture shows one of the centaurs carved in marble on the outer part of that famous building, the Parthenon, in Athens. It illustrates the story of a great battle between the centaurs and the Lapithes, in which the Lapithes had driven the centaurs away. So, although the particular Lapith in our picture seems to be getting the worst of it, he will turn out, in the end, to be among the victors.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Monday, Aug. 28, the 240th day of 1967. There are 125 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1883, Britain's Parliament banned slavery and called for the freeing of 700,000 slaves within the British Empire in one year.

On this date:

In 1749, the German poet, Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, was born.

In 1828, the Russian novelist, Count Leo Tolstoy, was born.

In 1922, the first radio commercial was broadcast over station WEAF in New York.

In 1939, the frontier between France and Germany was closed.

Ten years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower said it would be tragic if the Soviet Union rejected Western proposals for step-by-step disarmament.

Pennsylvania House Set To Tackle Tax Program

By PAUL ZDINAK

HARRISBURG (AP) — The legislature returned today with chief attention focused on a proposed $290 million tax program in the Republican - controlled House.

Gov. Shafer, who says that is the amount needed to balance his $1.79 billion budget, met with Republican legislative leaders Sunday night to discuss the proposed business and consumer taxes.

The agenda today called for the House Ways and Means Committee to consider releasing five new tax bills introduced last week. The other tax measures have been on the House calendar for several weeks.

"We will caucus Tuesday to decide whether an attempt should be made to run the package Wednesday," House Majority Leader Lee A. Donaldson Jr. said in a weekend statement.

Reportedly, there are at least five GOP House members who oppose the tax package in one form or another. Minority Democrats generally oppose the imposition of new consumer taxes.

This presents a problem to the administration since Republicans have just 103 votes, one more than needed to pass a bill in the House. One remedy would be to secure an equal number of Democratic votes.

Of the five new tax bills, the ones drawing the most fire are those that would impose a 1 per cent tax on life insurance benefits and extend the 5 per cent sales tax to advertising.

Shafer scored a major victory last week when the legislature passed the $1.46 billion general appropriations bill. This money would cover most of state spending for the fiscal year.

The $290 million in new revenue would be earmarked for colleges, hospitals, college scholarships and for various administration programs including mass transportation and industrial development.

In the Senate, action is expected this week on the House-passed civil rights package and a bill to implement the $500 million conservation bond issue.

Minority Leader Ernest P. Kline said he would like to see some strengthening amendments made to the civil rights proposal.

"We have not discussed the matter yet in caucus," the Beaver County Democrat said. "I certainly would want to amend some. We don't want them any weaker than when thy passed the House."

The six-bill package cleared the House Aug. 9 and was released from Senate committee last Tuesday.

The Senate State Government Committee amended the fair employment law bill so it would cover employers with a minimum of four workers.

ployers with six or more em-

The present law applies to employes. As the bill passed the House, it would have covered an employer with just one worker.

"I would like to see the four returned to one for example," Kline said.

As for the conservation bond bill, amendments are to be offered this week that would require legislative approval for any conservation project proposed by the various state departments.

Cancer Fatal At 60

Ralph Humphrey, 60, brother of Vice President Hubert Humphrey, died at a hospital Sunday night of cancer. He had operated the family drug store in Huron, S.D., for many years prior to his illness.

20 From District Treated In Weekend Emergencies

A city woman injured in a fall downstairs, a Hookstown woman hurt while jumping, a New Cumberland area resident injured in a fall and a city area girl hurt in a fall from a swing were admitted over the weekend to City Hospital, where 17 other area residents were treated.

Alvina McAdams of 809 W. 8th St. is in "fair" condition with a laceration of the head and other injuries sustained in the fall down the cellar stairs.

—:—

Mrs. Thomas Scott of Park Pl., LaCroft, burns on the right fingers from steam; William R. Bates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bates of Maple St., a laceration of the forehead while playing baseball.

Rodney Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Miller of 1232 Pennsylvania Ave., a fracture of the right elbow in a fall; James Cupp, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cupp of 815 Orchard Grove Ave., a laceration of the forehead in a fall against wire.

Timothy Horner of East Liverpool RD 3, a laceration of the forehead when he was kicked by a horse; Catherine Everhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Everhart of 529 Bridge St., a contusion of the right arm when it was caught in a sofa.

Garry Allison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allison of Wellsville RD 1, a laceration of the right knee in a bicycle accident; William Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Reed of Georgetown RD 1, a puncture wound of the right foot on a nail.

Ky Campaigns With Civilian Viet Candidates First Time

HUE, Vietnam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky campaigned today with the civilian candidates in South Vietnam's presidential election for the first time.

The premier, a candidate for vice president on the military ticket with Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu, encountered only mild heckling although Hue was the center of a Buddhist rebellion which Ky put down with troops 18 months ago.

"It just happened," said Ky when asked by newsmen why he made his first appearance in Hue.

About 6,000 people were in the central square of a girl's school to hear the candidates. The premier listened as presidential candidate Truong Dinh Dzu said: "The government has made many mistakes and the people now have a chance to dismiss it."

When Ky's turn came, he talked quietly and slowly in contrast to the others and apologized for Thieu's absence.

"I think in two years, you have had an opportunity to see us at work. You have seen success," Ky said.

"We have never thought of ourselves as saviors, as being resolvers of the danger and problems in the country. There is a great deal left in helping the underprivileged and consolidating our ranks against Communism. We wish to continue.

"About fraud, I can tell you that during the past two years you've seen that dishonesty is not our way."

Parents In Hancock Get 'Shot' Reminder

The Hancock County school health service reminds parents of immunizations required by West Virginia law for children entering school for the first time.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Monday, Aug. 28, the 240th day of 1967. There are 125 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1833, Britain's Parliament banned slavery and called for the freeing of 700,000 slaves within the British Empire in one year.

On this date:

In 1749, the German poet, Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, was born.

In 1828, the Russian novelist, Count Leo Tolstoy, was born.

In 1922, the first radio commercial was broadcast over station WEAF in New York.

In 1939, the frontier between France and Germany was closed.

In 1963, 20,000 Negroes and whites staged a peaceful civil rights march in Washington.

Ten years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower said it would be tragic if the Soviet Union rejected Western proposals for step-by-step disarmament.

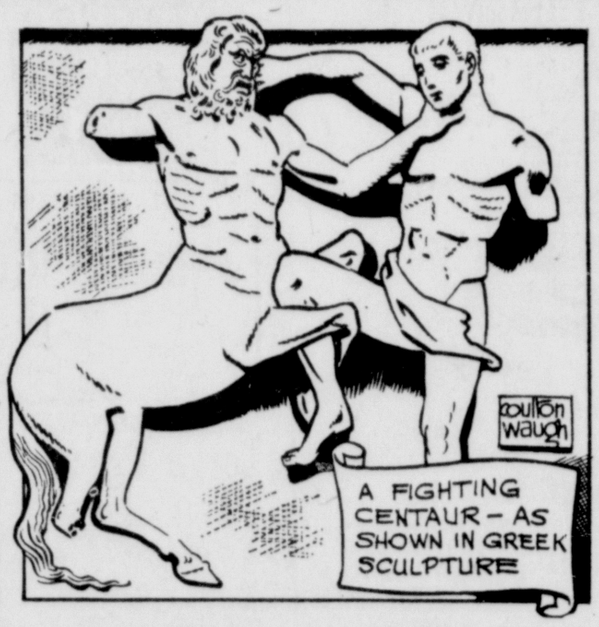
Junior Editors Quiz on CENTAURS



QUESTION: Were there such things as centaurs?

ANSWER: The centaur is one of a group of unreal, mythical animals invented by the imaginations of the peoples of ancient days. Some other such imaginative animals were the unicorn and the phoenix. Ancient people seemed to exercise fancy combining the shapes of men and creatures. The centaur had a man's head and torso and a horse's body. Such strange creatures fitted into the strange tales the old poets loved to write and relate. Most centaurs were described as wild, savage creatures. But there was one, named Chiron, who was civilized and able to act as an instructor to Greek heroes. Our picture shows one of the centaurs carved in marble on the outer part of that famous building, the Parthenon, in Athens. It illustrates the story of a great battle between the centaurs and the Lapithes, in which the Lapithes had driven the centaurs away. So, although the particular Lapith in our picture seems to be getting the worst of it, he will turn out, in the end, to be among the victors.

Pennsylvania House Set To Tackle Tax Program

By PAUL ZDINAK

HARRISBURG (AP) — The legislature returned today with chief attention focused on a proposed $290 million tax program in the Republican - controlled House.

Gov. Shafer, who says that is the amount needed to balance his $1.79 billion budget, met with Republican legislative leaders Sunday night to discuss the proposed business and consumer taxes.

The agenda today called for the House Ways and Means Committee to consider releasing five new tax bills introduced last week. The other tax measures have been on the House calendar for several weeks.

"We will caucus Tuesday to decide whether an attempt should be made to run the package Wednesday," House Majority Leader Lee A. Donaldson Jr. said in a weekend statement.

Reportedly, there are at least five GOP House members who oppose the tax package in one form or another. Minority Democrats generally oppose the imposition of new consumer taxes.

This presents a problem to the administration since Republicans have just 103 votes, one more than needed to pass a bill in the House. One remedy would be to secure an equal number of Democratic votes.

Of the five new tax bills, the ones drawing the most fire are those that would impose a 1 per cent tax on life insurance benefits and extend the 5 per cent sales tax to advertising.

Shafer scored a major victory last week when the legislature passed the $1.46 billion general appropriations bill. This money would cover most of state spending for the fiscal year.

The $290 million in new revenue would be earmarked for colleges, hospitals, college scholarships and for various administration programs including mass transportation and industrial development.

In the Senate, action is expected this week on the House-passed civil rights package and a bill to implement the $500 million conservation bond issue.

Minority Leader Ernest P. Kline said he would like to see some strengthening amendments made to the civil rights proposal.

"We have not discussed the matter yet in caucus," the Beaver County Democrat said. "I certainly would want to amend some. We don't want them any weaker than when thy passed the House."

The six-bill package cleared the House Aug. 9 and was released from Senate committee last Tuesday.

The Senate State Government Committee amended the fair employment law bill so it would cover employers with a minimum of four workers.

ployers with six or more em-

The present law applies to employes. As the bill passed the House, it would have covered an employer with just one worker.

"I would like to see the four returned to one for example," Kline said.

The other bills deal with open Housing, the Human Relations Commission and real estate brokers.

As for the conservation bond bill, amendments are to be offered this week that would require legislative approval for any conservation project proposed by the various state departments.

Cancer Fatal At 60

Ralph Humphrey, 60, brother of Vice President Hubert Humphrey, died at a hospital Sunday night of cancer. He had operated the family drug store in Huron, S.D., for many years prior to his illness.

20 From District Treated In Weekend Emergencies

A city woman injured in a fall downstairs, a Hookstown woman hurt while jumping, a New Cumberland area resident injured in a fall and a city area girl hurt in a fall from a swing were admitted over the weekend to City Hospital, where 17 other area residents were treated.

Mrs. Thomas Scott of Park Pl., LaCroft, burns on the right fingers from steam; William R. Bates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bates of Maple St., a laceration of the forehead while playing baseball.

Rodney Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Miller of 1232 Pennsylvania Ave., a fracture of the right elbow in a fall; James Cupp, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cupp of 815 Orchard Grove Ave., a laceration of the forehead in a fall against wire.

Timothy Horner of East Liverpool RD 3, a laceration of the forehead when he was kicked by a horse; Catherine Everhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Everhart of 529 Bridge St., a contusion of the right arm when it was caught in a sofa.

Garry Allison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allison of Wellsville RD 1, a laceration of the right knee in a bicycle accident; William Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Reed of Georgetown RD 1, a puncture wound of the right foot on a nail.

Parents In Hancock Get 'Shot' Reminder

The Hancock County school health service reminds parents of immunizations required by West Virginia law for children entering school for the first time.

All must have been successfully immunized against smallpox, diphtheria, polio, measles, tetanus and whooping cough.

Ky Campaigns With Civilian Viet Candidates First Time

HUE, Vietnam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky campaigned today with the civilian candidates in South Vietnam's presidential election for the first time.

The premier, a candidate for vice president on the military ticket with Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu, encountered only mild heckling although Hue was the center of a Buddhist rebellion which Ky put down with troops 18 months ago.

"It just happened," said Ky when asked by newsmen why he made his first appearance in Hue.

About 6,000 people were in the central square of a girl's school to hear the candidates. The premier listened as presidential candidate Truong Dinh Dzu said: "The government has made many mistakes and the people now have a chance to dismiss it."

When Ky's turn came, he talked quietly and slowly in contrast to the others and apologized for Thieu's absence.

"I think in two years, you have had an opportunity to see us at work. You have seen success," Ky said.

"We have never thought of ourselves as saviors, as being resolvers of the danger and problems in the country. There is a great deal left in helping the underprivileged and consolidating our ranks against Communism. We wish to continue.

"About fraud, I can tell you that during the past two years you've seen that dishonesty is not our way."
